Berlin At A Glance The New Face Of The German Capital:

Berlin at a glance Rolf Steinberg, 1995 International Books in Print, 1997 Willing Seduction Barbara Kosta, 2009-05-01 Josef von Sternberg's 1930 film The Blue Angel Der blaue Engel is among the best known films of the Weimar Republic 1919-1933. A significant landmark as one of Germany's first major sound films, it is known primarily for launching Marlene Dietrich into Hollywood stardom and for initiating the mythic pairing of the Austrian-born American director von Sternberg with the star performer Dietrich. This fascinating cultural history of The Blue Angel provides a new interpretive framework with which to approach this classic Weimar film and suggests that discourses on mass and high culture are integral to the film's thematic and narrative structure. These discourses surface above all in the relationship between the two main characters: the cabaret entertainer Lola Lola (Marlene Dietrich) and the high school teacher Immanuel Rath (one-time Oscar winner Emil Jannings). In addition to offering insight into some of the major debates that informed the Weimar Republic, this book demonstrates that similar issues continue to shape the contemporary cultural landscape of Germany. Barbara Kosta thus also looks at Dietrich as a contemporary cultural icon and at her symbolic value since German unification and at Lola Lola's various incarnations.

Translocal Geographies Dr Ayona Datta, Dr Katherine Brickell, 2012-11-28 Bringing together a wide range of original empirical research from locations and interconnected geographical contexts from Europe, Australasia, Asia, Africa, Central and Latin America, this book sets out a different agenda for mobility, one which emphasizes the enduring connectedness between and embeddedness within places during and after the experience of mobility. These issues are examined through the themes of home and family, neighbourhoods and city spaces and allow the reader to engage with migrants' diverse practices which are specifically local yet spatially global. This book breaks new ground by arguing for a spatial understanding of translocality that situates the migrant experience within across particular locales without confining it to the territorial boundedness of the nation-state. It will be of interest to academics and students of social and cultural geography, anthropology and transnational studies.

State Symbols Margarete Myers Feinstein, 2021-10-25 After World War II, Germans not only had to rebuild; they had to redefine their national political identity as well. This book traces how state symbols such as national colors, anthems, holidays, capital cities and postage stamps were used to legitimize the two Germanies from 1949 to 1959. Although the Federal Republic of Germany and the German Democratic Republic (GDR) developed distinct post-war identities, the one cannot be understood apart from the other for they were in direct competition to define the same state symbols. The study of symbols offers valuable insights into the realms of identity formation and of politics: that is, how symbols can promote political integration. By examining the creation of state symbols and the processes by which they were established in the public realm, Feinstein evaluates the extent to which German political culture overcame the Nazi past to legitimize both a republican and a socialist system. This book is especially relevant to scholars who want to understand the common ground upon which the citizens of today's unified

Germany can construct a shared identity Capital Dilemma: Michael Z. Wise,1998 The decision to move Germany's government seat from Bonn to Berlin by the year 2000 poses an epic architectural challenge and has fostered an international debate on which building styles are appropriate to represent German national identity Capital Dilemma investigates the political decisions and historical events behind the redesign of Berlin's official architecture It tells a complex and exciting drama of politics memory cultural values and architecture in which Helmut Kohl Albert Speer Sir Norman Foster and I M Pei all figure as players If capital city design projects are symbols of national identity and historical consciousness Berlin is the supreme example In fact architecture has played a pivotal role throughout Germany's turbulent twentieth century history After the fall of the monarchy Germany gave birth to the Bauhaus whose founders argued that their own revolutionary designs could shape human destiny The century's warring ideologies Nazism and Communism also used architecture for their own political ends In its latest incarnation Berlin will become the capital of the fifth German state in this century to be ruled from that city How will the official architecture of reunified Berlin a democratic capital being built amid totalitarian remains be different this time around The Federal Republic of Germany a highly stable democracy in stark contrast to its predecessors has been struggling with burdensome architectural legacies In the process it has considered remedies as varied as outright destruction refurbishment and in the case of the former Nazi Central Bank now being converted into the new Foreign Ministry physical concealment Expressionism and Poster Design in Germany

1905-1922 Kathleen G. Chapman,2019-01-21 In Expressionism and Poster Design in Germany 1905 1925 Kathleen Chapman re defines Expressionism by situating it in relation to the most common type of picture in public space during the Wilhelmine twentieth century the commercial poster Focusing equally on visual material and contemporaneous debates surrounding art posters and the image in general this study reveals that conceptions of a modern image were characterized not so much by style or mode of production and distribution but by a visual rhetoric designed to communicate more directly than words As instances of such rhetoric Expressionist art and posters emerge as equally significant examples of this modern image demonstrating the interconnectedness of the aesthetic the utilitarian and the commercial in European modernism
