As In A Mirror:

The Greatest Mirror Andrei A. Orlov, 2017-09-19 The idea of a heavenly double an angelic twin of an earthbound human can be found in Christian Manichaean Islamic and Kabbalistic traditions Scholars have long traced the lineage of these ideas to Greco Roman and Iranian sources In The Greatest Mirror Andrei A Orlov shows that heavenly twin imagery drew in large part from early Jewish writings The Jewish pseudepigrapha books from the Second Temple period that were attributed to biblical figures but excluded from the Hebrew Bible contain accounts of heavenly twins in the form of spirits images faces children mirrors and angels of the Presence Orlov provides a comprehensive analysis of these traditions in their full historical and interpretive complexity He focuses on heavenly alter egos of Enoch Moses Jacob Joseph and Aseneth in often neglected books including Animal Apocalypse Book of the Watchers 2 Enoch Ladder of Jacob and Joseph and Aseneth some of which are preserved solely in the Slavonic language

Greek was used in ancient aesthetics and literary theory The Greeks and Romans tended to think of the production of works of art in terms of imitation either of the world around us or of a transcendent ideal world rather than in terms of originality and creativity Study of the way phantasia is used in ancient writing about literature and art reveals important features of the ancient approach to the arts and in doing so will also shed light on modern concepts of imagination and the literary and artistic differences between realism and allegory Covering a range of literary and philosophical material from the beginnings of Greek literature down to the Neoplatonist philosophers of late antiquity The Poetics of Phantasia discusses three discrete senses of imagination in ancient thought Firstly phantasia as visualization is explored when a writer brings before his eyes what he is describing and enables his audience or reader to visualise it likewise The second theory of phantasia is that which is capable not only of conveying images from sense perception but also of receiving images from intellectual and supra intellectual faculties in the soul and thus helping people grasp mathematical metaphysical or even mystical concepts Finally phantasia is seen as a creative power which can conjure up an image that points beyond itself and to express ideas outside our everyday experience

Clothed in the Body Hannah Hunt, 2016-05-23 Hunt examines the apparent paradox that Jesus earthly existence and post resurrection appearances are experienced through consummately physical actions and attributes yet some ascetics within the Christian tradition appear to seek to deny the value of the human body to find it deadening of spiritual life Hunt considers why the Christian tradition as a whole has rarely managed more than an uneasy truce between the physical and the spiritual aspects of the human person Why is it that the Church has energetically argued through centuries of ecumenical councils for the dual nature of Christ but seems still unwilling to accept the full integration of physical and spiritual within humanity despite Gregory of Nazianzus's comment that what has not been assumed has not been redeemed
