Berji Kristin Tales From The Garbage Hills A Novel:

Berji Kristin Latife Tekin, 1993 The cast offs of modern urban society are driven out onto the edges of the city and left to make a life there for themselves They are not however in any natural wilderness but in a world of refuse and useless junk a place which denies any form of sustainable life Here the unemployed the homeless the old and the bereft struggle to build shelters out of old tin cans scavenge for food and fight against insuperable odds There is the mysterious great wind that flattens their homes every night and cripples their children the industrial pollution from the factory which slowly disfigures them Some of the lucky ones find work but are ruthlessly exploited denied everything except their pitiful wages All attempts at asserting their dignity are doomed to failure either by the outside world of cops lawyers thugs and businessmen or by their own frustration and anger And yet somehow they survive it seems that society thrives on the garbage hills because it has always been built on one In this dark fairy tale full of scenes taken from what has increasingly become a way of life for many inhabitants on this planet Latife Tekin has written a grim parable of human destiny

The Future of Ecocriticism Serpil Oppermann, Ufuk Özdağ, Nevin Özkan, 2011-05-25 As we enter the second decade of the twenty first century environmental concerns dominate the media headlines from rampant poverty in the developing world to nuclear accidents in industrialized nations How did human civilization arrive at its current predicaments and what can we do to temper our habits of mind and mitigate society s environmentally and socially destructive behaviors The field of ecocriticism also sometimes called environmental criticism attempts to grapple with such issues A branch of literary and cultural studies that essentially began in North America in the 1970s ecocriticism is currently one of the most quickly developing areas of environmental research and teaching The Future of Ecocriticism New Horizons brings together thirty two of the latest articles in the field including work by some of the leading scholars from around the world Although ecocriticism has been particularly active in North America Western Europe and East Asia important studies of traditional environmental thought environmental communication strategies and environmental aesthetics have begun to emerge in every region of this world This new book co edited by three prominent Turkish scholars and a leading American ecocritic offers a special cluster of Turkish ecocriticism with a focus on environmental stories and ideas in this culture that bridges Europe and Asia Another unique feature of The Future of Ecocriticism New Horizons is the concluding dialogue among the four editors about the current state of the field Writing Outside the Nation Azade Seyhan, 2012-01-06 Some of the most innovative writers of contemporary literature are writing in diaspora in their second or third language Here Azade Seyhan describes the domain of transnational poetics they inhabit She begins by examining the works of selected bilingual and bicultural writers of the United States including Oscar Hijuelos Maxine Hong Kingston and Eva Hoffman and Germany Libuse Mon kov Rafik Schami and E S zdamar among others developing a new framework for understanding the relationship between displacement memory and language Considering themes of loss witness translation identity and exclusion Seyhan interprets diasporic literatures as condensed archives of cultural and linguistic memory that give integrity and coherence to pasts ruptured by migration The book next compares works by contemporary Chicana and Turkish German women writers as innovative and sovereign literary voices within the larger national cultures of the United States and Germany Seyhan identifies in American multiculturalism critical clues for analyzing new cultural formations in Europe and maintains that Germany's cultural transformation suggests new ways of reading the American literary mosaic Her approach however extends well beyond these two literatures She creates a critical map of a third geography where a transnational multilingual literary movement is gathering momentum Writing Outside the Nation both contributes to and departs from postcolonial studies in that it focuses specifically on transnational writers working outside of their mother tongue and compares American and German diasporic literatures within a sophisticated conceptual framework It illustrates how literature s symbolic economy can reclaim lost personal and national histories as well as connect disparate and distant cultural traditions Zombiescapes and Phantom Zones Lee Rozelle, 2016-11-08 A study of the natural world as imagined by contemporary writers specifically their portrayals of nature as monster In Zombiescapes and Phantom Zones Ecocriticism and the Liminal from Invisible Man to The Walking Dead Lee Rozelle chronicles the weirdest ugliest and most mixed up characters to appear on the literary scene since World War II creatures intimately linked to damaged habitats that rise from the muck not to destroy or rule the world but to save it The book asks what happens to these landscapes after the madness havoc and destruction What monsters and magic surface then Rozelle argues that zombiescapes and phantom zones depicted in the book become catalysts for environmental reanimation and sources of hope Liminality offers exciting and useful new ways to conceptualize places that have historically proven troublesome unwieldy or hard to define Zombiescapes can reduce the effects of pollution promote environmental justice lessen economic disparity and localize food production The grotesques that ooze and crawl from these passages challenge readers to consider new ways to re inhabit broken lands at a time when energy efficiency fracking climate change the Pacific trade agreement local food production and sustainability shape the intellectual landscape Rozelle focuses on literary works from 1950 to 2015 the zombiescapes and monsterscapes of post World War II literature that portray in troubling and often devastating ways the brownfields that have been divested of much of their biodiversity and ecological viability However he also highlights how these literary works suggest a new life and new potential for such environments With an unlikely focus on places of ruination and an application of interdisciplinary transnational approaches to a range of fields and texts Rozelle advances the notion that places of distortion might become a nexus where revelation and advocacy are possible again Zombiescapes and Phantom Zones has much to offer to various fields of scholarship including literary studies ecocriticism and environmental studies Research academic and undergraduate audiences will be captivated by Rozelle's lively prose and unique anthropological ecocritical and literary analyses Designing America's Waste Landscapes Mira Engler, 2004-05-31 Publisher Description The Cambridge History of Turkey Kate Fleet, Suraiya Faroghi, Resat Kasaba, 2006 Publisher Description The Routledge Handbook of Ecofeminism and Literature Douglas A.
