NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY San Francisco Chronicle Newsweek The Daily Beast The Seattle Times The Economist Kansas City Star BookPage On February 14 1989 Valentine s Day Salman Rushdie was telephoned by a BBC journalist and told that he had been sentenced to death by the Ayatollah Khomeini For the first time he heard the word fatwa His crime To have written a novel called The Satanic Verses which was accused of being against Islam the Prophet and the Quran So begins the extraordinary story of how a writer was forced underground moving from house to house with the constant presence of an armed police protection team He was asked to choose an alias that the police could call him by He thought of writers he loved and combinations of their names then it came to him Conrad and Chekhov Joseph Anton How do a writer and his family live with the threat of murder for more than nine years How does he go on working How does he fall in and out of love How does despair shape his thoughts and actions how and why does he stumble how does he learn to fight back In this remarkable memoir Rushdie tells that story for the first time the story of one of the crucial battles in our time for freedom of speech He talks about the sometimes grim sometimes comic realities of living with armed policemen and of the close bonds he formed with his protectors of his struggle for support and understanding from governments intelligence chiefs publishers journalists and fellow writers and of how he regained his freedom It is a book of exceptional frankness and honesty compelling provocative moving and of vital importance Because what happened to Salman Rushdie was the first act of a drama that is still unfolding somewhere in the world every day Praise for Joseph Anton A harrowing deeply felt and revealing document an autobiographical mirror of the big philosophical preoccupations that have animated Mr Rushdie s

work throughout his career Michiko Kakutani The New York Times A splendid book the finest memoir to cross my desk in many a year Jonathan Yardley The Washington Post Thoughtful and astute an important book USA Today Compelling affecting demonstrates Mr Rushdie s ability as a stylist and storyteller He reacted with great bravery and even heroism The Wall Street Journal Gripping moving and entertaining nothing like it has ever been written The Independent UK A thriller an epic a political essay a love story an ode to liberty Le Point France Action packed in a literary class by itself Like Isherwood Rushdie s eye is a camera lens firmly placed in one perspective and never out of focus Los Angeles Review of Books Unflinchingly honest an engrossing exciting revealing and often shocking book de Volkskrant The Netherlands One of the best memoirs you may ever read DNA India Extraordinary Joseph Anton beautifully modulates between moments of accidental hilarity and the higher purpose Rushdie saw in opposing at all costs any curtailment on a writer s freedom The Boston Globe □□□ Ferial J. Ghazoul,2005 Covering the multi faceted career of Edward Said with emphasis on his critical contribution to decolonization and resistance to hegemony this book includes articles exploring in depth of Said s political critical and aesthetic positions including his views on the Palestinian question and exile on Orientalism and representation and more The Intellectual and the People in Egyptian Literature and Culture Ayman A. El-Desouky,2014-11-13 The Intellectual and the People in Egyptian Literature and Culture uses the notion of am ra the Egyptian concept of collective and connective agency to explore the relationship between the Egyptian intellectual and the people in contemporary Egyptian literature and culture Violent Beginnings Lucie Knight-Santos,2014-10-24 From a colonial campaign that was envisioned by France as the redemption of its Algerian children through Western civilization to Algerian Independence that was lived by both parties as a bloody divorce recent Algerian history has been imagined and represented in terms of the family Prominent authors such as Kateb Yacine and Mouloud Mammeri pondered their own fate during the War of Independence as the mixed children of a failed colonial marriage Contemporary postcolonial authors such as Rachid Boudjedra Yasmina Salah and Arezki Mellal have filled their narratives with orphaned children searching for ideal parents as a civil war ripped Algeria apart in the 1990s Violent Beginnings Literary Representations of Postcolonial Algeria explores how violence during the War of Independence 1954 1962 to the more recent civil war 1991 2002 has shaped literary representations of both family and nation in contemporary literature For example discussions of the struggle for independence in Assia Djebar s La femme sans s culture and Ahlam Mostaghanemi s Memory of the Flesh represent sexual torture associated with this earlier war period as having a negative impact on victims ability to have children and contribute to the development of the Algerian nation Texts examining the more recent civil war such as Rachid Boudjedra s La vie l endroit and Yasmina Salah s Glass Nation establish a link between the earlier violence of the independence struggle and contemporary events Additionally these texts proceed to demonstrate how violence has shaped familial and national structures more specifically causing distorted familial bonds and political chaos in contemporary Algerian society □□□□

Ferial Ghazoul, 2001 This issue of Alif explores the lyrical drive in its myriad manifestations its formal presence in poems epics and songs and its informal dissemination in narratives philosophy painting calligraphy music and even in broken and discarded objects The issue covers many languages and touches on a variety of cultures Mesopotamian Nile Valley Greco Roman South African and North African English and Irish Greek and French American and Arabic Persian and Turkish Urdu and German Beside academic articles this issue includes creative essays poetry and art all combine to analyze or embody the lyrical impulse

Ferial Ghazoul, 2002 Autobiography is a protean genre it covers so many forms and styles When narrating one's life the narrator has to choose what he or she considers to be relevant and decisive Beside the differences on what is fundamental in a life the notion of the Self is culturally defined and thus varies from one place to another The author of an autobiographical text may express only a fragment of his or her life follow a thread in the trajectory through reminiscences memoir diaries testimony interview letters poems etc The author may declare openly that he or she is identical with the protagonist or may give the principal character a different name or no name The author may depict private or public events at times taking imaginative license or even including fantastic motifs Autobiographical discourse is not only culturally conditioned it is also symptomatic of the cultural moment Thus it is important to explore the varieties of self presentation and not assume a fixed paradigm In this revisionist spirit that looks for different and alternative ways of recording one's life Alif presents the autobiographical drive in multiple contexts ancient and contemporary Egyptian nineteenth century and twentieth century Arab Moroccan and Iraqi South African and West African Canadian and American Palestinian and Sudanese English and Irish and even that of a hybrid background Chinese American and Algerian French There has been a tremendous surge in autobiographical writing in recent years and the field has been redefined by literary and cultural critics From James Olney ed Autobiography Essays Theoretical and Critical 1980 to Dwight Reynolds ed Interpreting the Self Autobiography in the Arabic Literary Tradition 2001 a range of works have appeared challenging established views and approaches on the subject of autobiography The epigraphs whose English translation is drawn from the works mentioned above attest to the complexity and diversity of motivations in writing about one's past life

Fictional Traces: Receptions of the Ancient Novel Volume 2 Marília Futre Pinheiro, S. J. Harrison, 2011 The study of the reception of the ancient novel and of its literary and cultural heritage is one of the most appealing issues in the story of this literary genre In no other genre has the vitality of classical tradition manifested itself in such a lasting and versatile manner as in the novel However this unifying centripetal quality also worked in an opposite direction spreading to and contaminating future literatures Over the centuries from Antiquity to the present time there have been many authors who drew inspiration from the Greek and Roman novels or used them as models from Cervantes to Shakespeare Sydney or Racine not to mention the profound influence these texts exercised on for instance sixteenth to eighteenth century Italian Portuguese and Spanish literature Volume I is divided into sections that follow a chronological order while Volume II deals with the reception of the ancient novel in literature and art The first volume brings together an international group of scholars whose main aim is to analyse the survival of the ancient novel in the ancient world and in the Middle Ages in the Renaissance in the 17th and 18th centuries and in the modern era The contributors to the second volume have undertaken the task of discussing the survival of the ancient novel in the visual arts in literature and in the performative arts The papers assembled in these two volumes on reception are at the forefront of scholarship in the field and will stimulate scholarly research on the ancient novel and its influence over the centuries up to modern times thus enriching not only Classics but also modern languages and literatures cultural history literary theory and comparative literature

Ajami texts of the Muridiyya works largely unknown to scholars The texts describe the life and Sufi odyssey of the order's founder Shaykh Ahmadu Bamba Mbakke 1853 1927 his conflicts with local rulers and Muslim clerics and the French colonial administration and the traditions and teachings he championed that permanently shaped the identity and behaviors of his followers Fallou Ngom evaluates prevailing representations of the Muridiyya movement and offers alternative perspectives He demonstrates how the Murids used their written recited and chanted Ajami materials as an effective mass communication tool in conveying to the masses Bamba's poignant odyssey doctrine the virtues he stood for and cultivated among his followers self esteem self reliance strong faith work ethic pursuit of excellence determination nonviolence and optimism in the face of adversity without the knowledge of the French colonial administration and many academics Muslims beyond the Arab World argues that this is the source of the resilience appeal and expansion of Muridiyya which has fascinated observers since its inception in 1883 Contemporary Arab Thought Ibrahim M.
