Balancing Rocks Environment Development In Zimbabwe:

Balancing Rocks Carlos Lopes,1996 Balancing Rocks tackles the environment issues affecting Zimbabwe their consequences and solutions The book is the first empirical attempt to assess Zimbabwe s environmental linkages to development with the intention of reviewing policy for the future It is a useful tool for all those interested in a discussion that goes beyond narrow academic or political agendas and who understand that environment and development are fragile balancing rocks

Gender and Land Reform Allison Goebel,2005 Land reform in Zimbabwe has been dominated by mass occupations government seizures of farms owned by whites and redistribution that favours the elite and war veterans Gender and Land Reform considers the interests of poor women who have been marginalized within the land reform process BOOK JACKET

Killing for Conservation Rosaleen Duffy,2000 Wildlife conservation policy is often discussed within the broader debates of sustainable development The case study of Zimbabwe illustrates how the politically controversial policy agenda of wildlife utilization is part of the wider realm of global environmental politics Is African wildlife under threat from African people Large scale poaching feeds an international demand for ivory and rhino horn Is there a conflict between the ideologies of preservation and conservation Preservation is concerned with protecting a habitat from any use conservation allows for managed use Are conservation strategies politically neutral The way that wildlife issues are presented masks the inherently political nature of conservation policy making at the local national and international levels Does Campfire live up to its reputation Does Zimbabwe s much vaunted community based Campfire programme which permits animal culling profits to be used for community development live up to its reputation ROSALEEN DUFFY is Lecturer in Politics at Lancaster UniversityBR Published in association with the International African Institute North America Indiana University Press Zimbabwe Weaver Press

Africa at a Crossroads Savious Mutanga,Thokozani Simelane,Munyaradzi Mujuru,2018-05-16 This book is a compilation of selected papers presented during the 8th Africa Institute of South Africa AISA Young Graduates and Scholars AYGS Conference held at the University of Johannesburg in the year 2014 The three day conference dubbed Africa at a Crossroads Future prospects for Africa after 50 years of the Organisation of African Unity African Union voiced young graduates and scholars views on Africa s future and developmental breakthroughs as well as its challenges and opportunities While the annual conference is a capacity building platform for young scientists it provided a platform for participants to engage in critical dialogue about the African realities and possible plausible and desirable future for the continent The book thus provides a critical interrogation of the drivers of change in Africa moving forward especially as the AU was busy churning out new ideas and mapping out a new vision for the next 50 years Essentially the book provides insights on national systems of innovation matrices on poverty climate change and lastly a reflection on Africa s position in global governance

Urban Development in Asia and Africa Yuji Murayama,Courage Kamusoko,Akio Yamashita,Ronald C. Estoque,2017-03-29

This book examines the urban growth trends and patterns of various rapidly growing metropolitan regions in developing Asian and African nations from the perspective of geography. State of the art geospatial tools and techniques including geographic information system science and remote sensing were used to facilitate the analysis. In addition to the empirical results, the methodological approaches employed and discussed in this book showcase the potential of geospatial analysis e.g. land change modeling for improving our understanding of the trends and patterns of urban growth in Asia and Africa. Furthermore, given the complexity of the urban growth process across the world, issues raised in this book will contribute to the improvement of future geospatial analysis of urban growth in the developing regions. This book is written for researchers, academicians, practitioners, and graduate students. The inclusion of the origin and brief history of each of the selected metropolitan regions, including the analysis of their urban primacy, spatiotemporal patterns of urban land use changes, driving forces of urban development, and implications for future sustainable development, makes the book an important reference for various related studies.

Africa Environment Outlook, 2002. This first edition of the Africa Environment Outlook AEO report is a significant milestone in the collaboration between UNEP and the African Ministerial Conference on the Environment (AMCEN). Africa faces a number of critical challenges, including the deterioration of the environment, increasing social and economic inequality, and worldwide globalization, which is leaving Africa behind. The AEO is a unique tool. It provides an analysis of the state of the environment over the past 30 years, looks at the driving force behind environmental change, and reviews the consequences for social and economic development. It concludes with recommendations about the road that Africa should take to preserve its great natural riches, biodiversity, and vast unspoiled landscapes.
