Alexandras Ecstasy:

Desire's Bride Teresa Howard,1992-11-01 SHE VOWED TO RESIST HIS CHARM When Kathlyn McKinney saw Brad Hampton her heart immediately began to race Eleven years after that fateful summer he was as dashing handsome as ever but this time she wouldn't be taken in by him Desire had made her reckless once long ago but she was no longer an innocent girl who could be fooled by a Southern gentleman's easy charm Still not even the bitterness of his betrayal could extinguish Kathlyn's memory of the sweet rapture she'd known with Brad And she couldn't ignore her own treacherous yearning for the warmth of his strong embrace and the tender magic of his kiss HE VOWED TO CLAIM HER LOVE When Brad saw Kathlyn again he found that the years had erased neither his pain at her faithlessness nor his need to make her his own Honor required that he now help the violet-eyed beauty who had been left alone and defenseless by the war Yet how could he protect her if she refused to trust him With the urgency of long simmering passion Brad swore no one would harm his lovely Southern belle He had to keep her safe at least until he could tempt her into offering him the fiery kisses and caresses he well remembered and surrendering with him to the ecstasy of desires too long denied The Voyage Perilous Susan J. Rosowski,2001-01-01 They Voyage Perilous is the first extended interpretation of Willa Cather's writing within the literary tradition of romanticism Although she partook of the familiar subjects and themes of the Wordsworthian school of romanticism Cather was not nearly so concerned with what we see as how we see Her intensely individual perspective more creatively romantic than has been previously recognized gave her work its own kind of elegant form Susan J Rosowski argues that Willa Cather early took up the romantic challenge to vindicate imaginative thought in a world threatened by materialism then pursued it with remarkable consistency throughout her career The early essays and stories set out the terms of this life long commitment In the early novels Cather celebrates imaginative possibilities in the middle ones she presents increasingly desperate circumstances asking what is left when the imagination is eclipsed by commercial values in the late novels she writes in a Gothic mode the dark counterspirit to optimistic romanticism The book is organized chronologically with a chapter devoted to each novel The chapters can be read independently or as part of a unified argument providing a larger picture Savage Conquest Janelle Taylor,2011-10-24 KISS OF THE NIGHT WIND WHISPERED KISSES FOLLOW THE WIND Janelle Taylor's magnificent historical romances sing with breathtaking adventure and enthralling romance With SAVAGE CONQUEST she continues her beloved SAVAGE ECSTASY series with the tempestuous tale of Miranda Lawrence the beautiful great granddaughter of Gray Eagle and Alisha and her passion for an Indian brave Savage Conquest There was no Virginia belle more irresistible than ebon-haired Miranda Lawrence Through the willful beauty had her pick of handsome beaux she felt a wild need deep within her for the kind man she'd never meet in polite society Heeding the call of her destiny Miranda stole away from her plantation home back to the land of her mother's people But when she found the passion she sought in the arms of a handsome Indian Miranda had to make a final choice between the life she'd left behind and the future that would give her his love Such Good Neighbours Margaret Bingley, 2019-05-06 Newly married husband Mike could not understand why his pretty young wife Kirsten preferred the less habitable house of the two adjacent homes that the estate agent offered them But Kirsten was afraid of the other house in spite of the excellent condition it was in so Mike very much in love pandered to her inexplicable whim Kirsten's fears were not groundless although by the time she and Mike realised the extent of the difficulties they found themselves in it was too late for both of them The house next door was bought by another couple Justin and Alexandra Blair At first they seemed an ordinary pair although Mike thought that Alexandra was quite the most beautiful woman he had ever seen But as Kirsten got to know them better she realised that they were not the same as other people and that they were capable of achieving feats of extraordinary power When Justin offered to change Kirsten's life by helping her to conceive the child she thought she would never be able to have she seized the opportunity gratefully and tried to ignore the fact that she was entering into a contract with the devil Catalog of Copyright Entries, 1919

Alexandra Gripenberg's "A Half Year in the New World" Ernest J. Moyne, 1970-06 One of the most important foreign visitors to the United States during the last half of the nineteenth century was Baroness Alexandra Gripenberg In 1888 she was a delegate to the international women's congress in Washington D C This volume is about her travels and experiences in the new world The Ecstasies of St. Francis John Haule, 2004-07 The Great Initiates encompasses long centuries of human existence and reflects our great search the greatest search of all the quest for the spirit This book describes the motivations behind external history the growth of religious striving the rise and fall of cultures and indicates their importance for us today It reflects the lives and deeds of human beings of extraordinary stature Rama Krishna Hermes Moses Orpheus Pythagoras Plato and Jesus In these pages one witnesses spiritual adventure of a depth and intensity rarely experienced by creative human beings even in their most exalted moments This excitement of discovery which breathes through The Great Initiates may well explain its continuing popularity after over a century Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1971 Temptation's Fire Millie Criswell, 1992 An irresistible tale of western passion from a bright new star on the romantic horizon Romantic Times When an outlaw's bold and beautiful daughter meets up with a U S Marshal she can't deny the dangerous desire she feels The Green Breast of the New World Louise H. Westling, 1996 In searching American literary landscapes for what they can reveal about our attitudes toward nature and gender The Green Breast of the New World considers symbolic landscapes in twentieth century American fiction the characters who inhabit those landscapes and the gendered traditions that can influence the figuration of both of these fictional elements In this century says Louise H Westling American literary responses to landscape and nature have been characterized by a puzzling mix of eroticism and misogyny celebration and mourning and reverence and disregard Focusing on problems of gender conflict and imperialist nostalgia The Green Breast of the New World addresses this ambivalence Westling begins with a deep history of literary landscapes looking back to the archaic Mediterranean Mesopotamian traditions that frame European and American symbolic figurations of humans in the land Drawing on sources as ancient as the Sumerian Hymns to Innana and the Epic of Gilgamesh she reveals a tradition of male heroic identity grounded in an antagonistic attitude toward the feminized earth and nature This identity recently has been used to mask a violent destruction of wilderness and indigenous peoples in the fictions of progress that have shaped our culture Examining the midwestern landscapes of Willa Cather's Jim Burden and Ernest Hemingway's Nick Adams and the Mississippi Delta of William Faulkner's Thomas Sutpen and Isaac McCaslin and Eudora Welty's plantation families and small town dwellers Westling shows that these characters all participate in a cultural habit of gendering the landscape as female and then excusing their mistreatment of it by retreating into a nostalgia that erases their real motives displaces responsibility and takes refuge in attitudes of self pitying adoration

Captive to His Kiss Paige Brantley, 1992 To avoid a forced marriage to the Duke of Burgundy headstrong heiress Madeleine de Moncelet attempts to flee her bodyguard and finds more than protection in the arms of this strong and handsome knight

Bad Land Pastoralism in Great Plains Fiction Matthew J. C. Cella, 2010-04-15 At the core of this nuanced book is the question that ecocritics have been debating for decades what is the relationship between aesthetics and activism between art and community By using a pastoral lens to examine ten fictional narratives that chronicle the dialogue between human culture and nonhuman nature on the Great Plains Matthew Cella explores literary treatments of a succession of abrupt cultural transitions from the Euroamerican conquest of the Indian wilderness in the nineteenth century to the Buffalo Commons phenomenon in the twentieth By charting the shifting meaning of land use and biocultural change in the region he posits this bad land the arid West as a crucible for the development of the human imagination Each chapter deals closely with two novels that chronicle the same crisis within the Plains community Cella highlights for example how Willa Cather reconciles her persistent romanticism with a growing disillusionment about the future of rural Nebraska how Tillie Olsen and Frederick Manfred approach the tragedy of the Dust Bowl with strikingly similar visions and how Annie Proulx and Thomas King use the return of the buffalo as the centerpiece of a revised mythology of the Plains as a palimpsest defined by layers of change and response By illuminating these fictional quests for wholeness on the Great Plains Cella leads us to understand the intricate interdependency of people and the places they inhabit Cella uses the term pastoralism in its broadest sense to mean a mode of thinking that probes the relationship between nature and culture a discourse concerned with human engagement material and nonmaterial with the nonhuman community In all ten novels discussed in this book pastoral experience the encounter with the Beautiful leads to a renewed understanding of the integral connection between human and nonhuman communities Propelling this tradition of bad land pastoralism are an underlying faith in the beauty of wholeness that comes from inhabiting a continuously changing biocultural landscape and a recognition of the inevitability of change The power of story and language to shape the direction of that change gives literary pastoralism the potential to support an alternative series of ideals based not on escape but on stewardship community
