Mocha and Related Dipped Wares, 1770-1939 Jonathan Rickard, 2006 An authoritative guide to the history and craft of this rare and much sought after ceramic ware Early Homes, 2007 Now in its sixth year Early Homes is a biannual special edition that focuses on the period 1690-1850 and its revivals including Colonial and Neoclassical design Each issue contains lavish photos and plenty of product sources Honoring Ancestors in Sacred Space Grace Turner, 2023-10-10 The Anglican Church established St Matthew's Parish on the eastern side of Nassau to accommodate a population increase after British Loyalists migrated to the Bahamas in the 1780s The parish had three separate cemeteries the churchyard cemetery and Centre Burial Ground were for whites but the Northern Burial Ground was officially consecrated for nonwhites in 1826 by the Bishop of Jamaica In Honoring Ancestors in Sacred Space Grace Turner posits that the African Bahamian community intentionally established this separate cemetery in order to observe non-European burial customs Analyzing the landscape and artifacts found at the site Turner shows how the community used this space to maintain a sense of social and cultural belonging despite the power of white planters and the colonial government Although the Northern Burial Ground was covered by storm surges in the 1920s and later a sidewalk was built through the site Turner s fieldwork reveals a wealth of material culture She points to the cemetery s location near water trees planted at the heads of graves personal items left with the dead and remnants of food offerings as evidence of mortuary practices originating in West and Central Africa According to Turner these African influenced ways of memorializing the dead illustrate W E B Du Bois s idea of double consciousness the experience of existing in two irreconcilable cultures at the same time Comparing the burial ground with others in Great Britain and the American colonies Turner demonstrates how Africans in the Atlantic diaspora did not always adopt European customs but often created a separate parallel world for themselves A volume in the Florida Museum of Natural History Ripley P Bullen Series

Beautiful Clay John A. Burrison, 2025-04-22 For most of human history all pottery was what we would now consider traditional folk pottery Not all artifacts go beyond the basic requirements of utility in pursuit of beauty but Beautiful Clay considers those that do In Beautiful Clay noted scholar of traditional ceramics John A Burrison writes about how a potter applies aesthetics to utilitarian objects to transform raw clay into something beautiful Though what is considered beautiful in art changes from culture to culture and person to person there are universal techniques such as manipulating form color texture and more that tap into clay s potential for beauty Burrison uses an approach from a perspective of international artistry rather than an approach bound by history or geography After beginning with more than 40 000 images that the author curated as a study resource Beautiful Clay narrows it down to around 230 images that capture the artistry within traditional ceramics worldwide Beautiful Clay examines the aesthetic dimensions of what is essentially a traditional utilitarian craft the ancient clay based craft of pottery from earliest times to the present
