Berthold Lowenfeld on Blindness and Blind People Berthold Lowenfeld,1981 The Metanarrative of Blindness David Bolt,2014 Sheds new light on literary representations of blindness from a disability studies perspective

Foundations of Rehabilitation Counseling with Persons who are Blind Or Visually Impaired J. Elton Moore, William Hughes Graves, Jeanne Boland Patterson, 1997 Rehabilitation professionals have long recognized that the needs of people who are blind or visually impaired are unique and require a special knowledge and expertise for the provision and coordination of effective rehabilitation services Contributions to this text from more than 25 experts provide essential information on subjects such as functional medical vocational and psychological assessments demographic and cultural issues placement and employment issues and the rehabilitation team Each chapter includes a Learning Activities section that can be used in class assignments or during in service training Sample forms such as a Job Analysis Worksheet a Comprehensive Vocational Evaluation System Protocol an Individualized Written Rehabilitation Program and a Work Environment Visual Demands Report are included in the appendices An extensive glossary provides easy access to clear definitions of terms Journal of Visual Impairment & Blindness ,2005 Self-esteem and Adjusting with Blindness Dean W. Tuttle, Naomi R. Tuttle, 2004 This new and expanded Third Edition analyzes blindness within the context of two overlapping theoretical constructs the development of self esteem and the process of adjusting to social and or physical trauma The book is divided into four sections The first section provides an overview of blindness and the essential background for subsequent discussions Section II explores the general theoretical model for the development of self esteem common to all persons and analyzes the impact that blindness imposes upon this model Section III explores the process of coping with social and physical traumas or crises Section IV is addressed primarily to members of the blind person s support team and provides suggestions for creating a climate for optimum development Factors that may influence the adjustment process descriptions of external and internal sources of self esteem activities for stimulating affective growth and guidelines for professionals who work with the blind are included Personal impacts and psychosocial implications of blindness are discussed in depth and illustrated with biographical and autobiographical statements by more than 50 blind men and women This book will serve as an excellent review and refresher for experienced practitioners and administrators working in the field of blindness Professionals in education social work vocational counseling rehabilitation recreation therapy ophthalmology and optometry will find this comprehensive resource to be an invaluable addition to their libraries The Psychology of Blindness and Visual Culture Simon Hayhoe, 2025-06-27 The Psychology of Blindness and Visual Culture Towards a New Ecological Model of Visual Impairment advances the debate regarding the inclusion and wellbeing of people with visual impairment PVI through looking at the psychological nature of visual culture and its effects on the lived experience It explores whether it is possible to increase access to visual culture for PVI through language alternative sensory data or contemporary communication media and in so doing questions whether or not communication and culture are intrinsically visual Occupying a unique field of study by focusing on the understanding of visual culture and visual communication by PVI in real world settings this empirical book examines the difference between the understanding of visual culture and visual communication by PVI who acquire their visual impairments late in life and PVI who acquire their visual impairments early in life Understanding these concepts not only helps us to understand how PVI feel socially included in visual culture but also how culture and artifacts are conceptualized verbally culturally and through the senses It is compelling reading for advanced students of psychology and philosophy and those studying learning in cultural settings and in museum studies computer science disability studies education and fine art management Mobility of Visually Impaired People Edwige Pissaloux, Ramiro Velazquez, 2017-08-20 This book discusses the design of the new mobility assistive information and communication technologies ICT devices for the visually impaired The book begins with a definition of the space concept followed by the concept of interaction with a space during mobility and this interaction characteristics. The contributors will then examine the neuro cognitive basis of space perception for mobility and different theories of space perception The text presents the existing technologies for space perception sense recovery with stem and iPS cells implants brain plasticity sensory substitution devices multi modal technologies etc the newest technologies for mobility assistance design the way the feedback on environment is conveyed to the end user Methods for formative and summative evaluations of the mobility devices will also be discussed The book concludes with a look to the future trends in research and technology development for mobility assistive information and communication technologies Discourses on Disability Anju Sosan George, 2023-03-31 Discourses on Disability bridges academic and personal voices from India to address the diverse and fluid conversations on disability It seeks to critically engage with the concept of being dis abled attempting to deconstruct ableism while advocating for inclusive politics Narratives from people with bipolar disorder autism and locomotor disabilities serve to examine how it feels to exist in a world conditioned by deep seated cultural taboos about disability The chapters in this book show how India still has a systemic silence about people with disabilities Blind People's Pragmatic Abilities Jolanta Sak-Wernicka, 2017-05-11 This book offers an analysis of blind people s pragmatic abilities By exploring the impact of visual impairment on the interpretation of utterances it identifies common ground between the pragmatic analysis of comprehension and visual impairment and shows how the study of pragmatics can be enriched by the study of visual impairment It also investigates the role of accessible contextual cues and the effect of visual impairment on comprehension Although it is generally accepted that context plays a crucial role in comprehension it is still unknown what effect a lack or insufficiency of certain contextual information has on interpretation and mutual communication between people This raises the question of whether people who are blind are equally competent and successful in interpreting spoken language as sighted people Also bearing in mind the specific difficulties and delays faced by blind children in social and linguistic development indicated in previous studies it is worth exploring whether these initial difficulties are eventually overcome by blind adults This book in offering a satisfactory answer to this relevant question is one of the very few publications devoted to the analysis of the pragmalinguistic consequences of blindness Foundations of Braille Literacy Evelyn J. Rex, 1994 This ground breaking text addresses the teaching of braille reading and writing in the context of general literacy Employing theoretical frameworks and approaches to teaching print reading and writing and practical applications for instruction in braille literacy this innovative book can be used both in university training programs and by practicing educators working with braille learners Foundations of Braille Literacy also includes perspectives on literacy the history of literacy for people who are blind the learning processes of people who are blind and assessment of braille literacy Philosophy as Disability & Exclusion Simon Hayhoe, 2015-12-01 Philosophy as Disability and Exclusion examines the history of ideas on arts in the education of people who are blind in England from 1688 to 2010 This book also examines a number of the earlier influences on the enlightenment and the international context of this topic The two hypotheses on which this study is based are 1 Our understanding of blindness in English intellectual culture is less to do with homologous physical characteristics Instead it is more to do with an ethical philosophy of human capacity 2 The arts education of people who are blind through touch tells us much about our psychology of mythologies and the intellectual construction of human thought Furthermore the myth that people who are blind are incapable of visual arts and have an enhanced capacity for the musical arts is one of the most engrained modern folklores It is part of our cultural intellectual and philosophical conscience In the process of investigating these hypotheses this book argues that philosophies have linked immorality intelligence and physical ability These have become connected in ways that are unrelated to eyesight in order to fulfill broader cultural processes of developing social theory In this book the process of knowledge creation is termed passive exclusion and is analyzed through an epistemological model of examining disability and exclusion Educational Achievement and Psychosocial Transition in Visually Impaired Adolescents Ranjita Dawn, 2017-12-13 This book provides a fresh approach to studies on adolescents with visual impairment It threads through the three elements of disability visual impairment psychosocial development of adolescents and their educational achievement It highlights how these concepts traverse across and cast an irrefutable impact on each other The author prepares the ground by highlighting the failure of existing theories of disability studies in addressing issues concerning adolescents She further critiques the psycho medical approach to disability which undermines or disregards its social construction The book provides an analysis of numerous issues affecting the psychosocial development of adolescents with visual impairment which is further validated through narratives in educational settings It also strongly advocates the need to create awareness about the basic ethics of human relationships and rights moral consciousness and social and civic responsibilities which can play a vital role in ensuring healthy psychosocial development of adolescents with visual impairment and in ensuring inclusion Handbook of Psychosocial Characteristics of Exceptional Children Vicki L.

Schwean, Donald H. Saklofske, 2013-06-29 Research has documented the reciprocal effects of exceptionality and secondary psychosocial and behavioral characteristics This in depth handbook examines the categories of exceptionality most often described in educational behavioral and health practices Leading authorities from psychology education and medicine evaluate the key characteristics of particular exceptionalities from the vantage point of theory research assessment and Play development in children with disabilties Serenella Besio, Daniela Bulgarelli, Vaska Stancheva-Popkostadinova, 2016-01-01 This book is the result of the first two year work of Working Group 1 of the network LUDI Play for children with disabilities LUDI is an Action 2014 2018 financed by COST it is a multidisciplinary network of more than 30 countries and almost 100 researchers and practitioners belonging to the humanistic and technological fields to study the topic of play for children with disabilities within the framework of the International Classification of Functioning Disability and Health WHO 2001 The principal objective of this book is to bring the LUDI contribution to the important topic of play in children with disabilities because today an international consensus on the definition of play and disabilities is still lacking The process of ensuring equity in the exercise of the right to play for children with disabilites requests three actions to approach this topic through a common language at least all over Europe to put play at the centre of the multidisciplinary research and intervention regarding the children with disabilities to grant this topic the status of a scientific and social theme of full visibility and recognized authority Children with disabilities face several limitations in play due to several reasons impairments playgrounds toys and other play tools that are not accessible and usable environments and contexts that are not accessible nor inclusive lack of educational awareness and intentionality lack of specific psycho pedagogical and rehabilitative competence lack of effective intervention methodologies Moreover disabled children's lives are dominated by medical and rehabilitative practices in which play is always an activity aiming to reach an objective or to provoke an improvement play for the sake of play is considered a waste of time. The concept of play for the sake of play strongly refers to the distinction between play activities and play like activities Play activities are initiated and carried out by the player alone with peers with adults etc for the only purpose of play itself fun and joy interest and challenge love of race and competition ilinx and dizziness etc They have of course consequences on growth and development but these consequences are not intentionally pursued Play like activities are initiated and conducted by an adult with one or more children in educational clinical social contexts they are playful and pleasant but their main objective is other than play e g cognitive learning social learning functional rehabilitation child s observation and assessment psychological support psychotherapy etc This book then contributes to a clear distinction between play and play like activities that hopefully will bring to new developments in play studies National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1965 Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1982 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Handbook of Parenting Marc H.
