Document Based Assessment World History Connections To Today:

World History: Connections to Today Elisabeth Gaynor Ellis, Pearson/Prentice Hall, 2003-12 Document-Based Assessment Activities Marc Pioch, Jodene Smith, 2020-03-02 Today's students need to know how to evaluate sources and use evidence to support their conclusions. This K-12 resource for teachers provides instructional support as well as a variety of learning opportunities for students. Through the activities in this book, students will ask and answer compelling questions, analyze primary sources, approach learning through an inquiry lens, and hone their historical thinking skills. The lessons teach skills and strategies for analyzing historical documents, partnered with document-based assessments. Graphic organizer templates help students structure their analyses. This resource, written by Marc Pioch and Jodene Smith, prepares students for standardized tests and engages students with inquiry. The scaffolded approach to teaching analysis skills can be applied across grades K-12. World History: Connections to Today Prentice Hall (School Division), Document-Based Assessment Activities Cynthia Boyle, Blane Conklin, Kathleen Vest, 2009-07-15 Take students beyond textbook history to explore various people and events from ancient Egypt through the 20th Century using primary sources. Students will develop critical thinking and essay writing skills as they analyze the various documents, including photographs, posters, letters, maps, and more. Multiple social studies topics are included for grades K, 3, 4, 8, and 9-12. This resource includes engaging digital resources and is aligned to College and Career Readiness and other state standards. Prentice Hall World History Prentice-Hall, Inc., 2003 Document-based Assessment Activities for U.S. History Classes Kenneth Hilton, 1999 Covers significant eras in U.S. history. The author provides over 90 primary sources organized into seven thematic units, each structured around an essential question from world history. As students analyze carefully excerpted documents, including speeches by queens and rebels, ancient artifacts, and social media posts, they build an understanding of how diverse historical figures have approached key issues. At the same time, students learn to participate in civic debates and develop their own views on what it means to be a 21st-century citizen of the world. Each unit connects to current events with dynamic classroom activities that make history come alive. In addition to the documents themselves, this teaching manual provides strategies to assess student learning, mini-lectures designed to introduce documents, activities, and reproducibles to help students process, display, and integrate their learning, guidance to help teachers create their own units, guidelines for respectful student debate and discussion, and more. Book Features: A timely aid for secondary school teachers tasked with meeting standards and other state level quality requirements An approach that promotes student engagement and critical thinking to replace or augment a traditional textbook Challenges to the master narrative of world history from figures like Queen Nzinga and Huda Sha arawi as well as traditionally recognized historical figures such as Pericles and Napoleon Essential questions to help students explore seven of the most important recurring themes in world history Role plays and debates to promote interaction among students Printable copies of the documents included in the book can be downloaded at tcpress.com
