150 Years Of American Painting 1794 1944

Brigham Young University. Museum of Art, Linda Jones Gibbs

150 Years Of American Painting 1794 1944:

150 Years of American Painting, 1794-1944 Brigham Young University. Museum of Art, Linda Jones Gibbs, 1994-01 This lavishly illustrated catalog accompanies the first exhibition from the permanent collection at Brigham Young University's Museum of Art. The book highlights seventy-three of the finest American paintings from that collection, including works by such prominent artists as Benjamin West, George Catlin, Asher B. Durand, George Inness, Albert Bierstadt, Thomas Moran, Frederic Church, J. Alden Weir, and Childe Hassam. Several paintings are representative of the Hudson River School and American impressionism. Each painting is reproduced in full color and accompanied by informative and provocative text that places the work within the artist's oeuvre as well as within a larger historical and cultural framework. The result is a fascinating reading of individual works of art as indicators of a particular time within 150 years of American history.

Artists and Migration 1400-1850 Jessica David, Matej Klemencic, Kathrin Wagner, 2017-01-06 This volume offers a thematic exploration of the migrant artist's experience in Europe and its colonies from the early modern period through to the Industrial Revolution. The influence of the transient artist both on their adoptive country as well as their own oeuvre and native culture is considered through a collection of essays arranged according to geographic location. The contributions here examine the impetuses behind artistic migrations and the status of the foreign artist at home and abroad through the patterns of patronage, contemporary responses to their work, and the preservation of their artistic legacy in domestic and foreign settings. Objects and sites from across the visual arts are considered as evidence of the migrant artist's experience, talismans of cultural exchange that yielded hybrid artistic styles and disseminated foreign tastes and workshop practices across the globe.

150 Years of American Painting, 1794-1944 Brigham Young University, 1994 George Inness: The works of the 1840s Michael Quick, 2007 Bibliographie D'histoire de L'art, 1996 Art Journal, 1960 Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine Daughters of the American Revolution, 1996 University and College Museums, Galleries, and Related Facilities Victor J. Danilov, 1996

The first guide of its kind in over a half century, this work contains 1108 descriptions in 24 categories. It presents a comprehensive picture of museums, galleries, and related facilities in American universities and colleges. The first 10 chapters offer an overview of the field, dealing with such aspects as history, mission, types, governance, and much more. It is an essential in-house reference tool for all campus museums and galleries and should be found in university, college, and public libraries as well. Students and their visitors may be surprised at the wealth and variety of culture readily available on their own campuses, and this guide makes the investigatory task easy. The directory describes museums and similar facilities in 24 categories, with nearly half the institutions being art museums and art galleries. The others range from agricultural museums to botanical gardens. Beyond being fascinating in its scope, the book provides a wide variety of information about the operations of the facilities, practical details that are not available anywhere else. This is the book where professionals can learn about each other and visitors can research just what is available on any campus.
