Beso De La Mujer Arana:

El Beso de la Mujer Arana M. Puig, 1978 El beso de la mujer araña Manuel Puig, 2002 Un periodista aguerrido es encarcelado por motivos políticos. En la cárcel conoce a un preso que es homosexual y que cambiar su vida. Este es a grandes rasgos el argumento de la presente novela que a más de un cuarto de siglo de su primera edición es publicada ahora con el aparato crítico distintivo de la Colección Archivos.

El beso de la mujer araña Manuel Puig, 2011 Dos hombres muy diferentes que sufren la injusticia de un mismo orden represivo se encuentran encarcelados juntos. Esta es la historia de Valentín Arregui Paz, ideólogo y aspirante a revolucionario, quien se halla encerrado en la celda de una prisión argentina con Luis Molina, decorador de vidrieras homosexual y aspirante a femme fatale.

El Beso de La Mujer Arana: The Kiss of the Spider Woman / Kiss of the Spider Woman M. Puig, 1994-10-01 El beso de la mujer araña Manuel Puig, 1992 Una sucesión de escenas dialogadas entre dos interlocutores: un homosexual y un activista político recluidos en una misma celda de una prisión bonaerense.

The Necessary Dream Pamela Bacarisse, 1988-01-01 The Latin American novelist Manuel Puig is perhaps best known for his novel Kiss of the Spider Woman. The Necessary Dream provides an introduction to and interpretation of his seven novels written from 1968 to 1982. While each novel is given a separate chapter, the homogenous thread of attitudes and themes which touch on psychology, feminism, Argentine politics and popular culture is clearly displayed.

Postmodernity in Latin America Santiago Colás, 1994-11-07 Postmodernity in Latin America contests the prevailing understanding of the relationship between postmodernity and Latin America by focusing on recent developments in Latin American and particularly Argentine political and literary culture. While European and North American theorists of postmodernity generally view Latin American fiction without regard for its political and cultural context, Latin Americanists often either uncritically apply the concept of postmodernity to Latin American literature and society or reject it in an equally uncritical fashion. The result has been both a limited understanding of the literature and an impoverished notion of postmodernity. Santiago Colás challenges both of these approaches and corrects their consequent distortions by locating Argentine postmodernity in the cultural dynamics of resistance as it operates within and against local expressions of late capitalism. Focusing on literature, Colás uses Julio Cortázar's Hopscotch to characterize modernity for Latin America as a whole. Manuel Puig's Kiss of the Spider Woman to identify the transition to a more localized postmodernity and Ricardo Piglia

s Artificial Respiration to exemplify the cultural coordinates of postmodernity in Argentina Informed by the cycle of political transformation beginning with the Cuban Revolution including its effects on Peronism to the period of dictatorship and finally to redemocratization Col s s examination of this literary progression leads to the reconstruction of three significant moments in the history of Argentina His analysis provokes both a revised understanding of that history and the recognition that multiple meanings of postmodernity must be understood in ways that incorporate the complexity of regional differences Offering a new voice in the debate over postmodernity one that challenges that debate s leading thinkers Postmodernity in Latin America will be of particular interest to students of Latin American literature and to scholars in all disciplines concerned with theories of the postmodern

Murder and Masculinity Rebecca E. Biron, 2000 Rebecca Biron breaks new ground in this study of masculinity violence and the strategic construction of collective political identities in twentieth century Latin American fiction By engaging current sociological psychoanalytic and feminist theories Murder and Masculinity analyzes the cliché of proving virility through violence against women Biron develops her argument through close readings of five works Jorge Luis Borges s La intrusa Armonía Somer s El despojo Clarice Lispector s A Maca no Escuro Manuel Puig s The Buenos Aires Affair and Reinaldo Arenas s El Asalto Although men murdering women is often interpreted as nothing more than machista misogyny Biron argues that the five narratives addressed in this book show that healed masculinities are essential to the achievement of cultural identity and political autonomy in Latin America The introduction to this study deftly situates Biron s work in relation to previous theoretical arguments on the social and political dimensions of Latin American writing The five subsequent chapters offer superb analyses of the individual texts Like their male protagonists who experiment with the psychological and legal extremes of gender division these narratives risk nonconformity to the laws of genre in their quest for liberation from violent social and literary conventions In combining elements of detective stories crime narratives psychological case studies and magical or grotesque realism they offer metafictional commentary on a network of discourses that confuses images of masculinity national identity and political autonomy in postcolonial Latin America

The Vanishing Frame Eugenio Claudio Di Stefano, 2018-08-03 In the postdictatorial era Latin American cultural production and criticism has been defined by a series of assumptions about politics and art especially the claim that political freedom can be achieved by promoting a more direct experience between the textual subject often a victim and the reader by eliminating the division between art and life The Vanishing Frame argues against this conception of freedom demonstrating how it is based on a politics of human rights complicit with economic injustices Presenting a provocative counternarrative Eugenio Claudio Di Stefano examines literary visual and interdisciplinary artists who insist on the autonomy of the work of art in order to think beyond the politics of human rights and neoliberalism in Latin American theory and culture Di Stefano demonstrates that while artists such as Diamela Eltit Ariel Dorfman and Albertina Carri develop a concept of justice premised
