Meri, 2006 Publisher description Shari'a Scripts Brinkley Messick, 2018-01-02 A case study in the textual architecture of the venerable legal and ethical tradition at the center of the Islamic experience Shar a Scripts is a work of historical anthropology focused on Yemen in the early twentieth century There while colonial regimes late Ottoman reformers and early nationalists wrought decisive changes to the legal status of the shar a significantly narrowing its sphere of relevance the Zayd school of jurisprudence rooted in highland Yemen for a millennium still held sway Brinkley Messick uses the richly varied writings of the Yemeni past to offer a uniquely comprehensive view of the shar a as a localized and lived phenomenon Shar a Scripts reads a wide spectrum of sources in search of a new historical anthropological perspective on Islamic textual relations

Messick analyzes the shar'a as a local system of texts distinguishing between theoretical or doctrinal juridical texts or the library and those produced by the shar'a courts and notarial writers termed the archive. Attending to textual form he closely examines representative books of madrasa instruction, formal opinion giving by muftis and imams, the structure of court judgments and the drafting of contracts. Messick's intensive readings of texts are supplemented by retrospective ethnography and oral history based on extensive field research. Further, the book ventures a major methodological contribution by confronting anthropology's longstanding reliance upon the observational and the colloquial. Presenting a new understanding of Islamic legal history, Shar'a Scripts is a groundbreaking examination of the interpretative range and historical insights offered by the anthropologist as reader.

The Qur'an Oliver Leaman, 2006-05-02 A RUSA 2007 Outstanding Reference Title The Qur'an is the source of inspiration for one of the world's major religions followed today by over a billion people. It plays a central role in Islam and ever since it appeared fourteen hundred years ago has been the subject of intense debate. Some of this has been carried out by Muslims and some by those hostile or indifferent to Islam producing a very wide range of views. Authored by forty three international experts the objective of The Qur'an: An Encyclopedia is to present this diversity of thought approach and school without priority in order to give a strong appreciation of the range of response that the text has provoked throughout its history and providing students and researchers with a powerful one volume resource covering all aspects of the text and its reception. Islam and the Qur'an are much in the news today and there is a public debate going on in which things are said about the Qur'an without much knowledge or understanding of the book. Every effort has been made to help the reader use the Encyclopedia as an investigative tool in Quranic studies. The volume assumes no previous knowledge of the Qur'an, Islam, or Arabic. Technical terms are explained in the text itself, and the style of each entry is designed to be as self-contained as possible. Entries are cross-referenced, and many include a brief bibliography. At the end of the work, there is a substantial annotated bibliography providing a detailed guide to the most significant books, journals, and articles in Quranic Studies. There is a full index. The readership will include those seeking basic information on the Qur'an; however, the substantial number of longer entries means that it will also be used by specialists.

Religion and Politics under the Early 'Abbāsids Muhammad Qasim Zaman, 2021-12-06. The main concern of this book is the religious policies of the early Abbasid caliphs. It focuses on the religious trends which went into the making of Sunnī Islam and traces the emergence of the nascent Sunnī elite in relation to the Abbasids. Various aspects of the caliphs' evolving relationship with the religious scholars are studied, and the nature of caliphal patronage and its impact on the scholars and ultimately on the evolution of early Sunnism is explored. What emerges is a picture of close collaboration between the caliphs and the ulama, with the caliphs playing an active and multifaceted role in religious life. This book challenges the prevailing interpretations of the separation of religion and politics in early Islam and offers new insights into the social and religious history of Islam's formative centuries.

A History of the Arab Peoples Albert Habib Hourani, Albert Hourani, 2002. Chronicles the history of Arab civilization, looking at the beauty of the great mosques, the importance attached to education, the achievements of Arab science, the role of women, internal conflicts, and the Palestinian question.

Al-Qaeda Doctor Christina Hellmich, 2012-08-09. Since the attacks of September 11th, 2001, and up to and beyond Osama bin Laden's death, al-Qaeda has come to embody the new enigmatic face of terrorism dominating discussions of national and international security. Yet in spite of the attention it receives, conflicting assumptions about the group abound. Is al-Qaeda a rigidly structured organization, a global network of semi-independent cells, a franchise, or simply an idea whose time has come? What is meant by talk of the global Salafi jihad that is confronting the West? What are the implications of bin Laden's death? Christina Hellmich offers a critical examination of the widely held notions regarding the origins and manifestations of al-Qaeda and the sources on which they rely, mapping the organisation's alleged transition from what began as a regional struggle against the Soviets in Afghanistan to the increasingly leaderless jihad of the post 9 11 world Rather than just providing yet another biography of al Qaeda Hellmich forensically examines discrepancies between the most common explanations and to the limits of what can realistically be known Drawing on a wide variety of sources al Qaeda From Global Network to Local Franchise offers a penetrating insight into an organization which for all its notoriety is one of the least understood of our time God's Created Speech J.
