Arkheologicheskie Otkrytiia 2003 Goda:

Women Archaeologists under Communism, 1917-1989 Florin Curta, Iurie Stamati, 2021-11-27 This book explores the uncharted territory of the history of archaeology under Communism through the biographies of five women archaeologists from the Soviet Union Bulgaria Romania Hungary and Poland They were working in medieval archaeology with a specific focus on the early Slavs The choice of specialists in medieval archaeology has much to do with the fact that in the five East European countries considered in this book medieval archaeology began to develop into a serious discipline less than a century ago The main catalyst for the sudden rise of medieval archaeology was a dramatic shift in emphasis from traditional political and constitutional to social and economic history In five countries the rise of medieval archaeology thus coincides in time and was ultimately caused by the imposition of Communist regimes The five women were therefore true pioneers in their field and respective countries

The Long Sixth Century in Eastern Europe Florin Curta, 2021-05-12 In The Long Sixth Century in Eastern Europe Florin Curta offers a social and economic history of East Central South Eastern and Eastern Europe during the 6th and 7th centuries It challenges the current model of transition from Antiquity to the early Middle Ages on the basis of an interpretation of the written sources but especially of an enormous amount of archaeological evidence accumulated in the last 50 years or so It deals with societies in close contact with the Roman world as well with those located very far from it It addresses questions of property subsistence crafts trade and social change

The Region of the Upper Msta River in the Early Middle Ages Inna Isanova, 2021-02-01 This is a book about the archaeological sites of the 5th to 8th century of the Volga Baltic watershed in the forest zone of Eastern Europe The region has long been known for burial assemblages of the so called culture of the Pskov long barrows but the book brings to light a different group of sites The population living on those sites co existed with those who buried their dead under the Pskov long barrows but within a different landscape This polarity suggests that the local population was behind the culture of Pskov long barrows while the new category of site point to immigrants from the southwest The book suggests that the new archaeological sites were inhabited by a Slavic speaking population from the periphery of the Kiev and Kolochin cultures

The Bulgars and the Steppe Empire in the Early Middle Ages Tsvetelin Stepanov, 2010-02-15 This book is about Steppe Eurasia and China Persia Byzantium as well as the Inside and Outside Other This dual approach helps the reader to better understand the attitudes of the Steppe to both the southern sedentary empires in this book the Outside Other and to the women and shamans magicians within the nomadic confederations in this book the Inside Other in the so called Golden Age of the Steppe Empire e g between the sixth and ninth tenth centuries The result is a new and vivid picture of the Steppe s attitudes to otherness and usness The book covers not only a long period of time but also a vast territory from Mongolia to the Black Sea and South Eastern Europe It studies many peoples and societies and their images of the Other interpreted through different approaches and methodologies

Bulletin of the Asia Institute ,2003 Slavs in the Making Florin Curta,2020-09-28 Slavs in the Making takes a fresh look at archaeological evidence from parts of Slavic speaking Europe north of the Lower Danube including the present day territories of the Czech Republic Slovakia Poland Belarus Ukraine and Russia Nothing is known about what the inhabitants of those remote lands called themselves during the sixth century or whether they spoke a Slavic language The book engages critically with the archaeological evidence from these regions and questions its association with the Slavs that has often been taken for granted It also deals with the linguistic evidence primarily names of rivers and other bodies of water that has been used to identify the primordial homeland of the Slavs and from which their migration towards the Lower Danube is believed to have started It is precisely in this area that sociolinguistics can offer a serious alternative to the language tree model currently favoured in linguistic paleontology The question of how best to explain the spread of Slavic remains a controversial issue This book attempts to provide an answer and not just a critique of the method of linguistic paleontology upon which the theory of the Slavic migration and homeland relies The book proposes a model of interpretation that builds upon the idea that Common Slavic cannot possibly be the result of Slavic migration It addresses the question of migration in the archaeology of early medieval Eastern Europe and makes a strong case for a more nuanced interpretation of the archaeological evidence of mobility It will appeal to scholars and students interested in medieval history migration and the history of Eastern and Central Europe The Northern Black Sea in Antiquity Valeriya Kozlovskaya,2017-07-03 The Northern Black Sea region despite its distance from the centers of classical civilizations played an integral role in the socioeconomic life of the ancient Greco Roman world The chapters in this book written by experts on the region explore topics such as the trade religion political culture art and architecture and the local non Greek populations from the foundation of the first Greek colonies on the North Pontic shores at the end of the seventh and sixth century BCE through the first centuries of the Roman imperial period This volume closely examines relevant categories of archaeological material including amphorae architectural remains funerary and dedicatory monuments inscriptions and burial complexes Geographically it encompasses the coastal territories of modern Russia and Ukraine The Northern Black Sea in Antiquity embraces an inclusive and comparative approach while discussing new archaeological evidence offering fresh insights into familiar questions and presenting original interpretations of well known artifacts
