Cultural Interactions and Social Strategies on the Pontic Shores Jane Hjarl Petersen, 2010-07-16 In Antiquity the Black Sea region was a meeting point for several different population groups with diverse cultural backgrounds The present monograph takes its point of departure in burial data from four coastal localities in the northern region of the Black Sea The mortuary practices are decoded and interpreted within a framework mainly based on concepts of cultural interaction rather than cultural polarisation Thus the dogma of The Greeks and the Others is challenged and alternative perceptions of interactions between the people in the Black Sea region form the basis of the study The burials are primarily analysed with emphasis on social strategies and cultural diversity Furthermore the Black Sea region is set into a comparative perspective through an outlook on burial customs and mortuary practices in the colonial milieus of contemporary Southern Italy Infanticide Rachel Dixon,2023-02-02 Infanticide examines medical expert evidence in infanticide cases focusing specifically on the shifting notion of certainty in medical testimony Beginning in the Early Modern period and concluding in the mid twentieth century it considers how courts determined whether an infant died from natural causes or other reasons including violence The book explores expert evidence in cases of infanticide and examines the extent of certainty created by medical specialists who founded their testimony on anatomical exploration and science As the book progresses it becomes clear that medical specialists were unable to scientifically establish cause of death and in doing so conveyed uncertainty in court proceedings Rather than being regarded as a professional failing Dixon argues that the uncertainty created by medical specialists redirected the outcomes of infanticide cases The combination of uncertainty and the changing perceptions of infanticidal women by the court lead juries to find infanticidal women not guilty of a capital offence in many cases This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Criminology Law and History Minutes of Evidence ... 1906-8 Transvaal (Colony). Indigency Commission,1908 Reference Catalogue of Current Literature ,1888 Education and the Handicapped 1760 - 1960 D.G. Pritchard,2013-08-21 First published in 1998 This is Volume VIII of twenty eight in the Sociology of Education series During the nineteenth century and part of the twentieth the children now known as disabled or with accessibility needs were termed physically defective and mentally defective the schools that they and the blind and the deaf attended were frequently called institutions the education they received bore the name of instruction This book is the story of the advance in opinion and outlook from 1760 to 1960 which brought about the change from instruction to education from institution to school and from mentally defective to those with special needs that the book sets out to tell Written in 1963 Occupational Therapy for Mentally Retarded Children Mildred E. Copeland,Lana Ford,Nancy Solon,1976 The Musical Record ,1882 New York Magazine ,1985-12-16 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Facts for Industry United States.
