Classicism Is Not A Style An Architectural Design Profile:

Classical and Modern Interactions Karl Galinsky, 2010-07-22 Postmodernism multiculturalism the alleged decline of the United States deconstruction leadership and values these topics have been at the forefront of contemporary intellectual and cultural debate and are likely to remain so for the near future Participants in the debate can usefully enlarge the perspective to a comparison between the Greco Roman world and contemporary society In this thought provoking work a noted classics scholar tests the ancient modern comparison showing what it can add to the contemporary debates and what its limitations are Writing for intellectually adventurous readers Galinsky explores Greece and Rome as multicultural societies debates the merits of classicism in postmodern architecture discusses the reign of Augustus in terms of modern leadership theories and investigates the modern obsession with finding parallels between the supposed decline and fall of Rome and the decay of U S society Within these discussions Galinsky shows the continuing vitality of the classical tradition in the contemporary world The Greek and Roman civilizations have provided us not only with models for conscious adaptation but also points for radical departures This ability to change and innovate from classical models is crucial Galinsky maintains It creates a reciprocal process whereby contemporary issues are projected into the past while aspects of the ancient world are redefined in terms of current approaches These essays result in a balanced assessment and stimulating restatement of some major issues in both contemporary U S society and the Greco Roman world The book which speaks to a wide interdisciplinary audience is based on a series of lectures that Galinsky gave as a national visiting scholar for Phi Beta Kappa It concludes with a discussion of the role of classical studies in the United States today The Imperfect City: On Architectural Judgment Samir Younes, 2016-03-03 If architectural judgment were a city a city of ideas and forms then it is a very imperfect city When architects judge the success or failure of a building the range of ways and criteria which can be used for this evaluation causes many contentious and discordant arguments Proposing that the increase in number and intensity of such arguments threatens to destabilize the very grounds upon which judgment is supposed to rest this book examines architectural judgment in its historical cultural political and psychological dimensions and their convergence on that most expressive part of architecture namely architectural character It stresses the value of reasoned judgment in justifying architectural form a judgment based on three sets of criteria those criteria that are external to architecture those that are internal to architecture and those that pertain to the psychology of the architect as image maker External criteria include philosophies of history or theories of modernity internal criteria include architectural character and architectural composition while the psychological criteria pertain to mimetic rivalry or rivaling desires for the same architectural forms Yet although architectural conflicts can adversely influence judgment they can at the same time contribute to the advancement of architectural culture The New Classicism in Architecture and Urbanism Clive Aslet, 1988 The New Paradigm in Architecture Charles Jencks, 2002-01-01 This book explores the broad issue of Postmodernism and tells the story of the movement that has changed the face of architecture over the last forty years In this completely rewritten edition of his seminal work Charles Jencks brings the history of architecture up to date and shows how demands for a new and complex architecture aided by computer design have led to more convivial sensuous and articulate buildings around the world

Theorizing a New Agenda for Architecture: Kate Nesbitt, 1996-03 Theorizing a New Agenda for Architecture An Anthology of Architectural Theory collects in a single volume the most significant essays on architectural theory of the last thirty years A dynamic period of reexamination of the discipline the postmodern era produced widely divergent and radical viewpoints on issues of making meaning history and the city Among the paradigms presented are architectural postmodernism phenomenology semiotics poststructuralism deconstruction and feminism By gathering these influential articles from a vast array of books and journals into a comprehensive anthology Kate Nesbitt has created a resource of great value Indispensable to professors and students of architecture and architectural theory Theorizing a New Agenda also serves practitioners and the general public as Nesbitt provides an overview a thematic structure and a critical introduction to each essay The list of authors in Theorizing a New Agenda reads like a Who's Who of contemporary architectural thought Tadao Ando Giulio Carlo Argan Alan Colquhoun Jacques Derrida Peter Eisenman Marco Frascari Kenneth Frampton Diane Ghirardo Vittorio Gregotti Karsten Harries Rem Koolhaas Christian Norberg Schulz Aldo Rossi Colin Rowe Thomas Schumacher Ignasi de Sol Morales Rubi Bernard Tschumi Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown and Anthony Vidler A bibliography and notes on all the contributors are also included

The Theory of Architecture Paul-Alan Johnson, 1994-04-18 The Theory of Architecture Concepts Themes Practices Paul Alan Johnson Although it has long been thought that theory directs architectural practice no one has explained precisely how the connection between theory and practice is supposed to work This guide asserts that architectural theory does not direct practice but is itself a form of reflective practice Paul Alan Johnson cuts through the jargon and mystery of architectural theory to clarify how it relates to actual applications in the field He also reveals the connections between new and old ideas to enhance the reader's powers of critical evaluation Nearly 100 major concepts themes and practices of architecture as well as the rhetoric of architects and designers are presented in an easily accessible format Throughout Johnson attempts to reduce each architectural notion into its essential concept By doing so he makes theory accessible for everyday professional discussion Topics are arranged under ten headings identification definition power attitudes ethics order authority governance relationship and expression Areas covered under these headings include Utopia thought in theories of architecture Advocacy and citizen participation in architecture The basis of architectural quality and excellence The roles of the architect as artist poet scientist and technologist Ethical obligations of architecture Rationales for models and methods of design How authority is determined in architecture How architects structure their concepts Conventions of communication within the architectural profession Each section begins by showing the etymology of key terms of the topic discussed along with a summary history of the topic's use in architecture Discussions probe the conceptual and philosophical difficulties of different theories as well as their potential and limitations in past and present usage Among the provocative issues discussed in terms of their relationship to architecture are chaos theory feminism service to the community and the use of metaphor Johnson points out with stunning clarity the intentions as well as the contradictions and inconsistencies of all notions and concepts All architects and designers as well as students and teachers in these disciplines will gain many insights about architectural thought in this groundbreaking text Modern Classicism Robert A. M. Stern, Raymond Gastil, 1988 Multiform Owen Hopkins, Erin McKellar, 2021-02-23 Guest edited by Owen Hopkins and Erin McKellar Our current moment is one of profound political and economic change Historically these moments of transition have seen a parallel period of cultural and notably architectural flux In the late 1970s this was manifested in Postmodernism Today a number of architects are looking again at this movement and redeploying a range of its tactics and approaches using contemporary methods and techniques These include different modes of collage formal reference and quotation stylistic eclecticism symbolism in form material and ornament and the bold expressive use of colour both natural and synthetic While the design that results from these multiform tactics and approaches has been seen as a kind of neo Postmodernism this issue argues that this is a simplistic and superficial reading Instead it posits this phenomenon as the architectural attempt both conscious and unconscious to reflect grapple with and make sense of the current political and economic transition and the backdrop of the climate emergency Rather than responding to this situation by attempting to marshal architecture around a single unifying narrative this issue makes the case for the transformative possibilities offered by an approach that is ad hoc eclectic and pluralist Contributors Mat Barnes Jennifer Bonner Graham Burn James Crawford and Alexander Turner Mario Carpo David Knight and Cristina Monteiro David Kohn Stephen Parnell Lera Samovich Geoff Shearcroft Dirk Somers Catrina Stewart and Hugh McEwen L a Catherine Szacka and Amin Taha Featured architects AOC Architecture Bovenbouw Architectuur CAN Groupwork David Kohn Architects DK CM Fala Atelier MALL Studio MUTT Office S M Walala Studio Yinka Ilori Studio The Application of Classicism in Architecture, 1984 A History of Scottish Architecture Miles Glendinning, Randal MacInnes, Aonghus MacKechnie, 1996 This compact yet comprehensive history of Scottish architecture combines factual description of the vast fertile range of visual forms key architects in each period with a wide ranging analysis of their social ideological historical context New Architecture and Technology Gyula Sebestyen, Christopher Pollington, 2007-06-07 Many books have covered the topics of architecture materials and technology New Architecture and Technology is the first to explore the interrelation between these three subjects It illustrates the impact of modern technology and materials on architecture The book explores the technical progress of building showing how developments both past and present are influenced by design methods It provides a survey of contemporary architecture as affected by construction technology It also explores aspects of building technology within the context of general industrial social and economic developments The reader will acquire a vocabulary covering the entire range of structure types and learn a new approach to understanding the development of design Mediated Messages Véronique Patteeuw, Léa-Catherine Szacka, 2020-01-23 Mediated Messages presents a collection of original writing exploring the role played by the media in the development of postmodern architecture in the 1970s and 80s The book's twelve chapters and case studies examine a range of contemporary periodicals and exhibitions to explore their role in the postmodern This focus on mediation as a key feature of architectural post modernism and the recognition that post modernism grew out of developments in the media opens up the possibility of an important new account of post modernism distinct from existing narratives Accompanied by a contextualizing introduction the essays are arranged across four thematic sections covering images international postmodernisms high and low culture and postmodern architects as theorists and present a range of case studies with a genuinely international scope Altogether this work makes a substantial contribution to the historical account of architectural postmodernism and will be of great interest to researchers in postmodernism as well as those examining the role of the media in architectural history History of the Modern Styles of Architecture James FERGUSSON (Architect.), 1862
