Derrida Modern Masters:

Jacques Derrida Zeynep Direk, Leonard Lawlor, 2002 These three volumes assemble the most important essays written on Jacques Derrida's philosophy since he became established in 1967 These volumes make well known essays easily available and also present many essays never translated in English Derrida Christopher Norris, 1987 Norris demonstrates that Derrida's texts should be understood more as philosophy than as literature He explains the position of Derrida's writing within the Western philosophical tradition and discusses some of the reasons for the massive institutional resistance that has so far prevented philosophers from engaging seriously with Derrida's work Cultural Semiosis Hugh J. Silverman, 1998 This volume traces the modern critical and performance history of this play one of Shakespeare's most loved and most performed comedies The essay focus on such modern concerns as feminism deconstruction textual theory and queer theory

Mitchell, Sam Slote, 2013-05-01 All of Derrida's texts on Joyce together under one cover in fresh new translations along with key essays covering the range of Derrida's engagement with Joyce's works Bringing together all of Jacques Derrida's writings on James Joyce this volume includes the first complete translation of his book Ulysses Gramophone Two Words for Joyce as well as the first translation of the essay The Night Watch In Ulysses Gramophone Derrida provides some of his most thorough reflections on affirmation and the yes the signature and the role of technological mediation in all of these areas In The Night Watch Derrida pursues his ruminations on writing in an explicitly feminist direction offering profound observations on the connection between writing and matricide Accompanying these texts are nine essays by leading scholars from across the humanities addressing Derrida's treatments of Joyce throughout his work and two remembrances of lectures devoted to Joyce that Derrida gave in 1982 and 1984 The volume concludes with photographs of Derrida from these two events Anthony Giddens Christopher G. A. Bryant, David Jary, 1997 Anthony Giddens has made original contributions to the fields of social theory political sociology the sociology of stratifications suicide This set includes carefully selected secondary articles which bring out the scope of his

Owens, 2005-08-04 A Handbook to Literary Research is a vital one of a kind student resource which has been written specifically for those embarking on a Masters degree in Literature It provides an introduction to research techniques methodologies and information sources relevant to the study of literature at postgraduate level The unique and invaluable guide is divided into four sections a practical guide to the uses of research libraries research sources and computers including the Internet an introduction to the work of textual scholars and bibliographers focusing particularly on the practical and theoretical issues faced by textual editors an overview of literary research and literary theory including outlines of feminist theory deconstruction reader response and reception theory new historicism and post colonial theory a detailed guide on how to write and present a Masters including a glossary and checklist for finding guides reference books and other study sources Complex Pleasure Stanley Corngold, 1998 Complex Pleasure deals with questions of literary feeling in eight major German writers Lessing Kant H Iderlin Nietzsche Musil Kafka Trakl and Benjamin On the basis of close readings of these authors Stanley Corngold makes vivid the following ideas that where there is literature there is complex pleasure that this pleasure is complex because it involves the impression of a disclosure that this thought is foremost in the minds of a number of canonical writers that important literary works in the German tradition fiction poetry critique can be illuminated through their treatment of literary feeling and finally that the conceptual terms for these forms of feeling continually vary The types of feeling treated in Complex Pleasure include wit the startling perception of likeness and the disinterested pleasure of aesthetic judgment H Iderlin s swift conceptual grasp in which the tempo of the process of thought is stressed artistic imagination mood sadistic enjoyment rapturous distraction homonymic dissonance and courage as a mode of literary experience At the same time through the deftness range and surprise of its execution the book itself conveys complex pleasure The reader will also find fascinating hitherto untranslated material by Nietzsche On Moods and Kafka important sections from his journals and from his unfinished novel The Boy Who Sank Out of Sight Derrida and Film Studies , 2025-10-02 Derrida and Film Studies views Jacques Derrida s in depth and meandering ideas within the realm of film Bringing together audiovisual culture and deconstruction the book explores the spectral turn of cinema Seeing the phenomenon of film as impacted by deconstruction and poststructuralism the essays offer a wide spectrum of perspectives and illustrate the reception of Derrida s thought for a new generation of philosophers of film Using both well known and pioneering methodologies this rich volume is an essential guide for understanding the importance of spectrality hieroglyphics writing and difference and alterity in film The Textual Sublime International Association for Philosophy and Literature. Meeting, 1990-01-01 This book addresses the question of deconstruction by asking what it is and discussing its alternatives To what extent does deconstruction derive from a philosophical stance and to what extent does it depend upon a set of strategies moves and rhetorical practices that result in criticism Special attention is given to the formulations offered by Jacques Derrida in relation to Heidegger s philosophy and by Paul de Man in relation to Kant s theory of the sublime and its implications for criticism And what in deconstructive terms does it mean to translate from one textual corpus into another Is it a matter of different theories of translation or of different practices And what of difference itself Does not difference already invoke the possibility of deconstruction s others Althusser Adorno and Deleuze are offered as exemplary cases The essays in this volume examine in detail these differences and alternatives The Textual Sublime is particularly concerned with how a text philosophical or literary sets its own limits borders and margins how it delimits what constitutes the text per se and how it invokes at the same time what is not determinately in the text The textual sublime is that aspect of a text that deconstruction shows to be both an element of the text and what surpasses the text what takes it outside itself in view of alternatives and alterities and what ties it to differing philosophical rhetorical historical and critical practices

Literary Theory and Criticism Patricia Waugh, 2006 This volume offers a comprehensive account of modern literary criticism presenting the field as part of an ongoing historical and intellectual tradition Featuring thirty nine specially commissioned chapters from an international team of esteemed contributors it fills a large gap in the market by combining the accessibility of single authored selections with a wide range of critical perspectives The volume is divided into four parts Part One covers the key philosophical and aesthetic origins of literary theory while Part Two discusses the foundational movements and thinkers in the first half of the twentieth century Part Three offers introductory overviews of the most important movements and thinkers in modern literary theory and Part Four looks at emergent trends and future directions

Life After Theory Michael Payne, 2004-07-01 Is there life after theory If the death of the Author has now been followed by the death of the Theorist what s left Indeed who s left To explore such riddles Life After Theory brings together new interviews with four theorists who are left each a major figure in their own right Jacques Derrida Frank Kermode Toril Moi and Christopher Norris Framed and introduced by Michael Payne and John Schad the interviews pursue a whole range of topics both familiar and unfamiliar Among other things Derrida Kermode Moi and Norris discuss being an outsider taking responsibility valuing books getting angry doing science listening to music remembering Empson rereading de Beauvoir being Jewish asking forgiveness smoking in libraries befriending the dead committing bigamy forgetting to forget thinking not thinking believing and being mad These four key thinkers explore why there is life after theory but not as we know it Jacques Derrida is Professor at the cole des Hautes tudes en Sciences Sociales in Paris He is the author of a range of extraordinarily influential works including Of Grammatology Writing and Difference and Dissemination Sir Frank Kermode is a former King Edward VII Professor of English Literature at the University of Cambridge and author of among many other books The Sense of An Ending Studies in the Theory of Fiction Shakespeare s Language and Not Entitled his memoirs Toril Moi is James B Duke Professor of Literature and Romance Studies at Duke University Her books include Sexual Textual Politics Feminist Literary Theory Simone de Beauvoir The Making of an Intellectual Woman and What Is a Woman And Other Essays Christopher Norris is Distinguished Research Professor in Philosophy at the University of Cardiff He has published

English Poetry Richard Machin, Christopher Norris, 1987-01-29 A selection of close readings of canonical English poems with a focus on ideas and debates in critical theory and literary history Horace Made New Charles Martindale, 1993 Collection of essays exploring Horace's place in English literature and culture Legislations Geoffrey Bennington, 1994-05-17 Written by Jacques Derrida's leading English language translator and collaborator this invigorating and intelligent volume displays the continuing power and versatility of deconstruction presenting it as the most important intellectual movement of our time Geoffrey Bennington develops a devastating critique of many attempts to clarify or criticize deconstructive thought and elaborates its potential through original readings of amongst others Rousseau Kant Hegel Freud De Man and Lyotard While he is principally concerned with a defence of deconstruction in fields where it has long since demonstrated its critical prowess Bennington also emphasizes its political dimension Deconstruction is a political thinking he argues because it entails an irreducible opening to alterity if only in the form of reading and this opening where the other always might arrive as an event on the frontier of my experience is a place for legislation The Taste of Ethnographic Things Paul Stoller, 2010-11-24

Anthropologists who have lost their senses write ethnographies that are often disconnected from the worlds they seek to portray For most anthropologists Stoller contends tasteless theories are more important than the savory sauces of ethnographic life That they have lost the smells sounds and tastes of the places they study is unfortunate for them for their subjects and for the discipline itself The Taste of Ethnographic Things describes how through long term participation in the lives of the Songhay of Niger Stoller eventually came to his senses Taken together the separate chapters speak to two important and integrated issues The first is methodological all the chapters demonstrate the rewards of long term study of a culture The second issue is how he became truer to the Songhay through increased sensual awareness
