Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1961 Includes Part 1 Number 1 2 Books and Pamphlets Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals January December International Television Almanac

Richard Gertner, 1980-01-01 Broadcasting in Canada Alexander Featherston Toogood, 1969 Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office United States. Patent Office, 1962 Same Time, Same Station James L.

Baughman, 2007-03-26 Outstanding Academic Title for 2007 Choice Magazine Ever wonder how American television came to be the much derided advertising heavy home to reality programming formulaic situation comedies hapless men and buxom scantily clad women Could it have been something different focusing instead on culture theater and performing arts In Same Time Same Station historian James L. Baughman takes readers behind the scenes of early broadcasting examining corporate machinations that determined the future of television Split into two camps those who thought TV could meet and possibly raise the expectations of wealthier better educated post war consumers and those who believed success meant mimicking the products of movie houses and radio decision makers fought a battle of ideas that peaked in the 1950s just as TV became a central facet of daily life for most Americans Baughman's engagingly written account of the brief but contentious debate shows how the inner workings and outward actions of the major networks advertisers producers writers and entertainers ultimately made TV the primary forum for entertainment and information The tale of television's founding years reveals a series of decisions that favored commercial success over cultural aspiration The Secret Museum Walter M.

Kendrick, 1996 Although erotica has always existed pornography is a recent phenomenon as late as the eighteenth century the word did not exist From the secret museums to the pornography trials of Madame Bovary and Lady Chatterly's Lover to Mapplethorpe cable TV and the Internet Walter Kendrick explores how conceptions of pornography relate to issues of freedom of expression and censorship He provides too a fascinating portrait gallery of the jurists artists guardians of public morality sleaze merchants and civil libertarians who have played roles in the changing definitions of pornography Living

Room Lectures Nina C. Leibman, 2010-07-22 With a breadwinner dad a homemaker mom and squeaky clean kids the 1950s television family has achieved near mythological status as a model of what real families ought to be Yet feature films of the period often portrayed families in trouble with parents and children in conflict over appropriate values and behaviors Why were these representations of family apparently so far apart Nina Leibman analyzes many feature films and dozens of TV situation comedy episodes from 1954 to 1963 to find surprising commonalities in their representations of the family

Redefining the comedy as a family melodrama she compares film and television depictions of familial power gender roles and economic attitudes Leibman's explorations reveal how themes of guilt deceit manipulation anxiety and disfunctionality that obviously characterize such movies as Rebel without a Cause A Summer Place and Splendor in the Grass also crop up in such TV shows as The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet Father Knows Best Leave It to Beaver The Donna Reed Show and My Three Sons Drawing on interviews with many of the participants of these productions archival documents and trade journals Leibman sets her discussion within a larger institutional history of 1950s film and television Her discussions shed new light not only on the reasons for both media's near obsession with family life but also on changes in American society as it reconfigured itself in the postwar era Motion Picture Herald, 1959 A Handbook of Media and Communication Research Klaus Bruhn Jensen, 2013-04-15 This handbook covers perspectives from both the social sciences and the humanities It provides guidelines for how to think about plan and carry out studies of media in different social and cultural contexts The Impact of International Television Michael G. Elasmr, 2014-04-08 For several decades cultural imperialism has been the dominant paradigm for conceptualizing labeling predicting and explaining the effects of international television It has been used as an unchallenged premise for numerous essays on the topic of imported television influence despite the fact that the assumption of strong cultural influence is not necessarily reflected in the body of research that exists within this field of study In The Impact of International Television A Paradigm Shift editor Michael G Elasmr and his contributors challenge the dominant paradigm of cultural imperialism and offer an alternative paradigm with which to evaluate international or crossborder message influence In this volume Elasmr has collected original research from leading scholars working in the area of crossborder media influence and contributes his own meta analysis to examine what research findings actually show on the influences of crossborder messages The contributions included here illustrate points such as the contentions of cultural imperialism and the context in which its assumptions emerged and developed the complexities of the relationship between exposure to foreign television and its subsequent effects on local audience members the applicability of quantitative methods to a topic commonly tackled using argumentation critical theory and other qualitative approaches and the difficulty of achieving strong and homogenous effects In bringing together the work of independent researchers The Impact of International Television A Paradigm Shift bridges over 40 years of research efforts focused on imported television influence the results of which as a whole challenge the de facto strong and homogenous effects assumed by those who support the paradigm of cultural imperialism The volume sets a theory driven agenda of research and offers an alternative paradigm for the new generation of researchers interested in international media effects As such the volume is intended for scholars researchers and students in international and intercultural communication cross cultural communication mass communication media effects media and society and related areas It will also be of great interest to academics in international relations cross cultural and social psychology intergroup and international relations international public opinion and peace studies Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series, 1961 The record of each copyright registration listed in the Catalog includes a description of the work copyrighted and data relating to the copyright claim the name of the copyright claimant as given in the application for registration the copyright date the copyright registration number etc Television Network Program Procurement United States.  Library Service Center,1961      Filmed Television Drama, 1952-1958 William Hawes,2002-01-09 This work examines the change from live to filmed television dramas during the period 1952 1958 and the characteristics and programs that are most associated with filmed television drama Along with many technical changes that had to be made in the industry in order to convert live television to filmed television came an interesting social one The American society in general was developing a growing interest in the lives of ordinary people and television moved with them offering more programs that concentrated on the middle and lower classes Because of the inherent qualities of filming television began to feature more documentary like realism began to broaden its interpretation of traditional romantic escapism to include more outer space and supernatural science fiction began to better fulfill materialistic desires through well designed enjoyable commercials and began to offer the best dramas and most popular personalities often leading viewers to greater self appreciation and richer lives This work focuses on the important anthology programs and specials that were on the air from 1952 to 1958 such as Kraft Television Theatre Philco Television Playhouse and The Hallmark Hall of Fame filmed serials like Colgate Theatre Amos n Andy and I Love Lucy and the challenges of converting from live to filmed television drama      Overseas Directories, Who's Who,
