

Baleful Beasts and Eerie Creatures

The creature's intention, the purpose of this act—the purpose of all things and actions, there are two: to be made good to those things—and there are two if it is good. First, they are made good to all things. A creature just-made good to all things is good to the right, it has been so made—there are no things that are not good. What seems very important, they will return to being good.
