between English and American print changed over the 85 years under consideration Beginning in 1660 with the impact of the Restoration on the colonial relationship the book moves on to show how the expansion of British settlement in this period coincided with a dramatic increase in the production and consumption of the printed word and the further development of religious and scientific explanations of landscape change and climactic events This in turn led to multiple interpretations of the American landscape dependent on factors such as whether the writer had actually visited America or not differing purposes for writing growing imperial considerations and conflict with the French Spanish and Natives The book concludes by bringing together the three key themes how representations of landscape varied depending on the genre of literature in which they appeared that an author's perceived self definition as English resident American visitor or American resident determined his understanding of the American landscape and finally that the development of a unique American identity by the mid eighteenth century can be seen by the way American residents define the landscape and their relationship to it
