Tamdgidi, 2008-06-01. This Summer 2008 VI 3 issue of Human Architecture Journal of the Sociology of Self Knowledge is dedicated to an exploration of Thich Nhat Hanh's Engaged Buddhist philosophy and spiritual theory and practice from a sociological and social scientific vantage point to highlight the significance his teaching bears for the development of a self-reflective, globally humanist and environmentally concerned sociological imagination. Included are several talks, letters and a poem by Thich Nhat Hanh on the meaning and practice of Engaged Buddhism in regard to issues ranging from war and conflict, the environment, food industry and consumption and history of Engaged Buddhism. Other articles put his views in social science and sociological contexts, specifically exploring the overlapping landscapes of Engaged Buddhism with Pragmatism, Deep Ecology, sociological imagination and ideological analysis. Other contributions are illustrative of the ways in which Thich Nhat Hanh's teachings have engaged contexts such as international conflict, the classroom, urban policing, traumatized populations, economic theory, environmental crisis and family loss and trauma. A critical commentary by a participant's experience of attending one of Thich Nhat Hanh's retreats in 2005 is also included, followed by a response from a representative of the Plum Village community in France. Contributors include Thich Nhat Hanh, Winston Langley, Michael C. Adorjan, Benjamin W. Kelly, Julie Gregory, Samah Sabra, Darren Noy, Sujin Choi, Marc Black, Samiyeh Sharqawi, Richard Brady, Michael J. DeValve, Cary D. Posthuman Spiritualities in Contemporary Performance Silvia Battista, 2018-06-19 This book provides an interpretative analysis of the notion of spirituality through the lens of contemporary performance and posthuman theories. The book examines five performance artworks: The Artist is Present 2010 by Marina Abramović, The Deer Shelter Skyscape 2007 by James Turrell, CAT 1998 by Ansuman Biswas, Journey to the Lower World by Marcus Coates 2004 and the work with pollen by Wolfgang Laib. Through the analysis of these works, the notion of spirituality is grounded in materiality and embodiment, allowing the conceptual juxtaposition of spirit and matter to introduce the paradoxical as the guiding thread of the narrative of the book. Here the human is interrogated and negotiated with within a plurality of other living organisms, intangible existences, and micro and macrocosmic ecologies. Silence, meditation, shamanic journeys, reciprocal gazing, restraint, and contemplation are analyzed as technologies used to manipulate perception and adventure into the multilayered condition of matter.

Fostering Values Education and Engaging Academic Freedom amidst Emerging Issues Related to COVID-19, 2023-11-20 This volume contributes to the advancement of comparative education in the world, more specifically in expanding understandings of the discourse of comparative education vis-à-vis educational transformation. Throughout the text, three critical elements that reflect comparative education as an open, inconclusive discourse come up: 1. There is sufficient pedagogical space for dissonance. It is always possible to compare one's own authenticity with the epistemological position others hold dear and argue for. 2. The contributions in this book should not be read as absolute pieces of writing, as that would undermine the flexible nature of education. It is important to point out that the opinions of the authors are temporary moments of attachment to persuasive claims. However, these claims are not cast in stone, as new views continue to emerge from epistemological re-positioning. 3. Our own reading of the book corroborates our interest in comparative education as a continuous discourse in the making. The contributions of scholars at the third symposium organized by WCCES provided a platform for them to pursue their knowledge interests. In addition, these interests have and will or ought never to be homogenous for that would be incommensurate with a defensible practice of comparative education.
