Class Devotions Nineteen Eighty Five To Nineteen Eighty Six:

Class Devotions Harold L. Fair, 1985-01-01 Books in Print, 1994 Bowker's Complete Video Directory, 2000 Young Men's Era, 1892 Creating Christian Granada David Coleman, 2013-08-15 Creating Christian Granada provides a richly detailed examination of a critical and transitional episode in Spain's march to global empire. The city of Granada, Islam's final bastion on the Iberian peninsula, surrendered to the control of Spain's Catholic Monarchs, Isabella and Ferdinand, on January 2, 1492. Over the following century, Spanish state and Church officials, along with tens of thousands of Christian immigrant settlers, transformed the formerly Muslim city into a Christian one. With constant attention to situating the Granada case in the broader comparative contexts of the medieval reconquista tradition on the one hand and sixteenth-century Spanish imperialism in the Americas on the other, Coleman carefully charts the changes in the conquered city's social, political, religious, and physical landscapes. In the process, he sheds light on the local factors contributing to the emergence of tensions between the conquerors and Granada's formerly Muslim native morisco community in the decades leading up to the crown-mandated expulsion of most of the city's moriscos in 1569-1570. Despite the failure to assimilate the moriscos, Granada's status as a frontier Christian community under construction fostered among much of the immigrant community innovative religious reform ideas and programs that shaped in direct ways a variety of church-wide reform movements in the era of the ecumenical Council of Trent (1545-1563). Coleman concludes that the process by which reforms of largely Granadan origin contributed significantly to transformations in the Church as a whole forces a reconsideration of traditional top-down conceptions of sixteenth-century Catholic reform. North-western Christian Advocate, 1898 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1999 Domestic Devotions in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Salvador Ryan, 2020-05-28 Domestic devotion has become an increasingly important area of research in recent years with the publication of a number of significant studies on the early modern period in particular. This Special Issue aims to build on these works and to expand their range both geographically and chronologically. This collection focuses on lived religion and the devotional practices found in the domestic settings of late medieval and early modern Europe. More particularly, it investigates the degree to which the experience of personal or familial religious practice in the domestic realm intersected with the more public expression of faith in liturgical or communal settings. Its broad geographical range, spanning northern, southern, central, and eastern Europe, includes practices related to Christianity, Judaism, and Islam. This Special Issue will be of interest to historians, art historians, medievalists, early modernists, historians of religion, anthropologists, and theologians, as well as those interested in the history of material religious culture. It also offers important insights into research areas such as gender studies, histories of the emotions, and histories of the senses. The Life Course in Old English Poetry Harriet Soper, 2023-12-07 The first book-length study of the whole lifespan in Old English verse, exploring how poets depicted varied paths through life.
