The Writing Report Card, 1984-88 Arthur N. Applebee, 1990 Based on two national assessments of the writing proficiency of representative samples of students in grades 4 8 and 11 conducted during the school years ending in 1984 and 1988 this report assesses the informative persuasive and imaginative writing performance of the nation's students and tracks changes in performance over time The first three chapters of the report describe student performance on the informative persuasive and imaginative writing tasks included in the writing trend assessments based on the results of the primary trait and holistic analyses The fourth chapter summarizes trends in average task accomplishment for the nation and various demographic subpopulations In the fifth chapter trends in students grammar punctuation and spelling are discussed The sixth chapter discusses factors that appear to be related to writing performance such as students instructional experiences and home environment The report concludes that despite some progress on some tasks students writing performance across tasks remains low and has changed little across time The report also finds that the extent to which students at all grade levels value writing use it in their own lives and engage in writing process activities remains quite limited A procedural appendix and an appendix of data are attached RS

Best Newspaper Writing 2005 Aly Colón, 2005 Emotions and Virtues in Feature Writing Jennifer Martin, 2021-03-22 This book provides an important and original way of understanding how journalists use emotion to communicate to readers posing the deceptively simple question how do journalists make us feel something when we read their work Martin uses case studies of award winning magazine style features to illuminate how some of the best writers of literary journalism give readers the gift of experiencing a range of perspectives and emotions in the telling of a single story Part One of this book discusses the origins and development of narrative journalism and introduces a new theoretical framework the Virtue Paradigm and a new textual analysis tool the Virtue Map Part Two includes three case studies of prize winning journalism demonstrating how the Virtue Paradigm and the Virtue Map provide fresh insight into narrative journalism and the ongoing conversation of what it means to live well together in community

Best Newspaper Writing 1999 Christopher Scanlan, 1999 DeNeen L Brown of The Washington Post blends meticulous reporting with lyrical and incisive writing in a collection of extraordinary stories that tackle emotionally charged topics such as abortion racial equality juvenile justice and modern day parenting with honest sensitivity and literary grace

Rewriting the Newspaper Thomas R. Schmidt, 2019-06-19 Between the 1970s and the 1990s American journalists began telling the news by telling stories They borrowed narrative techniques transforming sources into characters events into plots and their own work from stenography to anthropology This was more than a change in style It was a change in substance a paradigmatic shift in terms of what constituted news and how it was being told It was a turn toward narrative journalism and a new culture of news propelled by the storytelling movement Thomas Schmidt analyzes the expansion of narrative journalism and the corresponding institutional changes in the American newspaper industry in the last quarter of the twentieth century In doing so he offers the first institutionally situated history of narrative journalism s evolution from the New Journalism of the 1960s to long form literary journalism in the 1990s Based on the analysis of primary sources industry publications and oral history interviews this study traces how narrative techniques developed and spread through newsrooms advanced by institutional initiatives and a growing network of practitioners proponents and writing coaches who mainstreamed the use of storytelling Challenging the popular belief that it was only a few talented New York reporters Tome Wolfe Jimmy Breslin Gay Talese Joan Didion and others who revolutionized journalism by deciding to employ storytelling techniques in their writing Schmidt shows that the evolution of narrative in late twentieth century American Journalism was more nuanced more purposeful and more institutionally based than the New Journalism myth suggests
