The Gender Politics of Contemporary Performance in Northern Ireland Alexander Coupe, 2024-12-07 This book examines theatre and performance produced since the 1998 Belfast Good Friday Agreement in the context of growing discontent with the failure of the peace in Northern Ireland to deliver genuinely transformative forms of social justice The economic expansion that attended the peace accord propelled the growth of the region's theatre and performance sector and assisted in increasing the representation of women and LGBTQ people across the arts Despite this much of the performance work produced since 1998 has illuminated the darker social consequences of Northern Ireland's embrace of a specifically neoliberal vision of a post conflict society Existing scholarship has already highlighted the role of theatre and performance in drawing attention to the misogyny and homophobia that has underwritten political antagonism in the North since partition Instead this book offers a sustained examination of contemporary performance makers that have engaged specifically with the reconstruction of gender norms amidst the region's political and economic transformation The story it tells is of an emerging current in theatre performance art and dance consisting of work concerned not only with uncovering the morbid symptoms of the neoliberal peace but also embodying those messy and everyday conditions of co dependency vulnerability and solidarity that both patriarchal nationalisms and androcentric individualism seek to deny The Birth of a Poet with Poems Straight from His Heart Dale Roberts I. Sullivan, Jr,2012-08-09 Garrett Sullivan explores the changing impact of Aristotelian conceptions of vitality and humanness on sixteenth and seventeenth century literature before and after the rise of Descartes Aristotle's tripartite soul is usually considered in relation to concepts of psychology and physiology However Sullivan argues that its significance is much greater constituting a theory of vitality that simultaneously distinguishes man from and connects him to other forms of life He contends that in works such as Sidney's Old Arcadia Shakespeare's Henry IV and Henry V Spenser's Faerie Queene Milton's Paradise Lost and Dryden's All for Love the genres of epic and romance whose operations are informed by Aristotle's theory provide the raw materials for exploring different models of humanness and that sleep is the vehicle for such exploration as it blurs distinctions among man plant and animal The African Sketch-book William Winwood Reade,1873 The Story of Africa and Its Explorers Robert Brown,1892 The Hitherto Secret Experiments of Marie Curie Bryan Thomas Schmidt, Henry Herz, various authors,2023-04-11 Luckily for humanity scientist Marie Curie applied her brilliant mind and indomitable spirit to expanding the frontiers of science but what if she had instead drifted toward the darkness At the cusp of between child and adulthood at the crossroads between science and superstition a teen Marie Curie faces the factual and the fantastic in this fabulous collection of stories that inspire delight and ask the question What if she had used her talents for diabolical purposes The Hitherto Secret Experiments of Marie Curie includes twenty short stories and poems by award winning writers including New York Times bestselling authors Seanan McGuire Scott Sigler Jane Yolen Alethea Kontis Stacia Deutsch and Jonathan Maberry among others It Could Have Been My Imagination Daniel Lee Prescott,2023-04-28 The title It Could Have Been My Imagination and book cover art is a teaser about if the visions I have written about are in fact real or really just figments of my imagination including life and the earth and universe itself Hopefully the reader will be drawn into my world of visions and stories will be entertained and give in to contemplation about the various themes and hopefully thought provoking journeys into the depths of imagination Cinema and Northern Ireland John Hill,2019-07-25 Traces the history of film production in Northern Ireland from the beginnings of a

Screening Ulster Richard Gallagher, 2023-03-03 This book presents extensive research into the cinematic representation of the British identifying Protestant unionist and loyalist community in Northern Ireland and is the first time such comprehensive analysis has been produced Gallagher's research traces the history of the community's representation in cinema from the emergence of depictions of both nationalist and unionist communities in social realist dramas in 1980s British and Irish cinema to today through periods such as those focused on violent paramilitaries in the 1990s and irreverent comedy after the Northern Ireland peace process The book addresses the perception that the Irish nationalist community has been depicted more frequently and favourably than unionism in films about the period of conflict known as The Troubles Often argued to be the result of an Irish nationalist bias within Hollywood Gallagher argues that there are other inherent and systemic reasons for this cinematic deficit
