A History of Archaeological Thought Bruce G. Trigger,1989 Bruce Trigger s new book is the first ever to examine the history of archaeology from medieval times to the present in world wide perspective At once stimulating and even handed it places the development of archaeological thought and theory throughout within a broad social and intellectual framework The successive but interacting trends apparent in archaeological thought are defined and the author seeks to determine the extent to which these trends were a reflection of the personal and collective interests of archaeologists as these relate in the West at least to the fluctuating fortunes of the middle classes While subjective influences have been powerful Professor Trigger argues that the gradual accumulation of archaeological data has exercised a growing constraint on interpretation In turn this has increased the objectivity of archaeological research and enhanced its value for understanding the entire span of human history and the human condition in general

Understanding the Archaeological Record Gavin Lucas,2012-02-06 This book

explores the diverse understandings of the archaeological record in both historical and contemporary perspective while also serving as a guide to reassessing current views Gavin Lucas argues that archaeological theory has become both too fragmented and disconnected from the particular nature of archaeological evidence The book examines three ways of understanding the archaeological record as historical sources through formation theory and as material culture then reveals ways to connect these three domains through a reconsideration of archaeological entities and archaeological practice Ultimately Lucas calls for a rethinking of the nature of the archaeological record and the kind of history and narratives written from it Archaeology, Artifacts and Antiquities of the Ancient Near East Oscar White Muscarella, 2013-06-15

Archaeology Artifacts and Antiquities of the Ancient Near East follows the evolution of the author's scholarly work and interests and is divided into several categories of interrelated fields The first part deals primarily with excavations and associated artifacts issues in ancient geography and the identification of ancient sites in northwest Iran the author's research involving the culture and chronology of the Phrygian capital at Gordion in Anatolia and the chronology and Iranian cultural relations of a site in the Emirate of Sharjah Part two is wide ranging and includes chapters on Aegean and ancient Near Eastern cultural and political interconnections the role of fibulae in revealing cultural and chronological matters and the gender determined usage of parasols and their recognition in excavated contexts There are also articles specifically concerned with Plunder Culture and the forgery of both objects and their alleged proveniences At 1 088 pages this volume provides a wonderful sample chosen by Muscarella himself of forty papers spanning the author's career and many interests This volume is so rich that it contains something for everyone D T Potts NYU Bibliotheca Orientalis lxxIII n 3 4 mei augustus 2016
