The Origins of the University Stephen C. Ferruolo, 1985-06-01 The University of Paris is generally regarded as the first true university the model for others not only in France but throughout Europe including Oxford and Cambridge This book challenges two prevailing myths about the university's origins first that the university naturally developed to meet the utilitarian and professional needs of European society in the late Middle Ages and second that it was the product of the struggle by scholars to gain freedom and autonomy from external authorities most notably church officials In the twelfth century Paris was the educational center of Europe with a large number of schools and masters attracting and competing for students Over the decades the schools of Paris had many critics monastic reformers humanists satirists and moralists and the focus of this book is the role such critics played in developing the schools into a university Ferruolo argues that it was the educational values and ideas promoted by the critics ideas of the unity of knowledge the need to share learning freely and willingly and the higher purposes and social importance of education that first inspired the scholars of Paris to join together to form a single guild Their programs for educational reforms can be seen in the first set of statutes promulgated for the nascent University of Paris in 1215

Reforming the Monastery Greg Peters, 2013-11-12 Richard Froude wrote in 1833 to John Henry Newman that the present state of things in England makes an opening for reviving the monastic system Seemingly original words at the time Yet monasticism is one of the most ancient and enduring institutions of the Christian church reaching its zenith during the High Middle Ages Although medieval monasteries were regularly suppressed during the Reformation and the magisterial Reformers rejected monastic vows the existence of monasticism has remained within the Reformation churches both as an institution and in its theology This volume is an examination of Protestant theologies of monasticism examining the thought of select Protestant authors who have argued for the existence of monasticism in the Reformation churches beginning with Martin Luther and John Calvin and including Conrad Hoyer John Henry Newman Karl Barth and Donald Bloesch Looking at the contemporary church the current movement known as the New Monasticism is discussed and evaluated in light of Protestant monastic history

Cistercian Stories for Nuns and Monks Martha G. Newman, 2020-10-30 Around the year 1200 the Cistercian Engelhard of Langheim dedicated a collection of monastic stories to a community of religious women Martha G Newman explores how this largely unedited collection of tales about Cistercian monks illuminates the religiosity of Cistercian nuns As did other Cistercian storytellers Engelhard recorded the miracles and visions of the order's illustrious figures but he wrote from Franconia in modern Germany rather than the Cistercian heartland His extant texts reflect his interactions with non Cistercian monasteries and with Langheim's patrons rather than celebrating Bernard of Clairvaux Engelhard was conservative interested in maintaining traditional Cistercian patterns of thought Nonetheless by offering to women a collection of narratives that explore the oral qualities of texts the nature of sight and the efficacy of sacraments Engelhard articulated a distinctive response to the social and intellectual changes of his period In analyzing Engelhard s stories Newman uncovers an understudied monastic culture that resisted the growing emphasis on the priestly administration of the sacraments and the hardening of gender distinctions Engelhard assumed that monks and nuns shared similar interests and concerns and he addressed his audiences as if they occupied a space neither fully sacerdotal nor completely lay neither scholastic nor unlearned and neither solely male nor only female His exemplary narratives depict the sacramental value of everyday objects and behaviors whose efficacy relied more on individual spiritual formation than on sacerdotal action By encouraging nuns and monks to imagine connections between heaven and earth Engelhard taught faith as a learned disposition Newman s study demonstrates that scholastic questions about signs sacraments and sight emerged in a narrative form within late twelfth century monastic communities The Cistercians in the Middle Ages Janet E. Burton, Julie Kerr, 2011 The Cistercians White Monks were the most successful monastic experiment to emerge from the tumultuous intellectual and religious fervour of the 11th and 12th centuries This book seeks to explore the phenomenon that was the Cistercian Order A Companion to the Medieval World Carol Lansing, Edward D. The Cistercian Fathers and Their Monastic Theology Thomas Merton, 2016. These conferences presented by Thomas Merton to the novices at the Abbey of Gethsemani in 1963-1964 focus mainly on the life and writings of his great Cistercian predecessor St. Bernard of Clairvaux (1090-1153). Guiding his students through Bernard's Marian sermons, his treatise On the Love of God, his controversy with Peter Abelard, and above all his great series of sermons on the Song of Songs, Merton reveals why Bernard was the major religious and cultural figure in Europe during the first half of the twelfth century and why he has remained one of the most influential spiritual theologians of Western Christianity from his own day until the present. As James Finley writes in his preface to this volume, Merton is teaching us in these notes how to be grateful and amazed that the ancient wisdom that shimmers and shines in the eloquent and beautiful things that mystics say is now flowing in our sincere desire to learn from God how to find our way to God.

Dictionary of World Biography Frank Northen Magill, Alison Aves, 1998. Each volume of the Dictionary of World Biography contains 250 entries on the lives of the individuals who shaped their times and left their mark on world history. This is not a who's who. Instead, each entry provides an in-depth essay on the life and career of the individual concerned. Essays commence with a quick reference section that provides basic facts on the individual's life and achievements. The extended biography places the life and works of the individual within an historical context, and the summary at the end of each essay provides a synopsis of the individual's place in history. All entries conclude with a fully annotated bibliography.

The First Life of Bernard of Clairvaux William of Saint-Thierry, Arnold of Bonneval, Geoffrey of Auxerre, 2015-12-07. The First Life of Bernard of Clairvaux, traditionally known as the Vita Prima, originated to prepare the case for canonization of Bernard, first abbot of Clairvaux. The work was begun by William of Saint-Thierry, continued by Arnold of Bonneval, and completed by Geoffrey of Auxerre. When the initial case put forth for Bernard was rejected by Innocent II, Geoffrey undertook a revision of the original vita. Recension A and submitted another version, Recension B, to Pope Alexander III, who declared Bernard a saint in 1174. This work emphasizes the deep love in which Bernard was held during his life by his monks and the people of France and Italy, as well as his role as a powerful public figure. This book contains the first English translation of Recension B, drawn from what is apparently the only manuscript of the work found today in a Cistercian monastery, Mount Saint Bernard Abbey. The introduction begins with the story of how this manuscript came to Mount Saint Bernard, so fixing this translation of the Vita prima within Cistercian life from the twelfth century to today.
