Weiss M. D.,Morris Weiss,2006-12 Dean Daniel Allen s Friday afternoon trip to Jackson s Hardware in downtown Jeffreysville for the mundane purchase of a deadbolt lock for his kitchen door becomes the prelude to ten days of momentous events Several members of the faculty as well as a number of students at DeMott University will never be the same after Dean Allen finds the beautiful Jeanette de Lorien in a piano practice room in the tower of the University Library finds her very dead indeed An unlikely detective only Dean Allen s sense of duty will keep him cooperating with the Campus Security and the Jeffreysville police Sometimes he will find himself caught in the crossfire between these two unacknowledged rivals in enforcement of the law At other times he will seem almost to be thwarting the police investigation when his loyalty to his faculty colleagues prevents him from telling the whole truth He also will find himself going out on his own in questionable attempts to follow his secretary s advice to solve a crime by knowing your victim Not only will he end up knowing the victim but he will learn a great deal about the lives of a number of the suspects and there are a surprising number of these in the quiet Midwestern town and on the conservative campus of DeMott University He also will find out a bit about himself leaving him surprised and quite pleased This book is not so much a typical murder mystery as it is a study of the people encountered in the story The basic premise of the author is that people s behavior is the result of the totality of the experiences of their lives Such behavior may not be condoned but it can be understood And a campus in a small Midwestern town can be the scene of just as much irrational aberrant or immoral behavior as may a more urban environment The setting gives the author opportunity to give the reader some insights into academic life on such a campus

Rome and The Guidebook Tradition Anna Blennow,Stefano Fogelberg

Rota,2019-04-01 To this day no comprehensive academic study of the development of guidebooks to Rome over time has been performed This book treats the history of guidebooks to Rome from the Middle Ages up to the early twentieth century It is based on the results of the interdisciplinary research project Topos and Topography led by Anna Blennow and Stefano Fogelberg Rota From the case studies performed within the project it becomes evident that the guidebook as a phenomenon was formed in Rome during the later Middle Ages and early Renaissance The elements and rhetorical strategies of guidebooks over time have shown to be surprisingly uniform with three important points of development a turn towards a more user friendly structure from the seventeenth century and onward the so called Baedeker effect in the mid nineteenth century and the introduction of a personalized guiding voice in the first half of the twentieth century Thus the guidebook tradition is an unusually consistent literary oeuvre which also forms a warranty for the authority of every new guidebook In this respect the guidebook tradition is intimately associated with the city of Rome with which it shares a constantly renovating yet eternally fixed nature

Late Roman Warlords Penny MacGeorge, 2002-12-05 Late Roman Warlords reconstructs the careers of some of the men who shaped and were shaped by the last quarter century of the Western Empire There is a need for a new investigation of these warlords based on primary sources and including recent historical debates and theories The difficult sources for this period have been analysed and translated as necessary to produce a chronological account and relevant archaeological and numismatic evidence has been utilised An overview of earlier warlords including Aetius is followed by three studies of individual warlords and the regions they dominated The first covers Dalmatia and Marcellinus its ruler during the 450s and 460s A major theme is the question of Marcellinus western or eastern affiliations using an often ignored Greek source Penny MacGeorge suggests a new interpretation The second part is concerned with the Gallic general Aegidius and his son Syagrius who ruled in northern Gaul probably from Soissons This extends to AD 486 well after the fall of the Western Empire The problem of the existence or non existence of a kingdom of Soissons is discussed introducing evidence from the Merovingian period and a solution put forward This section also looks at how the political situation in northern Gaul might throw light on contemporary post Roman Britain The third study is of the barbarian patrician Ricimer defender of Italy and his successors the Burgundian prince Gundobad and Orestes a former employee of Attila down to the coup of 476 by which Odovacer became the first barbarian king of Italy This includes discussion of the character and motivation of Ricimer particularly in relation to the emperors he promoted and destroyed and of how historians assessments of him have changed over time
