The Body and the Book ,2015-06-29 The stimulating mix of academics and practising poets that have contributed to this volume provides an unusual and illuminating integration of critical and creative practice and a vibrantly diverse approach to questions of poetry and sexuality Each section of essays is complemented by poems which creatively illustrate or develop the theme with which the essays critically engage Rather than being limited to a specific genre tradition time or place this collection seeks to make a virtue of contrast comparison and juxtaposition The collection is arranged into sections that range broadly across the thematic ground of dichotomies traditions and revisions microscopic and macroscopic perspectives women and embodiment and the notion of play and performance Positioning eighteenth century tinkers ballads alongside medieval Hebrew lyrics and the Blues of Gorgeous Puddin or making Dionysus rub shoulders with Sharon Olds and Mrs Rochester provides new perspectives on familiar material and valuable insights into more obscure work and the nature of sensual poetry as a mode of expression As the editors suggest the essays and poems presented collectively argue that writings about sexuality are always already about the way poets see and represent our bodies the world and poetic language itself

Lift Up Your Voice Like a Trumpet Michael B. Friedland,2000-11-09 When the Supreme Court declared in 1954 that segregated public schools were unconstitutional the highest echelons of Protestant Catholic and Jewish religious organizations enthusiastically supported the ruling and black civil rights workers expected and actively sought the cooperation of their white religious cohorts Many white southern clergy however were outspoken in their defense of segregation and even those who supported integration were wary of risking their positions by urging parishioners to act on their avowed religious beliefs in a common humanity Those who did so found themselves abandoned by friends attacked by white supremacists and often driven from their communities Michael Friedland here offers a collective biography of several southern and nationally known white religious leaders who did step forward to join the major social protest movements of the mid twentieth century lending their support first to the civil rights movement and later to protests over American involvement in Vietnam Profiling such activists as William Sloane Coffin Jr Daniel and Philip Berrigan Abraham Joshua Heschel Eugene Carson Blake Robert McAfee Brown and Will D Campbell he reveals the passions and commitment behind their involvement in these protests and places their actions in the context of a burgeoning ecumenical movement
