Artstat ,2000 Artstats Graeme Evans,Phyllida Shaw,Judy White,University of North London. Centre for Leisure and Tourism Studies,1998* Cultural Planning Graeme Evans,2002-09-26 Cultural Planning is the first book on the planning of the arts and culture and the interaction between the state arts policy the cultural economy and town and city planning

Artstat ,2000 Acting on Cultural Policy Jane Woddis,2023-01-01 This book investigates the role of arts practitioners in cultural policy making challenging the perception that arts practitioners have little or no involvement in policy and seeking to discover the extent and form of their engagement Examining the subject through a case study of playwriting policy in England since 1945 and paying particular attention to playwrights organisations and their history of self directed activity the book explores practitioners participation in cultural policy making encompassing both invited and uninvited interventions that also weave together policy activity and creative practice It discusses why their involvement matters and argues that arts practitioners and their organisations can be understood as participants in civil society whose policy activity contributes to the maintenance and enlargement of democratic practices and values The UK Cultural Sector Geoffrey Brown,2001 Based on primary analysis and including contributions from 25 of the country s leading experts this volume offers a detailed analysis of arts policy in the UK British Theatre Companies: 1995-2014 Liz Tomlin,2015-02-26 This series of three volumes provides a groundbreaking study of the work of many of the most innovative and important British theatre companies from 1965 to 2014 Each volume provides a survey of the political and cultural context an extensive survey of the variety of theatre companies from the period and detailed case studies of six of the most important companies Volume Three 1995 2014 charts the expansion of the sector in the era of Lottery funding and traces the resistant influences of earlier movements in the emergence of new companies and an independent theatre ecology that seeks to reconfigure the mainstream Leading academics provide case studies of six of the most important companies including Mind the Gap by Dave Calvert University of Huddersfield UK Blast Theory by Maria Chatzichristodoulou University of Hull UK Suspect Culture by Clare Wallace Charles University Prague Czech Republic Punchdrunk by Josephine Machon Middlesex University UK Kneehigh by Du ka Radosavljevic University of Kent UK Stans Cafe by Marissia Fragkou Canterbury Christ Church University UK British National Bibliography for Report Literature ,2000 Communication Breakdowns Ruth Shade,2004 Using an examination of theatrical and musical performance in a small Valleys town as a focus this work puts forward an argued discussion of contemporary Welsh theatre in its cultural context The text uses the south Wales valleys as a means of locating and exploring certain key issues those connected to coercive ideas about what ideal theatre is the relationship between politics and performance the conundrum of community theatre the role of theatre practice in marginalized regions and the significance of class to theatre and the problem of a system of arts subsidy which foists inappropriate external theatre product on indigenous audiences Contemporary Art and the Home Colin

Painter, 2020-05-26 The home is for many people the location for their most intense relationships with visual things Because they are constructed through the objects we choose domestic spaces are deeply revealing of a range of cultural issues How is our interpretation of an object affected by the domestic environment in which it is placed Why choose a stainless steel teapot over a leopard print one How do the images hanging on the walls of our homes arrive there In placing contemporary art in the context of the ordinary home this book embarks on the contentious topic of whether high art impacts on ordinary people What is the size and nature of the audience for contemporary art in Britain Do people really visit more art galleries than attend football matches What is the significance of the home in relation to such questions Indeed what constitutes art in the home This book carefully unpicks these questions as well as the troubled relationship between the home as a place of comfort and reassurance and the often unsettling and challenging images offered by contemporary art Within the art world the home has been addressed as a subject and even used as a temporary gallery and a space for installations and yet it is not common for works by today's avant garde artists to be conceived and marketed to participate in the domestic lives that most people live Handsomely illustrated this book unites contemporary art craft and design with sociology anthropology and cultural studies to provide an unusual and forthright addition to ongoing art and culture debates The British National

Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2000 The Economics of Heritage Ilde Rizzo, Ruth Towse, 2002 Based on the assumption that without understanding institutions economists cannot make satisfactory policy prescriptions this title draws conclusions on the strengths and limitations of applied economics in the field of heritage Sicily provides an interesting backdrop against which the study is set demonstrating the economic complexities of heritage and the range of economic tools and concepts which can be employed to analyse it The book is a compilation of various approaches that economists trained in different branches of economics have brought to bear on heritage It considers the political economy of heritage policy from a variety of perspectives It also discusses the public choice of fiscal federalism and looks at the problems of assessing the efficiency of policy measures Finally it provides an overview of the national experiences in France Scotland and Italy in terms of heritage policy 1986-87 Annual Abstract of Greater London Statistics London Research Centre,
