Cézanne's Other Susan Sidlauskas, 2009 In the voluminous scholarship that has been written on Paul Cezanne little has been said about the twenty four portraits in oil that Cezanne made of his wife Hortense Fiquet Cezanne over an extended twenty year period In Cezanne's Other: The Portraits of Hortense Susan Sidlauskas breaks new ground focusing on these paintings as a group and looking particularly at the differences that render many of them unrecognizable as the same person She argues that Cezanne sidestepped the conventional goals of portraiture he avoids representing a consistent identifiable physiognomy or conventional feminine postures and does not portray the subject's inner life making lack of fixedness itself his subject which leads him ultimately to a radical reformulation of modern portraiture Sidlauskas also upends the notion of Mme Cezanne as the irrelevant and absent spouse Instead she reveals Hortense Fiquet Cezanne as a presence so crucial to the artist that she became the essential other to his ever evolving self Coupling historical texts from philosophy psychology and physiology with more recent writings from women's and gender studies cognitive psychology and visual culture Sidlauskas demonstrates that Mme Cezanne offered intimacy at arm's length for the painter who has been dubbed the lone wolf of Aix Book Jacket "The" Works of George Berkeley George Berkeley, 1871 Life and Letters of George

Berkeley Alexander Campbell Fraser, George Berkeley, 1871 Art in a Season of Revolution Margaretta M. Lovell, 2007-02-13 Lovell delights astonishes and challenges us with her insightful new readings of early American paintings and material culture objects Journal of the Early Republic Connective Tissue Lily N. Shapiro, 2025 An ethnography of factory accidents and their attendant reconstructive plastic surgeries in Coimbatore Tamil Nadu Connective Tissue explores notions of risk work and labor practices and the way meaning is made from experiences of trauma care and recovery The book charts a rough chronology of the accident from the workspace that preceded it the transformation of the workspace by the accident through journeys to and treatment in the hospital and then the various and complex ways in which the accident reverberates into the future during recovery Connective Tissue revisits scholarship on factory labor by analyzing the accident as constitutive of the experience of work itself and it refines existing conversations about the body trauma and care by introducing an analysis informed by theories of labor and production Author Lily N Shapiro argues that care does not happen in spite of or on the margins of capitalism but rather that capitalism happens in and through care and caring relations These experiences are intersected by identities of caste class and gender and entangled in state discourse about labor rights welfare and industrial law Life and Letters of George Berkeley ... George Berkeley, 1871
