Arm Scor James P. McWilliams, 1989 How the US Arms Embargo of 1977 has resulted in a powerful armaments industry in South Africa Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Political Economy of South Africa's Post-apartheid Transition Benjamin Fine, 2025-05-26 South Africa's post apartheid transition has proven disastrous It is marked by the emergence of a black elite of enriched capitalists out of the globalisation neoliberalisation and financialisation of the economy in general and of its Minerals Energy and Financial Complex in particular By contrast inequalities poverty and failing social provision have persisted Recent attention has shifted to how this disastrous trajectory was initiated some suggesting a lack of available alternative policy options at the time of transition This is shown to be false with a full range of progressive alternatives being rejected with corresponding consequences from state capture to electoral defeat

Disarmament and Defence Industrial Adjustment in South Africa Peter G. Batchelor, Susan Willett, 1998 Peter Batchelor and Susan Willett analyse the response of the South African defence industry to drastic cuts in military expenditure and the demilitarization of society since the end of the cold war and apartheid and the stabilization of the regional security situation The new ANC led government is seeking to use the resources released the peace dividend to restructure and revitalize the country's industrial base and to support reconstruction development and redistribution A lively debate on the country's security needs and strategic doctrine is under way As in other countries strategies of industrial diversification and conversion have met with limited success In the absence hitherto of any coherent government policy on defence industrial adjustment significant skills and technologies have been lost or wasted This book provides a historical analysis of South Africa's unique opportunity to develop new and innovative policies on defence and security matters the arms industry and arms exports and makes a valuable contribution to the international debate on the relationship between disarmament and development

Twentieth-Century South Africa Bill Freund, 2019 This unique history highlights South Africa's complex and dynamic attempt to build a developmental state an attempt that ultimately faltered Arms Industry Limited Herbert Wulf, 1993

Arms Industry Limited is an empirical account of the size and structure of the world arms industry with special case studies of the United States the former Soviet Union Canada countries in both Western and Central Europe and countries in the less developed world and in the Asia Pacific region The book describes the various strategies which arms producing companies have adopted in order to meet the challenges and commitments of the post cold war world Governments are in the process of restructuring national armed forces and revising military equipment procurement plans Military budgets are tighter in many parts of the world affecting national arms production and arms exports The most common company strategies are to reduce the size of the firm and lay off employees to mothball production facilities to transnationalize firms and to convert firms to non military production While there are counter pressures to a decrease in the production and export of arms in the future companies will probably have to reduce their production capacities and number of employees even further The strong international pressure on governments to regulate arms exports particularly since the 1991 Persian Gulf War is also examined by the international group of experts who have contributed the case studies in the volume

Peace Settlements and Political Transformation in Divided Societies Adrian Guelke,2022-10-03 Peace Settlements and Political Transformation in Divided Societies examines what happened to Northern Ireland and South Africa after their miraculous political settlements in the 1990s in which comparison between the two cases played a small but significant role The author extends the story by exploring the connections between these two deeply divided societies during the consolidation of their settlements He shows the ways in which their paths have subsequently diverged in both reality and perception At the outset of the transformation of the two polities the similarities between the two cases tended to be overstated In this context the book explains how the South African case came to be misidentified as an example of consociationalism and the influence that this has continued to exert on comparative studies of power sharing In the process other aspects of South Africa s political transformation including respect for the constitution and the rule of law have been overlooked and underappreciated In the case of Northern Ireland a missing element in the treatment of its settlement as a model for other deeply divided societies has been the role that external mediation played in the creation and survival of its institutions Northern Ireland s dependence on favourable external circumstances explains in large part why the Good Friday Agreement is now facing a threat to its survival By contrast South Africa s political institutions seem relatively secure despite the vast scale of the country s socio economic problems This book will be of interest to students researchers and scholars of conflict resolution and peace processes comparative politics ethnic politics and democratisation as well as those involved in the governance of deeply divided societies Patriots and Profiteers R.T. Naylor,2008-10-16 R T Naylor demonstrates that economic warfare fails almost everywhere it is attempted and that even when it succeeds it has consequences that are not only unintended but also frequently the precise opposite of their advertised result Apartheid Guns and Money Hennie van Vuuren,2019-03-01 This is an expos of the machinery created in defense of apartheid and the people who made this possible heads of states arms dealers aristocrats plutocrats senators bankers spies journalists and members of secret lobby groups Total Onslaught Paul Moorcraft,2018-08-30 The end of the Second World War may have heralded peace in Europe but conflicts in Southern Africa were about to begin The imperial powers were weakened by the cost of war and a string of wars challenged colonial rule in countries such as Namibia Angola and Rhodesia Once independence was achieved civil wars between rival factions unfamiliar with democratic principles resulted Liberation movements such as those in South Africa demanded self rule and end to Apartheid Tribal feuds corruption and the ambitions of dictators led to more conflicts such as the protracted fighting in the Congo These were wars that ran on until both sides were exhausted often only to be re kindled after short periods of uneasy peace The cost in human and material terms has been devastating and in too many cases remain so Economic development has been frustrated and the result is often poverty abuse and genocide The Author who knows Southern Africa as a native is superbly equipped to tell this fascinating if tragic record
