Religious Experience in Modern Poetry Ewa Panicka, 2019-10-17 This study on religious experience in modern poetry features innovative and accessible close readings of some of the most beloved authors of English verse In today's seemingly secular age religion still remains a highly contested subject The selection of texts analysed here is representative of a wide spectrum of attitudes including a sharply critical refusal to acknowledge Christianity as the basis of civilization Some poets see national religion as a framework for cultural identity while others worship nature as the omnipotent Force of Life trying to create their own gods Rather than reducing poetry to a background for philosophical analysis or theological deliberation this book presents diverse modes of the poetic endeavor to capture and convey the divine The chapters provide a range of perspectives on individual experience rendered into poetry as a subtle relationship between faith perception and language The text will be of interest to anyone looking for new ways of reading poetry as a spiritual quest

John Betjeman Dennis Brown, 1999 Dennis Brown's book assesses Sir John Betjeman's contribution to poetry in the light of the way that his key themes have specific relevance to postmodern and environmental concerns emphasising its ironic self reflexivity its rendering of Englishness and a soft masculinity and its ecumenical Christian tolerance
