Der Gas Krieg 1914-1918:

The Chemical Weapons Taboo Richard M. Price, 2018-09-05 Richard M Price asks why among all the ominous technologies of weaponry throughout the history of warfare chemical weapons carry a special moral stigma Something more seems to be at work than the predictable resistance people have expressed to any new weaponry from the crossbow to nuclear bombs Perceptions of chemical warfare as particularly abhorrent have been successfully institutionalized in international proscriptions and Price suggests understanding the sources of this success might shed light on other efforts at arms control To explore the origins and meaning of the chemical weapons taboo Price presents a series of case studies from World War I through the Gulf War of 1990-1991 He traces the moral arguments against gas warfare from the Hague Conferences at the turn of the century through negotiations for the Chemical Weapons Convention of 1993 From the Italian invasion of Ethiopia to the war between Iran and Iraq chemical weapons have been condemned as the poor man's bomb Drawing upon insights from Michel Foucault to explain the role of moral norms in an international arena rarely sensitive to such pressures he focuses on the construction of and mutations in the refusal to condone chemical weapons

The Gas Mask in Interwar Germany Peter Thompson, 2023-05-25 Exploring the history of the gas mask in Germany from 1915 to the eve of the Second World War Peter Thompson traces how chemical weapons and protective technologies like the gas mask produced new relationships to danger risk management and mastery in the modern age of mass destruction Recounting the apocalyptic visions of chemical death that circulated in interwar Germany he argues that while everyday encounters with the gas mask tended to exacerbate fears the gas mask also came to symbolize debates about the development of military and chemical technologies in the Weimar Republic and the Third Reich He underscores how the gas mask was tied into the creation of an exclusionary national community under the Nazis and the altered perception of environmental danger in the second half of the twentieth century As this innovative new history shows chemical warfare and protection technologies came to represent poignant visions of the German future

One Hundred Years of Chemical Warfare: Research, Deployment, Consequences Bretislav Friedrich, Dieter Hoffmann, Jürgen Renn, Florian Schmaltz, Martin Wolf, 2017-11-26 This book is open access under a CC BY NC 2.5 license On April 22, 1915 the German military released 150 tons of chlorine gas at Ypres, Belgium Carried by a long-awaited wind the chlorine cloud passed within a few minutes through the British and French trenches leaving behind at least 1,000 dead and 4,000 injured This chemical attack which amounted to the first use of a weapon of mass destruction marks a turning point in world history The preparation as well as the execution of the gas attack was orchestrated by Fritz Haber the director of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Physical Chemistry and Electrochemistry in Berlin Dahlem During World War I Haber transformed his research institute into a center for the development of chemical weapons and of the means of protection against them Bretislav Friedrich and Martin Wolf Fritz Haber Institute of the Max Planck Society the successor institution of Haber's institute together with Dieter Hoffmann Jürgen Renn and Florian Schmaltz Max Planck Institute for the History of Science organized an international symposium to commemorate the centenary of the infamous chemical attack The symposium examined crucial facets of chemical warfare from the first research on and deployment of chemical weapons in WWI to the development and use of chemical warfare during the century hence The focus was on scientific ethical legal and political issues of chemical weapons research and deployment including the issue of dual use as well as the ongoing effort to control the possession of chemical weapons and to ultimately achieve their elimination The volume consists of papers presented at the symposium and supplemented by additional articles that together cover key aspects of chemical warfare from 22 April 1915 until the summer of 2015

The "German Spirit" in the Ottoman and Turkish Army, 1908-1938 Gerhard Grüßhaber, 2018-04-09 The study focuses on the mutual transfer of military knowledge between the German and the Ottoman Turkish army between the 1908 Young Turk revolution and the death of Atatürk in 1938 Whereas the Ottoman and later the Turkish army were the main beneficiaries of this selective appropriation the German armed forces evaluated their prospective ally's military experiences to a lesser extent Through the analysis of archival and published sources and memoir literature the study provides evidence for the impact of this exchange on the armies of both countries and on the Turkish civil society Indeed the officer corps in both countries was a small but influential group of the society for the further development of their nations

One Hundred Years at the Intersection of Chemistry and Physics Jeremiah James, Thomas Steinhauser, Dieter Hoffmann, Bretislav Friedrich, 2011-10-27 This volume occasioned by the centenary of the Fritz Haber Institute formerly the Institute for Physical Chemistry and Electrochemistry covers the institute's scientific and institutional history from its founding until the present

The institute was among the earliest established by the Kaiser Wilhelm Society and its inauguration was one of the first steps in the development of Berlin Dahlem into a center for scientific research. Its establishment was made possible by an endowment from Leopold Koppel granted on the condition that Fritz Haber, well known for his discovery of a method to synthesize ammonia from its elements, be made its director. The history of the institute has largely paralleled that of 20th century Germany. It undertook controversial weapons research during World War I followed by a Golden Era during the 1920s in spite of financial hardships. Under the National Socialists it experienced a purge of its scientific staff and a diversion of its research into the service of the new regime accompanied by a breakdown in its international relations. In the immediate aftermath of World War II it suffered crippling material losses from which it recovered slowly in the post war era. In 1953, shortly after taking the name of its founding director, the institute joined the fledgling Max Planck Society. During the 1950s and 60s the institute supported diverse researches into the structure of matter and electron microscopy in a territorially insular and politically precarious West Berlin. In subsequent decades as both Berlin and the Max Planck Society underwent significant changes, the institute reorganized around a board of coequal scientific directors and a renewed focus on the investigation of elementary processes on surfaces and interfaces, topics of research that had been central to the work of Fritz Haber and the first Golden Era of the institute.

"Worte machen gegen die Schändung des Geistes!" Nicole Billeter, 2005

Einige kriegsgegnerische Schriftsteller emigrierten während des Ersten Weltkrieges in die Schweiz, weil sie in ihrer Heimat weder Werke noch Gedanken frei öffentlich machen konnten. In der Schweiz fanden sie beschrankte Möglichkeiten gegen den Krieg zu schreiben. Diese Studie untersucht die vielfältigen Ansichten zum Krieg von sieben Autoren aus Frankreich, Deutschland und Österreich-Ungarn. Welche Standpunkte vertraten sie? Welche Veränderungen erfuhren diese Einschätzungen mit dem Fortschreiten des Krieges? Wie unterscheiden sich ihre Argumentationsweisen von den Kriegsbefürwortern? Einige Autoren wurden zur Zielscheibe der heimischen wie auch der gegnerischen Propaganda. Als Beispiel mag Romain Rolland mit seinem Au dessus de la mêlée dienen. Ist dieses Werk tatsächlich ein Paradebeispiel von Kriegsgegnerschaft? Warum wurde es von der französischen Zensur unterdrückt und auch in Deutschland kritisiert? Zur Beantwortung dieser Fragen dienen als Quellengrundlage alle Schriften, die von den sieben Autoren während der Zeit ihres Aufenthaltes in der Schweiz veröffentlicht wurden.

War and the Environment Charles E. Closmann, 2009

Eleven scholars explore among other topics the environmental ravages of trench warfare in World War I, the exploitation of Philippine forests for military purposes from the Spanish colonial period through 1945, William Tecumseh Sherman's scorched earth tactics during his 1864-65 March to the Sea, and the effects of wartime policy upon U.S. and German conservation practices during World War II.
