Allen, 2024 An exploration of the diverse lived experiences of marginality in Scottish society from the sixteen to the eighteenth century Throughout the early modern period Scottish society was constructed around an expectation of social conformity people were required to operate within a relatively narrow range of acceptable identities and behaviours Those who did not conform to this idealised standard or who were in some fundamental way different from the prescribed norm were met with suspicion Such individuals often attracted both criticism and discrimination forcing them to live confined to the social margins Focusing on a range of marginalised groups including the poor migrants ethnic minorities indentured workers and women the contributors to this book explore what it was like to live at the boundaries of social acceptability what mechanisms were involved in policing the divide between mainstream and marginal and what opportunities existed for personal or collective fulfilment The result is a fresh perspective on early modern Scotland one that not only recovers the stories of people long excluded from historical discussion but also offers a deeper understanding of the ordering assumptions of society more generally Specific topics addressed range from the marginalisation of people with disabilities in the domestic sphere to female sex workers and the place of executioners in society On Discomfort David Ellison, Andrew Leach, 2016-10-14 Examining discomfort s physical emotional conceptual psychological and aesthetic dimensions the contributors to this volume offer an alternate cultural approach to the study of architecture and the built environment By attending to a series of disparate instances in which architecture and discomfort intersect On Discomfort offers a fresh reading of the negotiations that define architecture s position in modern culture The essays do not chart comfort s triumph so much as discomfort s curious dispersal into practices that form modern life and what that dispersion reveals of both architecture and culture The essays presented in this volume illuminate the material culture of discomfort as it accrues to architecture and its history This episodic analysis speaks to a range of disciplinary fields and interdisciplinary subjects extending our understanding of the domestication of interiors and objects cities and ideas and the conditions under which by intention or accident they discomfort Caritas Katie Barclay, 2021 This book explores caritas the idea of neighbourly love as a key ethic that shaped how early modern people lived loved and thought about the self Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1991 The Compact Edition of the Oxford English Dictionary Sir James Augustus Henry Murray, 1971 Micrographic reproduction of the 13 volume Oxford English dictionary published in 1933 Divorce in Scotland 1684-1832 L.
