Tsakiridou,2016-05-13 Icons in Time Persons in Eternity presents a critical interdisciplinary examination of contemporary theological and philosophical studies of the Christian image and redefines this within the Orthodox tradition by exploring the ontological and aesthetic implications of Orthodox ascetic and mystical theology It finds Modernist interest in the aesthetic peculiarity of icons significant and essential for re evaluating their relationship to non representational art Drawing on classical Greek art criticism Byzantine ekphrasis and hymnography and the theologies of St Maximus the Confessor St Symeon the New Theologian and St Gregory Palamas the author argues that the ancient Greek concept of enargeia best conveys the expression of theophany and theosis in art The qualities that define enargeia inherent liveliness expressive autonomy and self subsisting form are identified in exemplary Greek and Russian icons and considered in the context of the hesychastic theology that lies at the heart of Orthodox Christianity An Orthodox aesthetics is thus outlined that recognizes the transcendent being of art and is open to dialogue with diverse pictorial and iconographic traditions An examination of Chinese Zen art theory and a comparison of icons with paintings by Wassily Kandinsky Pablo Picasso Mark Rothko and Marc Chagall and by Japanese artists influenced by Zen Buddhism reveal intriguing points of convergence and difference The reader will find in these pages reasons to reconcile Modernism with the Christian image and Orthodox tradition with creative form in art The Art of Maria Tomasula Soo Y. Kang,2022-11-15 Maria Tomasula's still life paintings are absolutely captivating dramatizing luscious objects of saturated colors and meticulous details through the spotlight effect against a dark backdrop Beyond their immediate appeal however the still lifes usually contain disturbing features such as flowers being sharply pierced by hooks and nails or isolated body parts such as bones and organs that seem to be fiercely alive Although the pictures are materialistically appealing due to the illusionistic style of the artist they lend themselves to a depth of iconography that has not been accounted for in previous writings on her art This book is the first comprehensive monograph on Tomasula b 1958 unraveling her complex iconography that is founded on her Mexican American heritage and Catholicism but also tracing the European still life tradition It shows that her paintings reflect her feminist and philosophical leanings influenced by various intellectuals including Baruch Spinoza Gilles Deleuze and the proponents of New Materialism Her still life converges the old with new interests it pays tribute to traditional Mexican and European motifs but also reflects ideas and mannerism that speak to the contemporary audience This research evidences the complexity of the Mexican American experience which merges divergent cultural and ideological perspectives from Latin America North America and Europe in varied ways for different and unique individuals

Victory on Earth or in Heaven Brian A. Stauffer,2019-12-01 This work reconstructs the history of Mexico's forgotten Religionero rebellion of 1873-1877, an armed Catholic challenge to the government of Sebastián Lerdo de Tejada. An essentially grassroots movement organized by indigenous Afro-Mexican and mestizo parishioners in Mexico's central-western Catholic heartland, the Religionero rebellion erupted in response to a series of anticlerical measures raised to constitutional status by the Lerdo government. These Laws of Reform decreed the full independence of Church and state, secularized marriage and burial practices, prohibited acts of public worship, and severely curtailed the Church's ability to own and administer property. A comprehensive reconstruction of the revolt and a critical reappraisal of its significance, this book places ordinary Catholics at the center of the story of Mexico's fragmented nineteenth-century secularization and Catholic revival.

Intersected Identities Erica Segre,2007 There has always been an important visual element to the construction and questioning of national identity in post-Independence Mexico, though one that has not always been given its due outside of the celebrated and much studied muralists. Ranging from the early nineteenth century to the present, from the vogue for the picturesque illustrated periodicals and the influential writings of Altamirano to a wealth of twentieth-century graphic artists, filmmakers, and photographers, this book re-examines the complex variety of ways in which that visual element has operated. In particular, it looks at the ways in which discourses concerning ethnicity and cultural hybridity have been echoed and transformed in Mexican visual culture, resulting in fields of visual discourse which are eclectic and increasingly self-reflexive.

Crossing Borders with the Santo Niño de Atocha Juan Javier Pescador,2022-10 In this thoroughly researched work, Juan Javier Pescador traces the history of popular devotion to the Santo Niño de Atocha, one of the most prominent religious figures for households between Zacatecas, Mexico, and Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The Embodied Eye David Morgan,2012-02-01 Exploring a dazzling variety of religious imagery, David Morgan shows how vision functions as an active physical process embedded in bodily experience and profoundly shaped by social practice. Morgan's bold, thoughtful interpretations will fascinate art historians and students of visual culture as well as historians of religion. Pepe Karmel, Department of Art History, New York University. The Embodied Eye is an important and truly groundbreaking book. It represents a substantive and quite fascinating extension of David Morgan's previous work, especially as it impressively shows us how seeing is the primary medium of social life and materially integrates the body of the individual and the body of the group. Morgan is unquestionably the pioneering theorist in the whole emergent field of Visual and Culture Studies, as it relates to religion and art. Norman Girardot, University Distinguished Professor, Lehigh University. Under David Morgan's inspiring guidance, readers are taken on a dazzling journey through religious images that mediate worlds of faith. Embedding vision in the body, this book stands out with its thought-provoking approach to religious media as material and embodied.
