politics of translation into English This book represents the first comprehensive political scrutiny of the concerns and attitudes of Indian language literature after 1947 to cover such a wide range including voices from the cultural margins of the nation like Kashmiri and Manipuri that of women alongside those of minority and marginalised communities In examining the politics of the writing especially in relation to concerns like nationhood caste tradition and modernity postcoloniality gender issues and religious conflict the book goes beyond the declared ideology of each writer to get at covert significations pointing to widely shared but often unacknowledged biases The book is deeply analytical but lucid and jargon free and to those unfamiliar with the writers it introduces a new keenness into Indian literary criticism to make its objects exciting
