19971998 El Nino Event A Scientific And Technical Retrospective:

The 1997-1998 El Niño Event, 1999 Handbook of Research on Hydroinformatics: Technologies, Theories and Applications Gasmelseid, Tagelsir Mohamed, 2010-07-31 This book provides relevant theoretical frameworks and empirical research findings in the area hydroinformatics to assist professionals to improve their understanding of the development and use of decision support tools to support decision making and integrated water management at different organizational levels and domains Provided by publisher Seasonal Climate: Forecasting and Managing Risk Alberto Troccoli, Mike Harrison, David L.T. Anderson, Simon J. Mason, 2008-02-22 Originally formed around a set of lectures presented at a NATO Advanced Study Institute ASI this book has grown to become organised and presented rather more as a textbook than as a standard collection of proceedings This therefore is the first unified reference textbook in seasonal to interannual climate predictions and their practical uses Written by some of the world's leading experts the book covers a rapidly developing science of prime social concern Increasing Climate Variability and Change James Salinger, Mannava VK Sivakumar, Raymond P. Motha, 2005-12-06 One of the major challenges facing humankind is to provide an equitable standard of living for this and future generations adequate food water and energy safe shelter and a healthy environment Human induced climate change and increasing climate variability as well as other global environmental issues such as land degradation and loss of biological diversity threaten our ability to meet these basic human needs It is undisputed that the last two decades have been the warmest this century and likely to be the warmest for the last 1000 years sea level is rising rain and snowfall patterns are changing Arctic sea ice is thinning and the frequency and intensity of El Niño events appear to be increasing In addition the frequency of extreme events is rising and many parts of the world have recently suffered major heat waves floods and droughts leading to significant loss of life and economic costs This requires the global community to give urgent attention to addressing key issues The range of adaptation options for agriculture and forestry is generally increasing because of technological advances thus reducing the vulnerability of these systems to climate change However some regions of the world particularly developing countries have limited access to these technologies Agriculture and forestry are currently not optimally managed with respect to today's natural climate variability Decreasing the vulnerability of agriculture and forestry to increasing climatic variability will go a long way towards reducing the long term vulnerability to climate change This book represents a major step in assessing the science of climate variability and change and their likely impacts on agriculture and forestry with clear adaptation strategies required to reduce their vulnerability International Organizations and the Law of the Sea 1999 Barbara Kwiatkowska, Harm Dotinga, Erik J. Molenaar, Alex G. Oude Elferink, Alfred H.A. Soons, 2022-07-11 Now in its 15th year The NILOS Documentary Yearbook provides the reader with an excellent collection of documents related to ocean affairs and the law of the sea issued each year by organizations organs and bodies of the United Nations system Documents of the UN General Assembly Meeting of State Parties to the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention CLCS ISBA ITLOS Follow Up to the UN Straddling Fish Stocks and Small Island States Conferences ECOSOC UNEP and UNCTAD are included first followed by the documents of FAO IAEA IMO and UNESCO IOC As in the previous volumes documents which were issued in the course of 1999 are reproduced while other relevant documents are listed The NILOS Documentary Yearbook has proved to be of invaluable assistance in facilitating access by the community of scholars and practitioners in ocean affairs and the law of the sea to essential documentation The entry of the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention into force on 16th November 1994 and of the Part XI Agreement on 28 July 1996 and progress in the implementation of Chapter 17 of Agenda 21 to be assessed at the 2002 Johannesburg World Summit make continuation of this assistance of particular significance in the years to come The members of the Yearbook s Advisory Board are Judges Abdul Koroma and Shigeru Oda of the ICJ Judges Thomas Mensah Dolliver Nelson and Tullio Treves of the ITLOS as well as Rosalie Balkin Edward Brown Lee Kimball Bernard Oxman and Shabtai Rosenne

The Contextual Determinants of Malaria Elizabeth A. Professor Casman, Hadi Professor Dowlatabadi, 2010-09-30 As malaria and other tropical diseases continue their resurgence questions about the potential impacts of environmental and demographic factors are becoming more critical Recent attempts to understand the increase in malaria incidence often acknowledge the importance of social economic and other contextual variables but fail to explicitly incorporate them into models or consider how they evolve in relation to one another This problem is of crucial interest to the climate policy community which has been buffeted by claims and counter claims concerning the impact of climate change on malaria This important volume examines the contextual determinants of malaria and attempts to develop methods for incorporating them into projections of future incidence Internationally renowned health specialists economists and other social scientists provide regional and global perspectives on risk modeling the history of eradication efforts current determinants including environmental social and economic factors and prospects for new vaccines and drugs The Contextual Determinants of Malaria argues that an association of climate change with increased malaria incidence will have at least as much to do with human aging poverty urbanization and population movement as with a rise in global temperatures By placing climate in this perspective The Contextual Determinants of Malaria focuses attention on the public health needs most critical in both the immediate and long term future It encourages multidisciplinary analysis of malaria control and improves our understanding of the interactions of the diverse range of factors involved in the incidence and spread of the disease communities in reducing their livelihoods options Communities across Latin America and the Caribbean are already experiencing adverse consequences from climate change and variability Precipitation has increased in the southeastern part of South America and now often comes in the form of sudden deluges leading to flooding and soil erosion that endanger people s lives and livelihoods Southwestern parts of South America and western Central America are seeing a decrease in precipitation and an increase in droughts Increasing heat and drought in Northeast Brazil threaten the livelihoods of already marginal smallholders and may turn parts of the eastern Amazon rainforest into savannah The Andean inter tropical glaciers are shrinking and expected to disappear altogether within the next 20 40 years with significant consequences for water availability These environmental changes will impact local livelihoods in unprecedented ways Poverty inequality water access health and migration are and will be measurably affected by climate change Using an innovative research methodology this study finds quantitative evidence of large variations in impacts across regions Many already poor regions are becoming poorer traditional livelihoods are being challenged in unprecedented ways water scarcity is increasing particularly in poor arid areas human health is deteriorating and climate induced migration is already taking place and may increase Successfully reducing social vulnerability to climate change and variability requires action and commitment at multiple levels This volume offers key operational recommendations at the government community and household levels with particular emphasis placed on enhancing good governance and technical capacity in the public sector building social capital in local communities and protecting the asset base of poor households
