Petrarkismus-Bibliographie, 1972-2000 Klaus W. Hempfer, Gerhard Regn, Sunita Scheffel, 2005 Im Zuge der

Intertextualitäts Forschung gewann der Petrarkismus seit den frühen 1970er Jahren neue Aktualität als Untersuchungsgegenstand der Literaturwissenschaft und entwickelte sich überdies zu einem wichtigen Terrain literaturwissenschaftlicher Theorie und Methodendiskussion. Dies führte zu einer deutlichen Zunahme der Forschungsarbeiten, die selbst für Spezialisten kaum mehr überschaubar ist. Die vorliegende Bibliographie erschließt die Forschungsliteratur der letzten dreissig Jahre umfassend. Sie bietet als wissenschaftliches Arbeitsinstrument Orientierung und ermöglicht erstmals einen systematischen Zugriff auf die zahlreichen Studien der neueren Petrarkismusforschung.

Rethinking the Uncanny in Hoffmann and Tieck Marc Falkenberg, 2005. This stimulating new book challenges Freud's definition of the uncanny prevalent in the study of Gothic and Romantic fiction by reviving the importance of uncertainty in the uncanny. Literary criticism views the uncanny as an expression of the return of the repressed. Falkenberg's expanded definition includes but is not limited to the psychoanalytic and instead redefines the uncanny as a cognitive and aesthetic phenomenon. Beyond offering a survey of what David Punter has called The Theory of the Uncanny, this study places the uncanny in the context of the poetological and philosophical background of the Romantic period. In close readings of two stories that have stood at the center of the debate about the uncanny: E.T.A. Hoffmann's Sandman and Ludwig Tieck's Blond Eckbert, the author shows how these texts are constructed as uncanny phenomena in themselves. The study traces fairytale elements, framing techniques, and interdependencies between the fictional productions of the protagonists and their dark fates to expose how these texts confront the reader with paradoxical decoding instructions. This expanded and revised uncanny not only yields new readings of two classic German short stories; it also leads to a better understanding of the cultural soil that nourished the Romantic Movement.

Mysticism as Modernity William Morris Crooke, William Crooke, 2008. This work reconsiders the connections between mysticism, nationalism, and modernity in twentieth-century German culture. Disengaging mysticism from occultism, the author creates a new space for reconsidering mysticism's links to larger structures of modernity already at play at the turn of the century. Rather than dismissing mysticism as a strain of anti-modern irrationalism with troubling links to radical politics such as Nazism, the author reconceptualizes modern mysticism as an unwittingly logical expression of the same compression of time and space created by the emergence of the newspaper, radio, railways, and telegraph, and reflected in the novels of Hermann Hesse, Robert Musil, and Max Frisch.

Decolonization in Germany Jared Poley, 2007. When Germany lost its colonial empire after the Great War, many Germans were unsure how to understand this transition. They were the first Europeans to experience complete colonial loss an event which came as Germany also wrestled with wartime collapse and foreign occupation In this book the author considers how Germans experienced this change from imperial power to postcolonial nation This work examines what the loss of the colonies meant to Germans and it analyzes how colonialist categories took on new meanings in Germany's post colonial period Poley explores a varied collection of materials that ranges from the stories of popular writer Hanns Heinz Ewers to the novels essays speeches pamphlets posters and archival materials of nationalist groups in the occupied Rhineland to show how decolonization affected Germans When the relationships between metropole and colony were suddenly severed Germans were required to reassess many things nation and empire race and power sexuality and gender economics and culture

Winter Facets Andrea Dortmann, 2007 Based on a variety of close readings this book analyzes the use of ice and snow motifs in selected literary scientific and philosophical texts by a wide range of European authors from Johannes Kepler to Thomas Mann The focus of the book is on German literature While the metaphorical significance of cold imagery has been studied by various scholars the close relationship between figurations of the cold and writing or reading has so far been overlooked Compared with other instances of reading the book of nature stars or stones for example the unstable status of snow or ice configurations also renders their literary representation problematic This inherent tension accounts for the attraction snow and ice have exerted on authors to this day Particular attention is paid to those texts that negotiate the close rapport between the fragile literary object and the fragile status of language and readability thus exposing the fragile legibility of snow and ice motifs This focus allows us to address more general issues such as the shifting status of the aesthetic at the intersection of older natural history and the emergence of modern science the apocalyptic and the melancholic implications of cold imagery
