Kim, 2007 This in depth study on preaching to second generation Korean Americans the first of its kind is based on empirical and ethnographic fieldwork Matthew D Kim conducted surveys and semi structured qualitative interviews with Korean American pastors and second generation young adult respondents in three geographic regions of the United States the Midwest the West Coast and the East Coast His primary conceptual framework employs social psychologists Hazel Markus and Paula Nurius theory of possible selves to facilitate the process of congregational exegesis in the second generation Korean American church context This book offers a new contextual homiletic model that enables Korean American preachers to engage in deeper levels of ethnic and cultural analysis in their sermonic preparation Simultaneously the author reconstructs conventional preaching roles of Korean American preachers and second generation listeners so that they may co creatively imagine new possible selves that radically advance Christian mission and practice in the world This book will serve as a primary or secondary source for upper level undergraduate graduate and postgraduate courses on preaching communication studies ethnic and racial studies cross cultural ministry or social psychology McMaster Journal of Theology and Ministry: Volume 18, 2016-2017 David J. Christensen, 2023-05-26 I am a pastor I preach Doesn t that make me a pastoral preacher Not necessarily Many preach missional rather than pastoral sermons designed to appeal to the unchurched not the churched The popularity of regional churches and the global reach of the internet allow preachers to focus their sermons on people they do not know and market a message to an audience they never see Evangelical leaders produce many resources on attractional preaching but who is developing a vision for pastoral preaching David Christensen draws on years of experience to develop a philosophy of pastoral preaching He writes Social media changes the way we preach More and more pastors are preaching clickbait sermons. These are sermons designed to get clicks or attract interest rather than teach truth We want catchy titles and clever analogies that will grab people s attention because the digital world is built on attention whatever will get likes or drive outrage However pastoral preaching builds community It is rooted in local soil to the people we know in the place we live We need a philosophy of preaching that

Expository Preaching in a World of Spiritual Nominalism R. T. Johnson Raih, 2021-10-06 The spiritual decay of nominalism threatens the established church worldwide While spiritual lethargy is often addressed from the perspective of theology and discipleship little attention has been given to the role of homiletics in revitalizing a congregation s spiritual health In this study Dr Johnson Raih explores the impact of preaching on members of Baptist churches in Imphal Manipur India from 2000 to 2015 He utilizes interviews and questionnaires from pastors church leaders and lay members to assess the presence of nominalism within church congregations along with the effects of various preaching methods on increasing or decreasing spiritual vitality Combining this qualitative research with scriptural and theological insight Raih suggests that expository preaching has the power to confront and even eradicate nominalism within the church He draws on biblical examples along with the methodology of John Stott and Timothy Keller to offer ten practical recommendations for countering nominalism homiletically whether in Imphal India or around the world

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009 The Art and Craft of Biblical Preaching Haddon Robinson, Craig Brian Larson, 2023-12-19 The most complete practical encyclopedia on the practice of preaching from over a hundred respected communicators of Christian truth edited by Haddon Robinson and Craig Brian Larson using significant resources from the ministries of Christianity Today International Using Illustrations to Preach with Power (Revised Edition) Bryan Chapell, 2001-04-04 If the apostle Paul had not punctuated his words with images of the armor of God or the racecourse would we so easily remember his instruction The march on Washington might have become nothing more than a ragged hike across a majestic mall if Martin Luther King Jr had not led us through a dream and onto a mountaintop Such is the power of illustrations They contain a hidden dynamic of living that captures our attention and furthers our understanding in a way that no other sermonic tool can match Can they be overused and their purpose abused Yes and by many they are But to eliminate them completely would be unwise maintains Bryan Chapell Instead he responds to those concerns by reviewing the theory behind illustrations sharing why they re important and demonstrating how you can use them effectively in your biblical preaching This book clearly affirms that illustrations are integral to powerful preaching not because they entertain but because they expand and deepen applications in the lives of your listeners They infuse your words with life without comprising the message making the truth of the Word ring clearly in people's hearts long after your sermon is done
