Best Intentions Robert Sam Anson, 2011-03-16 A complex poignant exploration of racial attitudes in America as illumined by the case of Edmund Perry Perry a seventeen year old black honors student from Harlem was fatally shot by a young white plainclothes policeman in 1985 in an alleged mugging attempt Perry had recently graduated from Philips Exeter Academy and was to attend Stanford University that fall The shooting and the subsequent case in which Edmund's elder brother Jonah an undergraduate at Cornell University was accused tried and found not guilty drew national headlines and was the subject of heated debate among black and white communities alike Using interviews with Perry's parents friends and former teachers in Harlem and at Exeter journalist Robert Sam Anson has written a compelling account of a boy caught between two worlds and a profound portrait of the state of race in America Blacks in the White Establishment? Richard L. Zweigenhaft, G. William Domhoff, 1993-01-01 Describes the experiences of Black ghetto students who were placed in upper class prep schools during the 1960s and surveys their lives since graduation The Dream and the Nightmare Myron Magnet, 2010-06 Myron Magnet's The Dream and the Nightmare argues that the radical transformation of American culture that took place in the 1960s brought today s underclass overwhelmingly urban dismayingly minority into existence Lifestyle experimentation among the white middle class produced often catastrophic changes in attitudes toward marriage and parenting the work ethic and dependency in those at the bottom of the social ladder and closed down their exits to the middle class Texas Governor George W Bush s presidential campaign has highlighted the continuing importance of The Dream and the Nightmare Bush read the book before his first campaign for governor in 1994 and when he finally met Magnet in 1998 he acknowledged his debt to this work Karl Rove Bush s principal political adviser cites it as a road map to the governor s philosophy of compassionate conservatism From Outrage to Action Laura R. Woliver, 1993 From Outrage to Action examines the rise and fall of grass roots interest groups through in depth analyses of four incidents that mobilized citizens around local injustices In one case a local judge declared a five year old sexual assault victim a particularly promiscuous young lady In another an innocent black man died in police custody In the third a man with a criminal record was charged with murdering a ten year old girl and in the last a judge commented during a juvenile sentencing that rape is a normal reaction to the way women dress Through in depth interviews with activists Laura Woliver examines these community actions studying the groups involved and linking her conclusions to larger questions of political power and the impact of social movements Group successes and failures are explained through analysis of fluid social movements and the role of religion class gender and race Woliver found that activists unprepared for the ostracism and conflict resulting from their dissent retreated from public life while those who identified with alternative communities avoided self blame and maintained their political commitments She relates the community responses in these cases to those in the case of confessed mass murderer Jeffrey Dahmer and in the beating by Los Angeles police officers of Rodney King Her findings will make fascinating reading for those interested in the rise and fall of grass roots interest groups the nature of dissent and the reasons why people volunteer countless hours sometimes in the face of community opposition and isolation to dedicate themselves to a cause The four ad hoc interest groups studied are the Committee to Recall Judge ArchieSimonson Madison the Coalition for Justice for Ernest Lacy Milwaukee Concerned Citizens for Children Grant County Wisconsin and Citizens Taking Action High-Profile Crimes Lynn S. Marill, 2005 I More than Others Eric R. Severson, 2009-12-14 Fyodor Dostoyevsky expressed a strange and surprising sentiment through one of the characters of The Brothers Karamazov A dying young man named Markel declares Every one of us has sinned against all men and I more than others He later says every one of us is answerable for everyone else and for everything Markel's absurd claims have engendered many reflections on the nature of suffering and what it means to be responsible for someone else s suffering The world has no shortage of pain and evil what exactly is the relationship between suffering and responsibility Markel's declarations press forward a question that drives this essay collection how responsible should we consider ourselves for the suffering of the world This volume is a collection of essays that struggle in various ways to understand and respond to several philosophical theological and practical problems In each case the authors grapple with issues surrounding suffering immorality evil exploitation and oppression The contributors share a clear concern for the ways that philosophers and theologians should respond to the problems of suffering and evil They also share a conviction that these remain intense and central problems for philosophy and theology Evil is an obstacle for belief for morality for hospitality and for hope This book struggles to address the particular and strong sense of responsibility that falls on Christians when it comes to understanding and more importantly responding to the problems of suffering and evil in the world
