McGuire, Trevor Melia, 2017-03-13 This volume from the Pittsburgh Konstanz series marks a unique collaboration by internationally distinguished scholars in the history rhetoric philosophy and sociology of science Converging on the central issues of rhetoric of science the essays focus on figures such as Galileo Harvey Darwin von Neumann and on issues such as the debate over cold fusion or the continental drift controversy Their vitality attests to the burgeoning interest in the rhetoric of science The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies Andrea A. Lunsford, Kirt H. Wilson, Rosa A. Eberly, 2009 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies surveys the latest advances in rhetorical scholarship synthesizing theories and practices across major areas of study in the field and pointing the way for future studies Edited by Andrea A Lunsford and Associate Editors Kirt H Wilson and Rosa A Eberly the Handbook aims to introduce a new generation of students to rhetorical study and provide a deeply informed and ready resource for scholars currently working in the field

The Modeling of Nature William A Wallace, 1996 The Modeling of Nature provides an excellent introduction to the fundamentals of natural philosophy psychology logic and epistemology AAAS Science Book List, 1978-1986 Kathryn Wolff, Susan M. O'Connell, Valerie J. Montenegro, 1986 A selected and annotated list of science and mathematics books which supplements the AAAS science book list 3rd ed 1970 and the AAAS science book list supplement 1978 Thomas Kuhn Steve Fuller, 2000 This work discusses whether Kuhn's The Structure of Scientific Revolutions was revolutionary Steve Fuller argues that Kuhn held a profoundly conservative view of science and how one ought to study its history Is Water H₂O? Hasok Chang, 2012-05-23 This book exhibits deep philosophical quandaries and intricacies of the historical development of science lying behind a simple and fundamental item of common sense in modern science namely the composition of water as H₂O Three main phases of development are critically re examined covering the historical period from the 1760s to the 1860s the Chemical Revolution through which water first became recognized as a compound not an element early electrochemistry by which water's compound nature was confirmed and early atomic chemistry in which water started out as HO and became H₂O In each case the author concludes that the empirical evidence available at the time was not decisive in settling the central debates and therefore the consensus that was reached was unjustified or at least premature This leads to a significant re examination of the realism question in the philosophy of science and a unique new advocacy for pluralism in science Each chapter contains three layers allowing readers to follow various parts of the book at their chosen level of depth and detail The second major study in complementary science this book offers a rare combination of philosophy history and science in a bid to improve scientific knowledge through history and philosophy of science Rare and Important
