Jesus: Our Passover

*Therefore purge out the old leaven,
that you may be a new lump,
since you truly are unleavened.
For indeed Christ, our Passover,
was sacrificed for us.
1 Corinthians 5:7*

Jesus is our Passover. Once each year, Jewish families celebrated their deliverance from Egypt by eating a special Passover meal and by sacrificing a lamb to make atonement for the sins of the family. The father would place his hands on the head of the lamb to confess the sins of the family members. That was symbolic of transferring the family sins to the lamb; then the blood of the lamb was shed, a prototype of Jesus' becoming the Lamb of God to take away our sin. Jesus became the fulfillment of the Passover. The lamb had to be perfect, without blemish, which is a picture of the perfect life of Jesus. Because Jesus did not sin, He was qualified to take away the sin of the world. John 1:29; 1 Peter 2:22.

Jesus, You are my Passover Lamb; You became sin for me (2 Corinthians 5:21), and Your blood is the basis for my forgiveness. Jesus, I praise You for Your sacrificial death. Thank You for dying for me and for the world.

Jesus is your Passover, just as each Jewish family looked back in gratitude for deliverance from the death angel that passed over their home, you should look back in gratitude that judgment has passed over you. Then you should look forward to the return of Jesus to take you home to live with Him. His future coming is just as sure as His past sacrificial death. You can have faith in both of them.

Lord, I look back and remember Your death, and I look forward, waiting for Your return. Amen.

Of Devotions For Today's Woman:

A Book of Devotions for Today's Woman Frances L. Carroll, 1983 A Book of Devotions for Today's Woman Frances L. Carroll, 1983 God's Priorities for Today's Woman Lisa Hughes, 2011-02-01 Modern day feminism and the decline of solid Bible teaching in churches have left many women confused or unaware of God's high calling for their lives. Though the world changes, God's priorities have not. In Titus 2:3-5 the apostle Paul reveals the value God places upon a woman's character, her relationships, and her home. In God's Priorities for Today's Woman, popular Bible teacher Lisa Hughes explains and illustrates each priority that Paul describes, empowering Christian women to grow in their understanding of God and of what He considers important. Gain assurance they are living the life God desires; they will be equipped to grow in each priority area, learn how to minister more effectively to other women, and God's Priorities for Today's Woman will equip women of all ages to grow in godly living. Study questions effective for individual or small group use are included at the end of each chapter.

The Psychology of Today's Woman Toni Bernay, Dorothy Cantor, 2013-05-13 The sexual revolution often discussed in the journalistic literature of recent years has brought in its wake a host of questions that are only beginning to be addressed. How are women coping with real world challenges for which they may be ill prepared both socially and psychologically? How successfully are they integrating old and new ego ideals in forging new identities? Is their ostensible liberation actually making for a sense of integration and wholeness? The Psychology of Today's Woman: New Psychoanalytic Visions probes these and related questions from the standpoint of both developmental and therapeutic concerns. Taking Freud's notion of female sexuality as a point of departure, editors Bernay and Cantor have compiled a collection of original essays that reassesses traditional conceptions of female psychology. Section I proffers new visions of femininity; Section II and explores critical situations in the lives of contemporary women; Section III, a final section of special interest to analysts and psychotherapists, examines the various facets of the clinical treatment of women. Collectively, the contributors to this volume articulate a strong challenge to the deficiency model of female identity that has long dominated psychoanalytic theory. More impressively still, they offer constructive alternatives to the preconceptions of the past. They converge in the belief that the richness and diversity of female experience cannot be encompassed in the overly simplified definitions and masculine analogizing of classical analysis. Whether we investigate the status of masculinity and femininity as personality traits, the relationship between nurturance and aggression in female identity, or the meaning of normality and pathology in treatment situations, we are very much in a realm of multiple truths in which the formulas of the past give little sense of the options of the present or the possibilities of the future.

Today's Woman in World Religions Arvind Sharma, 1994-01-01 This book examines how the women's movement is affecting traditional religions and civilizations throughout the world.
