Crash Cinema Will Godfrey, Jill Good, Mark Goodall, 2009-10-02 Crash Cinema Representation in Film is a collection of essays that emerged from Crash Cinema an annual symposium that is an integral part of the Bradford Film Festival at the National Media Museum UK The symposium was created by academics and curators who share the common aim of promoting the importance of film both as an academic study and for critical public appreciation Films can be enjoyed as entertainment they can educate and inform and they can excite and disturb Films are powerful pieces of culture The films that we now consume do more than simply amuse or horrify Cinema not only thrills us but also communicates to us about ourselves and in the twentieth and twenty first century moving images have become the dominant form of this communication Bombarded by images we inhabit a media intensive world in which every aspect of life is pervaded by visual signs In these circumstances it becomes increasingly significant to engage with the politics of representation Through this vital process we can acknowledge that all cultural forms whether in high art or the mass media are in the broadest sense political We can also appreciate that it is a complex agenda of interests that shapes specific ideological meanings Fulsomely equipped we can apply this essential tool to the exciting task of decoding the political social and cultural meanings articulated through the making promotion and consumption of film This book aims to offer an arena for the analysis of these representations Representations cannot depict the truth and the essays in this book do not claim to search for the truth We ask whose truth is being represented how is it represented and why is it represented like that We also ask how do representations tell us something about the culture within which they are created Yet the essays in this volume are not stuck in the representational concerns of the past and try instead to uncover the power of cinema to shock and surprise whether that be through visceral impact subversive content experiments with identity or the exploration of the taboo Representation as defined by the eleven essays in this book is a fluid and dynamic approach to the study of film The study of film to which this book contributes some unique case studies is as popular as ever and has withstood growing challenge from the new media such as CG Animations the internet and computer console and online gaming This is because the pleasure of film is still the most humanistic and because the sophistication of the representations offered by cinematic expression remain ever more complex and pleasurable to decipher This book can therefore be read by any student academic writer or filmmaker hooked on these delights

Female Action Heroes Gladys L. Knight, 2010-06-08 This book offers 25 profiles of some of the most popular female action heroes throughout the history of film, television, comic books, and video games. Female action heroes, like other fictional characters, not only reveal a lot about society but greatly influence individuals in society. It is no surprise that the gradual development and increase in the number of female action heroes coincides with societal changes and social movements such as feminism. Nor is it a surprise that characteristics of female action heroes echo the progressive toughening of women and young girls in the media. Female Action Heroes: A Guide to Women in Comics, Video Games, Film, and Television brings to the forefront the historical representation of women and girls in film, television, comic books, and video games. The book includes profiles of 25 of the most popular female action heroes arranged in alphabetical order for easy reference. Each chapter includes sections on the hero's origins, her power, suit, weapons, abilities, and the villains with whom she grapples. Most significantly, each profile offers an analysis of the hero's story and her impact on popular culture.

Spectacular Bodies Yvonne Tasker, 2012-10-02 While films such as Rambo, Thelma and Louise, and Basic Instinct have operated as major points of cultural reference in recent years, popular action cinema remains neglected within contemporary film criticism. Spectacular Bodies unravels the complexities and pleasures of a genre often dismissed as obvious in both its pleasure and its politics, arguing that these controversial films should be analysed and understood within a cinematic as well as a political context. Yvonne Tasker argues that today's action cinema not only responds to the shifts in gendered sexual and racial identities which took place during the 1980s but reflects the influences of other media such as the new video culture. Her detailed discussion of the homoeroticism surrounding the muscleman hero, the symbolic centrality of blackness within the crime narrative, and the changing status of women within the genre addresses the constitution of these identities through the shifting categories of gender, class, race, sex, sexuality, and nation. Spectacular Bodies also examines the ambivalence of supposedly secure categories of popular cinema, questioning the existing terms of film criticism in this area and addressing the complex pleasures of this neglected form.

Fundamental Feminism Judith Grant, 2013-09-13 In Fundamental Feminism, Judith Grant explores the evolution of feminist theory as well as the state of today's feminist thought. Pointing to the main problems within feminism, Grant calls for a substantial revision of the core concepts responsible for shaping today's feminist theory. Grant identifies and critiques three core concepts in feminist theory: woman, experience, and personal politics, from their origins in pamphlets and writings in the early women's liberation movement to their current construction in feminist thought. She connects a number of key debates in feminism today to the longstanding influence of these core assumptions. These debates include the hegemony of the white female perspective, the tension between anti-pornography and pro-sex feminists, and the challenges presented by postmodernism. Fundamental Feminism is provocative reading for anyone interested in the future of feminist theory and the power of feminist politics

The Byronic Hero in Film, Fiction, and Television Atara Stein,2009-06-30 The Byronic Hero in Film Fiction and Television bridges nineteenth and twentieth century studies in pursuit of an ambitious antisocial arrogant and aggressively individualistic mode of hero from his inception in Byron's Manfred, Childe Harold and Cain through his incarnations as the protagonists of Westerns, action films, space odysseys, vampire novels, neo-Gothic comics and sci-fi television. Such a hero exhibits supernatural abilities, adherence to a personal moral code, ineptitude at human interaction, muddled even further by self-absorbed egotism and an ingrained defiance of oppressive authority. He is typically an outlaw, most certainly an outcast or outsider, and more often than not, he is a he. Given his superhuman status, this hero offers no potential for sympathetic identification from his audience. At best, he provides an outlet for vicarious expressions of power and independence. While audiences may not seek to emulate the Byronic hero, Stein notes that he desires to emulate them. Recent texts plot to rehumanize the hero or to voice through him approbation and admiration of ordinary human values and experiences. Tracing the influence of Lord Byron's Manfred as outcast hero on a pantheon of his contemporary progenies, including characters from Pale Rider, Unforgiven, The Terminator, Alien, The Crow, Sandman, Star Trek: The Next Generation, and Angel, Atara Stein tempers her academic acumen with the insights of a devoted aficionado in this first comprehensive study of the Romantic hero type and his modern kindred. Atara Stein was a professor of English at California State University, Fullerton. Her articles on the development of the Byronic hero have appeared in Popular Culture Review, Romantic Circles Praxis Series, Genders, and Philological Quarterly. The Cinematic Life of the Gene, Jackie Stacey, 2010-04-02. A leading feminist film theorist argues that the cinema animates the tropes of and enacts our fears about cloning and other kinds of genetic engineering.
