Art As History Episodes In The Culture:

Art As History Peter Paret, Jewish Identity in Modern Art History Catherine M. Soussloff, 2023-04-28 In the first comprehensive study of Jewish identity and its meaning for the history of art eleven influential scholars illuminate the formative role of Jews as subjects of art historical discourse At the same time these essays introduce to art history an understanding of the place of cultural identity in the production of scholarship Contributors explore the meaning of Jewishness to writers and artists alike through such topics as exile iconoclasm and anti-Semitism Included are essays on Anselm Kiefer and Theodor Adorno the effects of the Enlightenment the rise of the nation state Nazi policies on art history the criticism of Meyer Schapiro Clement Greenberg and Aby Warburg the art of Judy Chicago Eleanor Antin and Morris Gottlieb and Jewish patronage of German Expressionist art Offering a new approach to the history of art in which the cultural identities of the makers and interpreters play a constitutive role this collection begins an important and overdue dialogue that will have a significant impact on the fields of art history Jewish studies and cultural studies In the first comprehensive study of Jewish identity and its meaning for the history of art eleven influential scholars illuminate the formative role of Jews as subjects of art historical discourse At the same time these essays introduce to art history 1999 Lectures and Memoirs British Academy, 2000 Volume 105 of the Proceedings of the British Academy contains 11 British Academy lectures and 15 obituaries of Fellows of the British Academy World War II, Film, and History John Whiteclay Chambers II, David Culbert, 1996-10-10 The immediacy and perceived truth of the visual image as well as film and television's ability to propel viewers back into the past place the genre of the historical film in a special category War films including antiwar films have established the prevailing public image of war in the twentieth century For American audiences the dominant image of trench warfare in World War I has been provided by feature films such as All Quiet on the Western Front and Paths of Glory The image of combat in the Second World War has been shaped by films like Sands of Iwo Jima and The Longest Day And despite claims for the alleged impact of widespread television coverage of the Vietnam War it is actually films such as Apocalypse Now and Platoon which have provided the most powerful images of what is seen as the reality of that much disputed conflict But to what degree does history written with lightning as Woodrow Wilson allegedly said represent the reality of the past To what extent is visual history an oversimplification or even a distortion of the past Exploring the relationship between moving images and the society and culture in which they were produced and received World War II Film and History addresses the power these images have had in determining our perception and memories of war Examining how the public memory of war in the twentieth century has often been created more by a manufactured past than a remembered one a leading group of historians discusses films dating from the early 1930s through the early 1990s created by filmmakers the world over from the United States and Germany to Japan and the former Soviet Union For example Freda Freiberg explains how the inter-racial melodramatic Japanese feature film China Nights in which a manly and protective

Japanese naval officer falls in love with a beautiful young Chinese street waif and molds her into a cultured submissive wife proved enormously popular with wartime Japanese and helped justify the invasion of China in the minds of many Japanese viewers Peter Paret assesses the historical accuracy of Kolberg as a depiction of an unsuccessful siege of that German city by a French Army in 1807 and explores how the film released by Hitler's regime in January 1945 explicitly called for civilian sacrifice and last ditch resistance Stephen Ambrose contrasts what we know about the historical reality of the Allied D Day landings in Normandy on June 6 1944 with the 1962 release of The Longest Day in which the major climactic moment in the film never happened at Normandy Alice Kessler Harris examines The Life and Times of Rosie the Riveter a 1982 film documentary about women defense workers on the American home front in World War II emphasizing the degree to which the documentary's engaging main characters and its message of the need for fair and equal treatment for women resonates with many contemporary viewers And Clement Alexander Price contrasts Men of Bronze William Miles's fine documentary about black American soldiers who fought in France in World War I with Liberators the controversial documentary by Miles and Nina Rosenblum which incorrectly claimed that African American troops liberated Holocaust survivors at Dachau in World War II In today's visually oriented world powerful images even images of images are circulated in an eternal cycle gaining increased acceptance through repetition History becomes an endless loop in which repeated images validate and reconfirm each other Based on archival materials many of which have become only recently available World War II Film and History offers an informative and a disturbing look at the complex relationship between national myths and filmic memory as well as the dangers of visual images being transformed into reality

Jacob Burckhardt and the Crisis of Modernity John Roderick Hinde, 2000 Jacob Burckhardt and the Crisis of Modernity the first major study in English dedicated entirely to Burckhardt offers a compelling and timely analysis of Burckhardt's challenge to the values and assumptions of modern society Unlike conventional accounts which characterize him as an apolitical aesthete John Hinde shows that Burckhardt was a thinker of profound importance whose conservative anti modernism ranks him with Friedrich Nietzsche Book jacket

Latin American Cultural Objects and Episodes William H. Beezley, 2020-12-30 Delight in the cultural aspects of Latin America by observing the objects that give life to history Latin American Cultural Objects and Episodes provides readers with an eclectic and fascinating exploration of Latin American history through the examination of physical objects Distinguished author and Professor William H Beezley takes readers on a journey that includes objects used music and visual media such as movies documentaries and television Forming an integral part of the history they represent the objects described in this book tell the tale of the little known or neglected part of Latin American history While most historical authors and researchers focus on the political and economic life of Latin America this author uses the objects he highlights to explain and illuminate the daily lives of the Latin American peoples and the legacies that they share Forming an essential part of a comprehensive understanding of Latin American history the book includes discussions and explorations of How objects have transformed and shaped the cultures of Latin America over the years Unusual and interesting objects serendipitously discovered by a variety of researchers and historians Ten chapters each beginning with an object acting as a synecdoche or metonym that introduces a discussion of Latin American historical life The significance of the objects to particular religious practices musical traditions or schools of visual media such as folk art film or television Perfect for anyone interested in Latin American life beyond politics and economics Latin American Cultural Objects and Episodes belongs on the bookshelves of everyone with a curiosity about culture in Latin America as it s revealed through physical objects

Franz Liszt Erika Quinn,2014-08-07 This biography of the musician Franz Liszt contributes to our understanding of national identity formation and its interaction with cosmopolitanism Liszt exemplified the nineteenth century quest for subjective definition and fulfillment Seeking to gain agency authority and community Liszt experimented with various subject positions from which to forward his goals The stances he selected anchored in ideas about nation religion and art allowed him to retain his cosmopolitan sensibility while making specific aesthetic and creative claims Quinn s analysis of Liszt s correspondence and musical criticism as well as of contemporary reviews of his performances compositions and essays demonstrates the lack of a nationalist exclusivity in Liszt s life was a historical phenomenon rather than a personal quirk as previous scholarship has often claimed

Keepers of Culture Howard Wayne Morgan,1989 The conflict between modern and traditional art is one of the best known episodes in American cultural history The modernists on the war in the sense that their styles and attitudes of mind dominated the discussion and production of new art But the traditionalists remained strong in the arenas of public opinion and taste It is a testament to the importance of the ideas involved that the basic issues are not yet settled in the larger cultural world Kenyon Cox a painter as well as critic revealed a steadfast devotion to the ideals of a high art tradition derived in his later years chiefly from admiration for the Italian Renaissance He knew western art history surveyed the current art scene in many reviews and analytical essays and wrote with careful attention to the canons of scholarship Royals Cartisoz the art editor of the New York Tribune for over fifty years was an appreciator and connoisseur His belief in beauty in a well done and recognizable form left him open to more innovation than was the case with Cox He based his views on a self confessed ideal of common sense that left the art experience open to any sensitive person He was well suited to speak to and for the growing middle class in the Progressive era This viewpoint was equally adaptable if more debatable intellectually when modernism triumphed The fact that he remained a significant figure in art circles long after his tastes ceased to be dominant testified to the nature of the audience for whom and to whom he spoke Frank Jewett Mather Jr was the most realistic of these critics in estimating how art appealed in society He knew a lot about many things and was concerned to see that the arts remained integrated in public esteem and thought Mather took comfort from the history of art which revealed to him that great works and their creators could survive time and criticism This sense of historical process and his great need for the unifying power of art experience let Mather escape the bitterness that so affected Cox and to a lesser extent Cortisoz as tastes changed The artist s mission was to maintain and extend forms of art that promoted order and integration in society and in individual personalities Society in turn had to see the artist as a harbinger of an intensified emotional life but which accommodated changed perception in constructive ways The chief fear of the traditionalists was that the new art which seemed shocking in form and disruptive in intent would separate artist and public to the detriment of both

In the Public Eye James Smith Allen, 2014-07-14 Robert Darnton Roger Chartier and others have written much on the history of reading in the Old Regime but this is the first broad study of reading to focus on the period after 1800 How and why did people understand texts as they did in modern France In answering this question James Allen moves easily from one interpretive framework to another and draws on a wide range of sources novels diaries censor reports critical reviews artistic images accounts of public and private readings and the letters that readers sent to authors about their books As he analyzes reading in the public eye the author explores the formation of interpretive communities during the years when reading silently and alone gradually became more common than reading aloud in a group In the Public Eye discusses printing publishing literacy schooling criticism and censorship to study the social cultural economic and political forces that shaped French interpretive practice Examining the art and act of reading by different audiences it discloses the mentalities of literate people for whom few other historical records exist The book will be essential reading for those interested in modern French history post structuralist literary theory and criticism reader response theory and criticism and social and intellectual history in general Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Later Byzantine Painting Robert S. Nelson, 2024-10-28 Written over nearly three decades the fifteen essays involve the three a s of the title art agency and appreciation The first refers to the general subject matter of the book Byzantine art chiefly painting of the twelfth through the fourteenth centuries the second to its often human like agency and the last to its historical reception Responding to different issues and perspectives that have animated art history and Byzantine studies in recent decades the essays have wide theoretical range from art historical formalism iconography archaeology and its manuscript equivalent codicology to statistics patronage narratology and the histories of science and collecting The series begins with art works themselves and with the imagery and iconography of church decoration and manuscript illumination shifts to the ways that objects act in the world and affect their beholders and concludes with more general appreciations of Byzantine art in case studies from the thirteenth century to the present

Philosophical Imagination and Cultural Memory Patricia Cook, 1993 Does philosophy have a future Postmodern thought with its rejection of claims to absolute truth or moral objectivity would seem to put the philosophical enterprise in jeopardy In this volume some of today's most influential thinkers face the question of philosophy's future and find an answer in its past Their efforts show how historical traditions are currently being appropriated by philosophy how some of the most provocative questions confronted by philosophers are given their impetus and direction by cultural memory Unlike analytic philosophy a discipline supposedly liberated from any manifestation of cultural memory the movement represented by these essays demonstrates how the inquiries narratives traditions and events of our cultural past can mediate some of the most interesting exercises of the present day philosophical imagination Attesting to the power of historical tradition to enhance and redirect the prospects of philosophy these essays exemplify a new mode of doing philosophy The product of a National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Institute in 1990 it is the task of this book to show that history can be reclaimed by philosophy and resurrected in postmodernity Contributors George Allan Eva T H Brann Arthur C Danto Lynn S Joy George L Kline George R Lucas Jr Alasdair MacIntyre Robert C Neville John Rickard Stanley Rosen J B Scheenwind Donald Phillip Verene

The Art of Art History Donald Preziosi, 1998 What is art history Why how and where did it originate and how have its aims and methods changed over time The history of art has been written and rewritten since classical antiquity Since the foundation of the modern discipline of art history in Germany in the late eighteenth century debates about art and its histories have intensified Historians philosophers psychologists and anthropologists among others have changed our notions of what art history has been is and might be This anthology is a guide to understanding art history through a critical reading of the field's most innovative and influential texts over the past two centuries Each section focuses on a key issue aesthetics style history as an art iconography and semiology gender modernity and postmodernity deconstruction and museology More than thirty readings from writers as diverse as Winckelmann Kant Gombrich Warburg Panofsky Heidegger Lisa Tickner Meyer Schapiro Jacques Derrida Mary Kelly Michel Foucault Rosalind Krauss Louis Marin Margaret Iversen and Nestor Canclini are brought together and Donald Preziosi's introductions to each topic provide background information bibliographies and critical elucidations of the issues at stake His own concluding essay is an important and original contribution to scholarship in the field From the pre publication reviews

Until now anthologies about the history of art have tended to be worthy yet inert plotting a linear evolution from the great precursors Vasari Winckelmann to the founding fathers of the modern discipline Wolfflin Riegl Panofsky to the achievements and refinements of today's scholarship The texts that Donald Preziosi has brought together provide something far more challenging the juxtapositions and alignments between individual essays point the reader towards unresolved problems ongoing debates and paths not taken or not taken yet In place of the consoling tale of intellectual progress the collection defamiliarizes the whole field and opens up a space for radical reflection on its basic procedures and assumptions Definitely the best introduction to art history currently available Professor Norman Bryson Harvard University Donald Preziosi has prepared an anthology from the Greek a collection of flowers of art history His bouquet contains representatives from the discipline's two hundred year history arranged in standard and innovative methodological categories Within each the readings selected provide stimulating congruencies and contradictions that will inspire productive debate and contemplation But what makes this anthology more than an arresting assemblage is the author's critical stance toward what he has wrought His introduction and concluding chapter write around and under the subjects presented emphasizing the art of art history its kinship with modernity's post Enlightenment project and its collaboration with the rise of nationalism Thus the discipline's past is probed and questioned and made relevant for its present and future The whole thereby addresses without healing or concealing the disciplinary ruptures of modernism The book might also have explored further nature of art history's history within the emergent discourse of post colonialism and the globalization of culture Yet the many new perspectives it does offer help to re present the discipline for its readers students teachers and curators for other areas of humanistic inquiry which are being subject to similar critiques and for artists and the larger art community for whom history narrative and an accounting of art's past have once again become vital issues Professor Robert S Nelson Professor of Art History and Chair Committee for the History of Culture University of Chicago Rather than focusing on its Vasarian moment or on the later academic institutionalization of art history in the 19th and 20th centuries Donald Preziosi in The Art of Art History constructs a reading of this hegemonic and reductive practice of making the visible legible as one that is inextricably tied to the museographic paradigm of late 18th and early 19th centuries This shift he sees as equivalent in importance to the brought by the invention of perspective But the author goes further than to underline the implication of art history with the premises of modernity he makes a strong case in a vivid and inspiring prose for a tighter equation between art history and modernity an equation grounded in his insightful considerations and meteoric formulations of the epistemological setting rhetorical operations political colonialist aims and schizophrenic yet all invasive aestheticization of knowledge that in the last two centuries have fashioned what we will no longer dare to call the discipline of art history The result is a flamboyant book that offers anything but a celebratory reading of art history It does not constitute an articulation of canonical texts or an up to date menu of art historical currents methods or trends Yet it manages to avoid none of these dimensions Art history is not envisaged as the learned discourse of modernity on a specific class of objects nor is it reduced to a genealogy of outstanding artist subjects and their volatile constellations of contemporary subjects readers It becomes a practice wherein objects and subjects relate and relations often crystallize under the unrecognized aegis of the fetish this Other of art since Preziosi concisely defines art as the anti fetish fetish Far from the fantastic neutrality that is traditionally found in the format of such an historiographic endeavour Preziosi frames his selection of text and threads through them with an array of different strategic voices superimposed to stress a spatial figure he is keen to discern in order to elaborate a strong polemic position that situates art history as an enduring and well disguised fictional genre In the process the author courageously takes on the paradox that is at the core of his project to introduce students to the coming out of art history as art one that is not necessarily meant to be our coming out of it but that certainly well establishes our motives to continue to shake its grounds and its multi storied apparatus Professor Johanne Lamoureux University of Montreal The Culture of Spontaneity Daniel Belgrad, 1999-10 In the first comprehensive history of the postwar avant garde Belgrad contributes valuable insight and original scholarship to the study of projective and spontaneous aesthetics among cutting edge art movements of the American midcentury Tom Clark author of Jack Kerouac A Biography 8 color plates 28 halftones Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved Cultural Leadership in Transition Tourism Elena Borin, Mara Cerquetti, Marta Crispí, Judith Urbano, 2022-10-05 Cultural tourism has proved to be a significant source of economic development for cultural destinations but it has also emerged as a sometimes potentially controversial and unsustainable phenomenon The recent pandemic has also pointed out that we need different models of development of tourism that include a more balanced approach to cultural components in cities and rural areas Calls have been made on the need to design more sustainable models of tourism development for cultural destinations conceiving tourism as a means to increasing the quality of life and generating economic opportunities in cities and regions by involving their communities and stakeholders This book presents an in depth analysis of the transition towards more sustainable models of cultural tourism development Starting from the ongoing debate on cultural ecosystems the book explores the potential key role of cultural and creative organizations as leaders of change Including theoretical contributions quantitative and qualitative analyses and international case studies the book explores the role of cultural actors as leaders and their potential as drivers of culture led innovation for tourism in cities and regions
