Regional Security in Southeast Asia Mely Caballero Anthony, 2005 The book examines ASEAN's mechanisms in managing challenges and threats to regional security Its extensive analyses of the ASEAN story of managing regional security cover the different phases of ASEAN's development as a regional organization and explore the perceptible changes that have occurred in regional mechanisms of conflict management The book also examines the roles of relevant actors beyond the states of ASEAN and the key interactions that have evolved over time which have been instrumental in moving regional mechanisms beyond the ASEAN way The book argues that the ASEAN way has not been impervious to change As the association finds its way through periods of crises and continues to confront the many challenges ahead ASEAN and its mechanisms are already being transformed beyond the narrow confines of the modalities associated with the ASEAN way The changes in the political and security landscape of the region as well as the democratic transitions taking place in some member states have set the stage for a much more dynamic set of regional actors and processes that bring into question the kind of regionalism that is now taking place in the region the way regionalism is changing in Southeast Asia

The

Balance of Power in Asia-Pacific Security Liselotte Odgaard, 2007-01-24 Investigating the dynamics of balancing patterns in the Asia Pacific this book makes a convincing contribution to the debate on the US China relationship Domestic Political Change and Grand Strategy National Bureau of Asian Research (U.S.), 2007 Based upon work supported by the Department of Energy National Nuclear Security Administration under Award Number DE FG52 03SF22724 The Military Academy of Malaysia Compared with West Point Jowati Juhary, 2013-10 This dissertation compares the learning environment of elite military academies in the U S and Malaysia namely the United States Military Academy New York West Point and the Military Academy of Malaysia Kuala Lumpur MAM The dissertation began as an investigation of the place of e learning and simulation technologies in educating future military officers It was assumed that as modern technologies for war and defence have changed so too must the military academies accommodate to that especially in producing the right kind of officers who will lead the defence of the nation Research in West Point and the MAM however revealed much more significant and deeper differences between the two learning environments These are also analysed in this dissertation on the basis of in depth interviews with staff at both academies and responses to some 241 questionnaires returned by the cadets One of the most important findings in this study is that the learning environment at West Point is informed by the Thayer System which in turn is based on principles strongly reminiscent of the constructivist school of pedagogical inquiry The impact of the Thayer System on the learning environment is analysed as are the essential features of constructivism In Malaysia by contrast the learning environment in the academy is driven by teacher oriented practices that are not sensitive to the needs of students Moreover the broader authoritarian tendencies in Malaysia have encouraged the entrenchment of didactic modes of teacher student exchanges in the classroom These were found not to be conducive to creative student centred learning processes capable of producing the kind of officers who can lead the Malaysian military at a time of growing regional insecurity in the Asia Pacific Asia's New Regionalism Ellen L. Frost, 2008 Philippine Security in the Age of Terror Rommel Banlaoi, 2009-10-13 As the twelfth most populous nation the Philippines diverse religious and ethnic population makes it an ideal example of the changing tenet of what is deemed national security post 9 11 Issues previously considered social or public are now viewed as security issues Food production is now analyzed in the context of food security and environmenta Routledge Handbook of Asian Regionalism Mark Beeson, Richard Stubbs, 2012-03-15 The Routledge Handbook of Asian Regionalism is a definitive introduction to and analysis of the development of regionalism in Asia including coverage of East Asia Southeast Asia and South Asia The contributors engage in a comprehensive exploration of what is arguably the most dynamic and important region in the world Significantly this volume addresses the multiple manifestations of regionalism in Asia and is consequently organised thematically under the headings of conceptualizing the region economic issues political issues strategic issues regional organizations As such the Handbook presents some of the key elements of the competing interpretations of this important and highly contested topic giving the reader a chance to evaluate not just where Asian regionalism is going but also how the scholarship on Asian regionalism is analysing these trends and events This book will be an indispensable resource for students and scholars of Asian politics international relations and regionalism Shaping China's Security Environment Andrew Scobell, Larry M. Wortzel, 2006 The contributions contained herein address the role of the Chinese military in shaping its country's security environment Of course the PLA itself is shaped and molded by both domestic and foreign influences In the first decade of the 21st century the PLA is not a central actor in China's foreign policy the way it was just a few decades ago Nevertheless the significance of the PLA must be understood The military remains a player that seeks to play a role and influence China's policy towards such countries and regions as the United States Japan the Koreas Southeast Asia South Asia and of course Taiwan It is important not to overlook that in times of crisis or conflict the role and influence of the PLA rise significantly Political and Security Dynamics of South and Southeast Asia Daljit Singh, 2003-08-01 Security and economic imperatives are increasingly intertwining the destinies of Southeast Asia and South Asia making it necessary for scholars on both sides to deepen their understanding of each other's regions This collection of papers first presented at a Dialogue between the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies in Singapore and the Observer Research Foundation of India in March 2006 provides perspectives from India and Singapore on some of the major security and political issues facing the two regions The subjects covered include regional integration trends as symbolized by the first East Asian Summit the roles of the major powers maritime security and naval deployments in the Indian Ocean region and political and security developments within Southeast Asia

Regionalism, Globalisation and International Order Jens-Uwe Wunderlich, 2016-03-23 New regionalism and globalization have been prominent themes in academic and political debates since the beginning of the 1990s Despite the considerable amount of scholarly attention that the new regionalism has received in recent years its full empirical and theoretical potential has yet to be fully investigated This illuminating study provides an overview of new avenues in theorizing regionalism and proposes a consolidated framework for analysis and comparison Offering a comparative historical perspective of European and Southeast Asian regionalism it presents new and imaginative insights into the theory and practice of regionalism and the links between regional developments globalization and international order A Handbook of Terrorism and Insurgency in Southeast Asia Andrew T. H. Tan, 2009-01-01 This is an important and worthwhile book that should be read by anyone seeking to understand the history and evolution of political violence in Southeast Asia including the origins of contemporary militant Islamist terrorism Paul J Smith Contemporary Southeast Asia This very fine collection shows how and why Southeast Asia has been afflicted with terrorism from the end of World War II to the present time No other volume tells us as much about the period and area Anyone interested in the general theory and practice of terrorism and insurgency will find it indispensable David C Rapoport University of California Los Angeles US and Editor of Journal of Terrorism and Political Violence This stimulating collection of essays underlines how Southeast Asia has again as at the height of the Cold War been pushed towards the top of the list of world conflict zones by the collision between long standing regional problems and more recent external frictions Anyone needing to learn more about the relationship between the war on terror and Southeast Asia particularly regarding terrorism in Thailand Indonesia and the Philippines will need to consult this work Brian P Farrell National University of Singapore and author of The Defence and Fall of Singapore 1940 1942 This book is an excellent addition to the literature on political violence in Southeast Asia providing a wealth of detail on terrorism guerilla insurgency and the use of terror and repression by governments The book is especially valuable for the broad coverage of many different groups not just Islamic ones inclusion of the activities of governments and a variety of opinions and views on terrorism and political violence This book should be one of the essential resources for academics policymakers or anyone else interested in terrorism insurgency and political violence in the region It is an extremely valuable tool for one and all James M Lutz Indiana University Purdue University US and co author of Global Terrorism with Brenda Lutz This is an excellent volume which is very well conceived and balanced in its treatment of the problem of terrorism and insurgency in Southeast Asia This volume will greatly advance our empirical understanding of conflict and violence in this pivotal region The book contains many insightful contributions and overall the Handbook will serve as a standard reference on the subject matter for years to come M L R Smith King s College University of London UK This timely and significant book seeks to explain the deep seated complexities of terrorism and insurgency in Southeast Asia In the aftermath of 9 11 this region has been designated by the United States to be the second front in the war on terrorism Yet despite the emergence of this new global terrorism the authors argue that armed rebellion in Southeast Asia is a phenomenon that predates Al Qaeda and the global Jihadist movement and that much can be learned from the motivations behind it Written by a group of leading Western and emerging Southeast Asian scholars this extensive volume demonstrates the difficulty and diversity of rebellion in Southeast Asia and explores its intricate historical political social and economic roots The book will serve as an excellent reference and educational text providing an empirical and regional guide to the complex problem of insurgency in Southeast Asia It will also contribute to a more educated understanding that could provide the basis for appropriate counter terrorism strategies in this important part of the world Comprehensive and engaging this volume will find widespread appeal amongst researchers students and policymakers interested in terrorism international relations and Asian studies and will also be an invaluable tool for studies into political violence and security

Foreign Policy and Energy Security Issues in Indonesia

examines energy security as one of nontraditional issues that are strategic for Indonesia's foreign policy. It argues that energy has not been considered as a strategic commodity in the foreign policy to support the effectiveness of Indonesia's diplomacy at the regional and international levels. International and outward looking perspectives have not been much visible both in the policy and political realities. Since foreign policy is a reflection of domestic politics under the influence of international developments, this study focuses its analysis on the domestic and international aspects of the energy security issues.

Energy Security in Asia Michael Wesley, 2007-01-24. This book explores the various dimensions of energy security in Asia which has become an increasingly important geopolitical issue. Reputable international contributors look at the roles played by each of the major energy importers: the United States, China, Japan, and India, as well as the main suppliers: the OPEC states, Russia, the Central Asian states, and Australia. In each case, the domestic politics of energy security are investigated, and state interests and perspectives on the issue are considered. Analyzing the policy and security aspects of energy security, the book includes an examination of the geopolitics of energy, competition, strategic, economic, and environmental dimensions, the impacts of energy security on human security. With energy security being one of the central issues facing the world today, this book is a timely and impressive appraisal of the major energy security issues facing Asia.
