Origins of Moral-political Philosophy in Early China Tao Jiang, 2021 This book rewrites the story of classical Chinese philosophy which has always been considered the single most creative and vibrant chapter in the history of Chinese philosophy Works attributed to Confucius Mozi Mencius Laozi Zhuangzi Xunzi Han Feizi and many others represent the very origins of moral and political thinking in China As testimony to their enduring stature in recent decades many Chinese intellectuals and even leading politicians have turned to those classics especially Confucian texts for alternative or complementary sources of moral authority and political legitimacy Therefore philosophical inquiries into core normative values embedded in those classical texts are crucial to the ongoing scholarly discussion about China as China turns more culturally inward It can also contribute to the spirited contemporary debate about the nature of philosophical reasoning especially in the non Western traditions This book offers a new narrative and interpretative framework about the origins of moral political philosophy that tracks how the three normative values humaneness justice and personal freedom were formulated reformulated and contested by early Chinese philosophers in their effort to negotiate the relationship among three distinct domains the personal the familial and the political Such efforts took place as those thinkers were reimagining a new moral political order debating its guiding norms and exploring possible sources within the context of an evolving understanding of Heaven and its relationship with the humans Tao Jiang argues that the competing visions in that debate can be characterized as a contestation between partialist humaneness and impartialist justice as the guiding norm for the newly imagined moral political order with the Confucians the Mohists the Laoists and the so called fajia thinkers being the major participants constituting the mainstream philosophical project during this period Thinkers lined up differently along the justice humaneness spectrum with earlier ones maintaining some continuity between the two normative values or at least trying to accommodate both to some extent while later ones leaning more toward their exclusivity in the political public domain Zhuangzi and the Zhuangists were the outliers of the mainstream moral political debate who rejected the very parameter of humaneness versus justice in that discourse They were a lone voice advocating personal freedom but the Zhuangist expressions of freedom were self restricted to the margins of the political world and the interiority of one's heartmind Such a take can shed new light on how the Zhuangist approach to personal freedom would profoundly impact the development of this idea in pre modern Chinese political and intellectual history Contemporary Value Systems in China Zhen Han,Weiwen Zhang,2018-11-30 This work illustrates China's values and how they are practiced After introducing readers to the theories systematical structure historical status and influence of traditional Chinese values it points out major developmental trends in connection with modernization Further it explores the significance of the contemporary reconstruction of Chinese values and argues that these values can be divided into three layers values based goals of national development Chinese values concepts and norms of values in a civil society On this basis it subsequently interprets the core socialist values Prosperity Democracy Civility and Harmony the value concepts Freedom Equality Justice and Rule of Law and values based norms Patriotism Dedication Integrity and Friendship Contemporary Reconfigurations of American Literary Classics Betina Entzminger,2013-03-05 The number and popularity of novels that have overtly reconfigured aspects of classic American texts suggests a curious trend for both readers and writers an impulse to retell and reread books that have come to define American culture This book argues that by revising canonical American literature contemporary American writers are re writing an American myth of origins creating one that corresponds to the contemporary writer's understanding of self and society Informed by cognitive psychology evolutionary literary criticism and poststructuralism Entzminger reads texts by canonical authors Poe Hawthorne Melville Alcott Twain Chopin and Faulkner and by the contemporary writers that respond to them In highlighting the construction and cognitive function of narrative in their own and in their antecedent texts contemporary writers highlight the fact that such use of narrative is universal and essential to human beings This book suggests that by revising the classic texts that compose our cultural narrative contemporary writers mirror the way human individuals consistently revisit and refigure the past through language via self narration in order to manage and understand experience Women's Political and Social Thought Hilda L. Smith,Berenice A. Carroll,2000 a wide array of time periods cultures and formats Library Journal The first collection of source readings of women's important writings in political and social theory from ancient times to the twentieth century From Sappho of Lesbos to Mary Wollstonecraft and from Jane Addams to Simone Weil these works fill a major gap in materials available for teaching the history of political thought and opens paths for exploring the rich and diverse contributions of women as creators of theory Contemporary Review ,1888 The Contemporary Review ,1890 Ontological Investigations Ingvar Johansson,2013-05-02 This volume is devoted to problems within analytic metaphysics It defends an ontology and theory of categories inspired by Aristotle but revised in such a way as to be compatible with modern science The ontology of both natural and social reality is addressed starting out from the view that universals exist but only in the spatiotemporal world immanent realism In attempting to bring Aristotle's ontology up to date the author relies very much on the thinking of Edmund Husserl conceiving the cement of the universe as Husserlian relations of existential dependence and regarding intentionality as a non reducible category in the ontology of mind The work is thoroughly realistic in spirit but large parts of it should nonetheless be of interest to conceptualists and nominalists too
