The Best British Short Stories, 1939 Edward Joseph Harrington O'Brien, 1939 Art and Commerce in the British Short Story, 1880-1950 Dean Baldwin, 2015-10-06 The short story was a commercial phenomenon which took off in the late nineteenth century and lasted through to the rise of television and film Baldwin uses a wide variety of sources to show how economic factors helped to dictate how and what a wide variety of authors wrote The Cambridge Companion to the American Short Story Michael J. Collins, Gavin Jones, 2023-05-25 This Companion offers students and scholars a comprehensive introduction to the development and the diversity of the American short story as a literary form from its origins in the eighteenth century to the present day Rather than define what the short story is as a genre or defend its importance in comparison with the novel this Companion seeks to understand what the short story does how it moves through national space how it is always related to other genres and media and how its inherent mobility responds to the literary marketplace and resonates with key critical themes in contemporary literary studies The chapters offer authoritative introductions and reinterpretations of a literary form that has re emerged as a major force in the twenty first century public sphere dominated by the Internet Catalogue of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. 2 Edited By Clive Probyn and Bruce Steele, 2013-07-17 The publication of Henry Handel Richardson's correspondence will be a major event in Australian scholarly publishing. It will be the first time any Australian literary writer has had his/her correspondence published in its entirety. The letters of Henry Handel Richardson deposited in the National Library of Australia in Canberra and in the Mitchell Library in Sydney were opened in March 1996 to unrestricted access after a fifty-year period of closed access. The executrix of the HHR estate has determined, however, that none of the letters may be published in whole or in part until after Probyn and Steele's edition of the complete correspondence has been released. At present there are approximately 1800 unpublished manuscript letters to and from HHR of which at least 1000 are in her own hand. They form a correspondence between Australia, England, Germany, Italy, and the USA for the period 1874 to 1946. Within the total number there are two quite distinct and major sub-groups: the first 1910-14 being a collection of both sides of the correspondence between HHR and the French translator of Maurice Guest, Paul Solanges; the second 1911-46 letters between HHR and Mary A. Kernot of Melbourne. As well as the letters held in the National and Mitchell libraries, the editors possess an entire sequence of letters from William Heinemann to HHR and her husband John George Robertson detailing the publication history of Ultima Thule, the final volume of The Fortunes of Richard Mahoney, the trilogy which cemented her international reputation. They are adding to the collection almost monthly but have reason to believe that about 90% of the extant letters are now in their possession. The letters, as might be expected, shed much new light on HHR's biography, her artistic methods, her personal life, her friendships and antagonisms, her response to Australian readers and to expatriation, and her efforts to maintain a literary life apart from her personal life. The series includes HHR's earliest letter, her student days in Leipzig, the publication of Maurice Guest, The Getting of Wisdom, The Fortunes of Richard Mahoney, The End of a Childhood, and The Young Cosima, and her experience of life in wartime England. Some of the most vivid letters describe her schooldays, the biographical context for The Getting of Wisdom, her memories of the Australian bush, her relationship with Vance and Nettie Palmer, her meetings with Miles Franklin, her views on contemporary writing and life in wartime England. In particular, the letters to and from Solanges are packed with information about the writing, the autobiographical roots, and the meaning of Maurice Guest. The letters to Kernot provide constant linkages between life in England and Australia during the most formative period for modern Australian literature, including the negotiations for HHR's Nobel Prize nomination.

The New York Times Book Review Index, 1896-1970: Author index, 1973 The New York Times Book Review Index, 1896-1970: Title index, 1973 AB Bookman's Weekly, 1989 The New York Times Book Review Index, 1896-1970: Category index, 1973 Henry Handel Richardson Vol 3 Edited By Clive Probyn and Bruce Steele, 2013-07-15 The publication of Henry Handel Richardson's correspondence is a major event in Australian scholarly publishing. There are approximately fifteen hundred unpublished manuscript letters to and from HHR of which almost a thousand are in her own hand. They form a correspondence between Australia, England, Germany, Italy, and the USA over a seventy-year period, 1874 to 1946 The letters shed new light on Henry Handel Richardson's biography her artistic methods her personal life her friendships and antagonisms her response to Australian readers and to expatriation and her rigorous efforts to maintain a literary life apart from her personal life The collection begins with HHR's earliest letter then traces her student days in Leipzig the publication of Maurice Guest The Getting of Wisdom The Fortunes of Richard Mahony The Young Cosima and The End of a Childhood and her struggle late in life with the stringencies of wartime England In this volume the widowed HHR moves to the Sussex village where she lived until her death The letters cover the publication of The End of a Childhood and Other Stories the ill fated The Young Cosima and her incomplete memoir Myself When Young War dominated the closing years of her life and she reported her experiences graphically to Mary Kernot She refused to leave her house even while the Battle of Britain was being fought in the skies above her The strain and deprivations of war weakened her When unable to write her companion and secretary Olga Roncoroni wrote for her and these letters are included Her last letter is a little pencilled note to Mary Kernot Wisconsin Library Bulletin, 1941 The Short Story Valerie Shaw, 2014-07-21 Throughout this text Valerie Shaw addresses two key questions What are the special satisfactions afforded by reading short stories and How are these satisfactions derived from each story's literary techniques and narrative strategies She then attempts to answer these questions by drawing on stories from different periods and countries by authors who were also great novelists like Henry James Flaubert Kafka and D H Lawrence by authors who specifically dedicated themselves to the art of the short story like Kipling Chekhov and Katherine Mansfield by contemporary practitioners like Angela Carter and Jorge Luis Borges and by unfairly neglected writers like Sarah Orne Jewett and Joel Chandler Harris British Short Fiction in the Early Nineteenth Century Dr Tim Killick, 2013-04-28 In spite of the importance of the idea of the tale within Romantic era literature short fiction of the period has received little attention from critics Contextualizing British short fiction within the broader framework of early nineteenth century print culture Tim Killick argues that authors and publishers sought to present short fiction in book length volumes as a way of competing with the novel as a legitimate and prestigious genre Beginning with an overview of the development of short fiction through the late eighteenth century and analysis of the publishing conditions for the genre including its appearance in magazines and annuals Killick shows how Washington Irving's hugely popular collections set the stage for British writers Subsequent chapters consider the stories and sketches of writers as diverse as Mary Russell Mitford and James Hogg as well as didactic short fiction by authors such as Hannah More Maria Edgeworth and Amelia Opie His book makes a convincing case for the evolution of short fiction into a self conscious intentionally modern form with its own techniques and imperatives separate from those of the novel Black Stereotypes in Popular Series Fiction, 1851-1955 Bernard A. Drew, 2015-04-02 Even well meaning fiction writers of the late Jim Crow era 1900-1955 perpetuated racial stereotypes in their depiction of black characters From 1918 to 1952 Octavus Roy Cohen turned out a remarkable 360 short stories featuring Florian Slappeg and the schemers romancers and ditzes of Birmingham's Darktown

for The Saturday Evening Post and other publications Cohen said I received a great deal of mail from Negroes and I have never found any resentment from a one of them The black readership had to be satisfied with any black presence in the popular literature of the day The best known white writers of black characters included Booth Tarkington Herman and Verman in the Penrod books Irvin S Cobb Judge Priest s houseman Jeff Poindexter Roark Bradford Widow Duck the plantation matriarch Hugh Wiley Wildcat Marsden the war veteran who traveled the country in the company of his goat and Charles Correll and Freeman Gosden radio s Amos n Andy These writers deservedly declined in the civil rights era but left a curious legacy that deserves examination This book focusing on authors of series fiction and particularly of humorous stories profiles 29 writers and their black characters in detail with brief entries covering 72 others
