Politics of Agricultural Co-Operativism Tanya Korovkin, 2011-11-01 This book is a detailed analysis of the evolution of state sponsored agricultural co operativism in Peru an Andean country with high levels of land concentration and widespread rural poverty Most Peruvian agricultural co operatives were organized during the military populist government of Velasco Alvarado which after radical land reform transformed expropriated estates into co operatives From the start these projects became subject to multiple pressures that ranged from unfavourable government economic policies designed to promote import substitution industrialization at the expense of the agricultural sector to the growth of the co operative bureaucracy and the deterioration of labour discipline A shift toward market oriented economic strategies after the fall of the Velasco government aggravated the co operatives difficulties Stabilization programs implemented by Velasco s successor General Morales Bermudez and liberalization of the national economy by the civilian government of Belaunde Terry dealt a severe blow to Peru s co operative agriculture The ensuing crisis gave rise to political mobilization against the market oriented economic policies However the effectiveness of this movement was undermined by a trend toward dissolution of agricultural co operatives by many members who turned to individual private agriculture as a solution Korovkin examines not only the diverging responses of co operative members to the crisis but also the external policy related and internal organizational causes behind it The focus of this book is on the cotton growing sector that constituted the back bone of the state sponsored co operative movement in Peru The analysis of the national dynamic is complemented by case studies of three cotton estates converted into agricultural production co operatives One of these proved reasonably successful while the other two experienced serious economic difficulties looking for their solution in either political mobilization against the government s economic policies or in the shift to individual private agriculture The comparative analysis of their experiences provides valuable insights into the nature of organizational problems confronting Peru s co operative movement Korovkin also places the discussion of the Peruvian co operative experience in a broader historical and theoretical perspective focusing on the changing nature of social alliances and economic strategies during the populist and post populist periods

Land Reform in Small Island Developing States Karl John,2006-02 In recent times the spotlight of international media attention has often focused on problems which have their roots in the inequitable distribution of agricultural land still a characteristic of many developing countries For example media coverage of the social unrest that has beset Zimbabwe since the closing years of the twentieth century has been relentless Large plantations still exist in the Caribbean a legacy of the erstwhile economic importance of sugar to the region However on several islands the traditionally highly skewed pattern of land distribution has been successfully reformed in most cases without recourse to violence and confiscation in a revolutionary context In St Vincent the demise of the plantation and the emergence of an independent peasantry are attributable to a significant degree to public policy formulated and implemented over a period of one hundred years Karl John s study chronicles the historical course of these official interventions aimed at reforming the land tenure structure in this small island developing state The work pays particular attention to the motives for the policies and strategies adopted for land reform critically evaluates the planning and implementation of related programs and projects and assesses the role of prevailing economic social and political forces in both limiting and enabling their success Handbook of Latin American Studies ,1983 Contains records describing books book chapters articles and conference papers published in the field of Latin American studies Coverage includes relevant books as well as over 800 social science and 550 humanities journals and volumes of conference proceedings Most records include abstracts with evaluations Third World Peasants and Agrarian Change in the Twentieth Century ,1988 Freedom from Debt Jacques Gélinas,1998 This work deals with two issues the emancipation of the Third World from the debt system and the reappropriation of development by civil society through financial self reliance Handbook of Latin American Studies, Vol. 45 Dolores Moyano Martin,1985-03 International Agricultural Development Carl K.
