Doctrine Of Immortality In The Odes Of S:

Clairvoyant Wordsworth Robert B. Zimmer,2002-04 It is almost universally accepted that William Wordsworth never took seriously the idea of pre existence or life before birth In this study Robert Zimmer shows that this is an unjustifiable presumption Evidence from Wordsworth s Ode Intimations of Immortality from Recollections of Early Childhood from The Prelude and from the Essay Upon Epitaphs shows that Wordsworth firmly believed in pre existence Nor was this an idea he adopted out of curiosity or for its poetic utility Wordsworth like Henry Vaughan and Thomas Traherne remembered life before birth and retained a kind of clairvoyance in his infancy As Zimmer shows it is only because of the religious and philosophical prejudices of critics since Coleridge that Wordsworth s recollections have seldom been properly recognized for what they are

A Biocultural Approach to Literary Theory and Interpretation Nancy Easterlin,2012-05-31 Combining cognitive and evolutionary research with traditional humanist methods Nancy Easterlin demonstrates how a biocultural perspective in theory and criticism opens up new possibilities for literary interpretation Easterlin maintains that the practice of literary interpretation is still of central intellectual and social value Taking an open yet judicious approach she argues however that literary interpretation stands to gain dramatically from a fair minded and creative application of cognitive and evolutionary research This work does just that expounding a biocultural method that charts a middle course between overly reductive approaches to literature and traditionalists who see the sciences as a threat to the humanities Easterlin develops her biocultural method by comparing it to four major subfields within literary studies new historicism ecocriticism cognitive approaches and evolutionary approaches After a thorough review of each subfield she reconsiders them in light of relevant research in cognitive and evolutionary psychology and provides a textual analysis of literary works from the romantic era to the present including William Wordsworth s Simon Lee and the Lucy poems Mary Robinson s Old Barnard Samuel Taylor Coleridge s Dejection An Ode D H Lawrence s The Fox Jean Rhys s Wide Sargasso Sea and Raymond Carver s I Could See the Smallest Things A Biocultural Approach to Literary Theory and Interpretation offers a fresh and reasoned approach to literary studies that at once preserves the central importance that interpretation plays in the humanities and embraces the exciting developments of the cognitive sciences

Theology in the English poets Stopford Augustus Brooke,1891

The Mind of a Poet Raymond Dexter Havens,2020-03-24 This book seeks to study the mind of a poet specifically by picking William Wordsworth as a case study The reason for signaling out Wordsworth as the person in whom to study the mind of a poet is that The Prelude reveals with unusual fullness a mind that is fundamentally poetic Even its peculiarities its numerous limitations and its unusual emphases are in the main those of a poet Besides poetry not as with many other writers religious or social problems humanitarianism science politics economics metaphysics or literary criticism was the chief concern of his creative years Further the sheer amount of verse criticism letters and journals Wordsworth produced makes him an excellent choice for a study of this kind

Religious Doctrines and their Influence on Entrepreneurship James O. Fiet,2023-11-25 This book explores how religious doctrines influence launching a new venture It examines 16 Christian denominations and 9 world religions and how they would reasonably be expected to apply more than 20 distinct doctrines each to entrepreneurship It is not an examination of doctrinal veracity because adherents have confidence in their beliefs Rather it examines how they will evaluate the attractiveness of entrepreneurship through the lenses of their beliefs assuming they receive what they expect More than 100 years ago Max Weber pitted Protestantism against Hinduism in a single hypothesis The current study is a multifactorial examination that covers the world s major religions as well as most of their doctrines It is the first comprehensive examination of how entrepreneurs view the world through the lenses of their religious doctrines which represent the formalization of their most deeply held beliefs The New Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge ,1964 Theory and Practice in the Eighteenth Century Alexander Dick,2015-10-06 Brings together scholars who use literary interpretation and discourse analysis to read 18th century British philosophy in its historical context This work analyses how the philosophers of the Enlightenment viewed their writing and how their institutional positions as teachers and writers influenced their understanding of human consciousness The New Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge Samuel Macauley Jackson,Lefferts Augustine Loetscher,1949 Dictionnaire D'archéologie Chrétienne Et de Liturgie, Publié Par Le R. Lewis,2019-09-12

Myth Locality and Identity argues that Pindar engages in a striking innovative style of mythmaking that represents and shapes Sicilian identities in his epinician odes for Sicilian victors in the fifth century BCE. While Sicily has been thought to be lacking in local traditions for Pindar to celebrate, Lewis argues that the Sicilian odes offer examples of the formation of local traditions: the monster Typho, whom Zeus defeated to become king of the gods, for example, now lives beneath Mt. Aetna; Persephone receives the island of Sicily as a gift from Zeus; and the Peloponnesian river Alpheos travels to Syracuse in pursuit of the local spring nymph Arethusa. By weaving regional and Panhellenic myth into the local landscape, as the book shows, Pindar infuses physical places with meaning and thereby contextualizes people, cities, and their rulers within a wider Greek framework. During this time period, Greek Sicily experienced a unique set of political circumstances: the inhabitants were continuously being displaced, cities were founded and resettled, and political leaders rose and fell from power in rapid succession. This book offers the first sustained analysis of myth in Pindar's odes for Sicilian victors across the island, that accounts for their shared context. The nodes of myth and place that Pindar fuses in this poetry reinforce and develop a sense of place and community for citizens locally; at the same time, they raise the profile of physical sites and the cities attached to them for larger audiences across the Greek world. In addition to providing new readings of Pindaric odes and offering a model for the formation of Sicilian identities in the first half of the fifth century, the book contributes new insights into current debates on the relationship between myth and place in classical literature.

Teaching Literary Theory Using Film Adaptations Kathleen L. Brown, 2009-03-12. This volume introduces ways to use film to ease the difficulty of introducing complex literary theories to students. By coupling works of literature with attendant films and with critical essays, the author provides instructors with accessible avenues for encouraging classroom discussion. Literary theories covered in depth are psychoanalytic criticism, The Awakening and film adaptations, The End of August and Grand Isle, cultural criticism, A Streetcar Named Desire and its 1951 film version, and thematic criticism, Ode: Intimations of Immortality from Recollections of Early Childhood and the film adaptation Splendor in the Grass. Other theories are used to clarify and support those referred to above. The work then includes a survey of the image patterns into which film adaptation theories can be grouped and how these theories relate to traditional literary theory.

The Worlds of Classical Chinese Aesthetics Paul R. Goldin, 2024-03-12. This book presents the foundations of classical Chinese aesthetic discourse roughly from the Bronze Age to the early Middle Ages, with the following animating questions: What is art? Why do we produce it? How do we judge it? The arts that garnered the most theoretical attention during this time period were music, poetry, calligraphy, and painting, and this book considers the reasons why these four were privileged. Whereas modern artists most likely consider themselves musicians or poets or calligraphers or painters or sculptors or architects, the pre-modern authors who produced the literature that established Chinese aesthetics prided themselves on being wenren—cultured people conversant with all forms of art and learning. Other comparisons with Western theories and works of art are presented at due junctures.

Key Features: Addresses Chinese

aesthetic discourse on its own terms Provides comparisons of key concepts and theories with examples from Western sources Includes more coverage of primary sources than any other English language book on the subject Each chapter opens with a helpful summary highlighting the chapter s key themes Catalogue of the Library of the Society of Writers to the Signet: in Four Parts Thomas M. Ruderman, 2016-04-28 This book radically refigures the conceptual and formal significance of childhood in nineteenth century English poetry By theorizing infancy as a poetics as well as a space of continual beginning Ruderman shows how it allowed poets access to inchoate uncanny and mutable forms of subjectivity and art While recent historicist studies have documented the freshness of experience childhood confers on 19th century poetry and culture this book draws on new formalist and psychoanalytic perspectives to rethink familiar concepts such as immortality the sublime and the death drive as well as forms and genres such as the pastoral the ode and the ballad Ruderman establishes that infancy emerges as a unique structure of feeling simultaneously with new theories of lyric poetry at the end of the eighteenth century He then explores the intertwining of poetic experimentation and infancy in Wordsworth Anna Barbauld Blake Coleridge Erasmus Darwin Sara Coleridge Shelley Matthew Arnold Tennyson and Augusta Webster Each chapter addresses and analyzes a specific moment in a writers work moments of tenderness or mourning birth or death physical or mental illness when infancy is analogized eulogized or theorized Moving between canonical and archival materials and combining textual and inter textual reading metrical and prosodic analysis and post Freudian psychoanalytic theory the book shows how poetic engagements with infancy anticipate psychoanalytic and phenomenological i e modern ways of being in the world Ultimately Ruderman suggests that it is not so much that we return to infancy as that infancy returns obsessively compulsively in us This book shows how by tracking changing attitudes towards the idea of infancy one might also map the emotional political and aesthetic terrain of nineteenth century culture It will be of interest to scholars in the areas of British romanticism and Victorianism as well as 19th century American literature and culture histories of childhood and representations of the child from art historical cultural studies and literary perspectives D B Ruderman s The Idea of Infancy in Nineteenth Century British Poetry Romanticism Subjectivity Form is an interesting contribution to this field and it manages to bring a new perspective to our understanding of Romantic era and Victorian representations of infancy and childhood a supremely exciting book that will be a key work for generations of readers of nineteenth century poetry Isobel Armstrong Birkbeck University of London Victorian Studies 59 4 The Bookseller ,1912 Official organ of the book trade of the United Kingdom
