Globalizing Citizenship Kim Rygiel, 2011-01-01 The events of 9 11 exposed and enhanced tensions between global capitalism and the nation state Governments struggle more than ever to govern populations and manage cross border traffic without building new barriers to trade and commerce What does citizenship mean in this context Is it in crisis Kim Rygiel explores these questions by examining border and detention policies in the United States the United Kingdom Canada and Australia as part of a larger politics of citizenship that preceded 9 11 Building on Foucault s concept of biopolitics she argues that citizenship is becoming a globalizing regime to govern mobility as nations harmonize border and detention policies outsource state functions to international organizations and private companies and rely on technologies of governing to discipline the body The new mobility regime is not only deepening boundaries based on race class and gender it is causing Western nations to embrace a more technocratic depoliticized understanding of citizenship

The Gospel of John Frederick Dale Bruner, 2012-02-22 The author of a much loved two volume Matthew commentary 1990 that he greatly revised and expanded fourteen years later Frederick Dale Bruner now offers The Gospel of John A Commentary more rich fruit of his lifetime of study and teaching Rather than relying primarily on recent scholarship Bruner honors and draws from the church s major John commentators throughout history including Augustine Chrysostom Aquinas Luther Calvin Bultmann Barrett and many more Alongside this historical interpretation is Bruner s own contemporary interpretation which incorporates a lucid translation of the text references to recent scholarship and his pastoral application of the Gospel to present day experience Like Bruner s other work this commentary is rich in biblical insights broadly historical and deeply theological Here is what Eugene Peterson said about Bruner s earlier work on Matthew This is the kind of commentary I most want a theological wrestling with Scripture

Frederick Dale Bruner grapples with the text not only as a technical exegete although he does that very well but as a church theologian caring passionately about what these words tell us about God and ourselves His Matthew commentary is in the grand traditions of Augustine Calvin and Luther expansive and leisurely loving the text the people in it and the Christians who read it The same could well be said about the present John commentary which promises to be another invaluable resource for pastors teachers and laypeople alike
