Of New Zealand Women Ko Kui Ma Te Kaupapa:

A History of New Zealand Women Barbara Brookes, 2016-02-15 What would a history of New Zealand look like that rejected Thomas Carlyle's definition of history as the biography of great men and focused instead on the experiences of women One that shifted the angle of vision and examined the stages of this country's development from the points of view of wives daughters mothers grandmothers sisters and aunts That considered their lives as distinct from though often unwillingly influenced by those of history's great men In her ground breaking History of New Zealand Women Barbara Brookes provides just such a history This is more than an account of women in New Zealand from those who arrived on the first waka to the Grammy and Man Booker Prize winning young women of the current decade It is a comprehensive history of New Zealand seen through a female lens Brookes argues that while European men erected the political scaffolding to create a small nation women created the infrastructure necessary for colonial society to succeed Concepts of home marriage and family brought by settler women and integral to the developing state transformed the lives of M ori women The small scale of New Zealand society facilitated rapid change so that by the twenty first century women are no longer defined by family contexts In her long awaited book Barbara Brookes traces the factors that drove that change Her lively narrative draws on a wide variety of sources to map the importance in women's lives not just of legal and economic changes but of smaller joys such as the arrival of a piano from England or the freedom of riding a bicycle

Maori and Aboriginal Women in the Public Eye Karen Fox, 2011-12-01 From 1950 increasing numbers of Aboriginal and M ori women became nationally or internationally renowned Few reached the heights of international fame accorded Evonne Goolagong or Dame Kiri Te Kanawa and few remained household names for any length of time But their growing numbers and visibility reflected the dramatic social cultural and political changes taking place in Australia and New Zealand in the second half of the twentieth century This book is the first in depth study of media portrayals of well known Indigenous women in Australia and New Zealand including Goolagong Te Kanawa Oodgeroo Noonuccal and Dame Whina Cooper The power of the media in shaping the lives of individuals and communities for good or ill is widely acknowledged In these pages Karen Fox examines an especially fascinating and revealing aspect of the media and its history how prominent M ori and Aboriginal women were depicted for the readers of popular media in the past Publisher's description

The Cambridge Guide to Women's Writing in English Lorna Sage, 1999-09-30 This Guide aims to consolidate and epitomise the re reading of women's writing that has gone on in the last twenty five years This is an opportunity for stock taking a timely project when so much writing has been rediscovered reclaimed and republished There are entries on writers on individual texts and on general terms genres and movements all printed in a single alphabetical sequence The earliest written documents in medieval English the visionary writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe are covered in an historical and geographical sweep that takes us up to the present day The book reflects the spread of literacy the history of colonisation and the development of post colonial cultures using and changing the English language The entries are written by contributors from all the countries covered The result is a work of reference with a unique feeling for the vitality wealth and diversity of women s writing My Hand Will Write what My Heart Dictates Frances Porter,Charlotte Macdonald,Tui MacDonald,1996 The women of this book are mainly Pakeha They are domestic servants governors wives and farmers married single widowed or deserted They write about love friendship children destitution illness and grief Maori women write about land loss and love about families and domestic events in both Maori and English Women Together New Zealand. rewarding to read Most importantly it speaks to our times Michael King New Zealand Listener Heroines in History Katie Pickles,2022-07-21 Heroines in History A Thousand Faces moves beyond stories of individual heroines taking a thematic synthesising and global in scope approach to challenge previous understandings of heroines in history Responding to Joseph Campbell s Hero with a Thousand Faces Katie Pickles explores the idea of a transcultural heroine archetype that recurs through time Each chapter addresses an archetypal theme important for heroines in history The volume offers a new consideration of the often awkward position of women in history and embeds heroines in the context of their times as well as interpreting and analysing how their stories are told re told and represented at different moments To do so it recovers and compares some women now forgotten along with well known recent heroines and brings together a diversity of women from around the world Pickles looks at the interplay of gender race heredity status class and politics in different ways and chronicles the emergence of heroines as historical subjects valued for their substance and achievements rather than as objects valued for their image and celebrity In an accessible and original way the book builds upon developments in women s and gender history and is essential reading for anyone interested in this field Cassidy et al.: Women and Empire, 1750-1939, Vol. II Caroline Daley,2021-12-24 Women and Empire 1750 1939 functions to extend significantly the range of the History of Feminism series co published by Routledge and Edition Synapse bringing together the histories of British and American women s emancipation represented in earlier sets into juxtaposition with histories produced by different kinds of imperial and colonial governments The alignment of writings from a range of Anglo imperial contexts reveals the overlapping histories and problems while foregrounding cultural specificities and contextual inflections of imperialism The volumes focus on countries regions or continents formerly colonized in part by Britain Volume I Australia Volume II New Zealand Volume III Africa Volume IV India Volume V Canada Perhaps the most novel aspect of this collection is its capacity to highlight the common aspects of the functions of empire in their impact on women and their production of gender and conversely to demonstrate the actual specificity of particular regional manifestations Concerning questions of power gender class and race this new Routledge Edition Synapse Major Work will be of particular interest to scholars and students of imperialism colonization women s history and women s writing Arts and Crafts Movement in New Zealand, 1870-1940 Ann Calhoun,2000 Reveals the exquisite work and extraordinary skill of a group of New Zealand artists most of them women working in a wide variety of art and craft forms This flowering of local talent originated in the British Arts and Crafts movement and is associated with the growth of art education in this country its quiet but dedicated character also suggests much about the situation of women in the years before and after 1900 Jacket Mana Maori and Christianity Hugh Morrison,Lachy Paterson,Brett Knowles,Murray Rae,2012-06-01 This book examines encounters between the Christian church and Maori Christian faith among Maori changed from Maori receiving the missionary endeavours of Pakeha settlers to the development of indigenous expressions of Christian faith partnerships between Maori and Pakeha in the mainline churches and the emergence of Destiny Church The book looks at the growth development and adaptation of Christian faith among Maori people and considers how that development has helped shape New Zealand identity and society It explores questions of theology historical development socio cultural influence and change and the outcomes of Pakeha interactions with Maori

Trial of Strength Shona Riddell, 2018-10-01 The world's subantarctic islands circle the lower part of the globe below New Zealand Australia Africa and South America in the Roaring Forties and Furious Fifties latitudes They are filled with unique plants and wildlife constantly buffeted by lashing rain and furious gales and surrounded by a vast powerful ocean New Zealand and Australian subantarctic islands in particular have a rich and fascinating human history from the early 19th century explorers and sealers through to modern day conservation and adventure tourism And yet the subantarctic islands are often called our forgotten islands because so few people know of their existence despite their status since 1998 as World Heritage sites Trial of Strength is a history book filled with compelling photos for a modern audience and one that for the first time includes women's stories as more than just a footnote Balanced and engaging it features classic tales of infamous shipwrecks lesser known stories of intrepid pioneers as well as more recent stories of adventure tourism conservation wins and dramatic helicopter rescues Written by the descendant of two 19th century British colonial settlers who attempted to create a home for their young family in this bleak environment Trial of Strength will leave you with an appreciation for the tenacity of the human race and the forbidding forces of nature

Women Writing Home, 1700-1920 Vol 5 Klaus Stierstorfer, Deirdre Coleman, Cecily Devereux, Susan Clair Imbarrato, Charlotte J Macdonald, 2024-08-23 Assembles a range of women's letters from the former British Empire These letters written home are not only historical sources they are also representations of the state of the Empire in far off lands sent home to Britain and occasionally other centres established as home

The Legacy of Guilt Judith Binney, 2005 Thomas Kendall was sent as a missionary to New Zealand in 1814 to civilize and convert the heathens but was himself almost converted to the ideas of those whom he had come to save Judith Binney's fascinating account of his life has been updated with an introduction that provides a contemporary perspective

The Whole Intimate Mess Holly Walker, 2017-06-12 I began to pull the threads of my experience back together Instead of divergent stories about public failure private torment and postnatal distress I started telling myself a united story the truth or as close as I could get to it A Rhodes scholar and former Green MP Holly Walker tells the story of how she became one of New Zealand's youngest parliamentarians how motherhood intervened and how she found solace and solidarity in the writings of women This short book makes a passionate case for the role of literature in political change and personal resilience and for the importance of women's voices in the public sphere

A History of Early Childhood Education in Canada, Australia, and New Zealand Larry Prochner, 2010-01-01 In the early nineteenth century governments developed kindergartens and infant schools to give children a head start in life These programs hinged on new visions of childhood that originated in England and Europe but what happened when they were transported to the colonies

This book unwinds the tangled threads of this history by tracing how Enlightenment thought and Romantic ideas translated into early infant schools in England kindergartens in Germany and the United States and free kindergarten systems in the Commonwealth countries The systems that emerged in Canada Australia and New Zealand maintained the integrity of the ideas and models that inspired them but adapted them to suit local ideas politics and populations This unique account of early childhood education in comparative perspective provides fresh insight into how to reconcile educational theory and practice in an increasingly global world

Book & Print in New Zealand Douglas Ross Harvey, K. I. D. Maslen, Penny Griffith, 1997 A guide to print culture in Aotearoa the impact of the book and other forms of print on New Zealand This collection of essays by many contributors looks at the effect of print on Maori and their oral traditions printing publishing bookselling libraries buying and collecting readers and reading awards and the print culture of many other language groups in New Zealand

The Lives of Pioneer Women in New Zealand Sarah Ell, 1993

Suffrage, Gender and Citizenship – International Perspectives on Parliamentary Reforms Pirjo Markkola, Seija-Leena Nevala-Nurmi, Irma Sulkunen, 2008-12-18 In 2006 Finland celebrated the centenary of universal and equal suffrage The reform in 1906 was radical women gained the right to vote and to stand as candidates in parliamentary elections The new rights were immediately used and 19 women were elected to the Parliament Finland was the third country after New Zealand and Australia in which women were admitted to full political citizenship Norwegian women were also granted political rights before WWI This publication studies suffrage citizenship and parliamentary reforms in various socio political contexts It brings together new research from a wide range of scholars and disciplines In addition to pioneers attention is given to Austria Britain Canada Hungary Iran Ireland Israel Poland Romania Russia and Slovenia among others By highlighting national differences the collection strives to disperse the universalising trend of research The chapters suggest that the age of suffrage narratives based on a view of universal emancipation is over more significant are deconstructive approaches and analyses embedded in local factors From an international perspective the realisation of female suffrage was a long and multi faceted process taking different forms The issue of women s civil rights is certainly not a matter of the past Internationally suffrage gender and citizenship are highly topical issues as indicated in this collection

Law, history, colonialism Diane Kirkby, Catharine Coleborne, 2017-03-01 Drawing on the latest contemporary research from an internationally acclaimed group of scholars Law history colonialism brings together the disciplines of law history and post colonial studies in a singular exploration of imperialism In fresh innovative essays from a range of disciplinary backgrounds this collection offers exciting new perspectives on the length and breadth of empire As issues of native title truth and reconciliation commissions and access to land and natural resources are contested in courtrooms and legislation of former colonies the disciplines of law and history afford new ways of seeing hearing and creating knowledge Issues explored include the judicial construction of racial categories the gendered definitions of nation states the historical construction of citizenship sovereignty and land rights the limits to legality and the charting of empire constructions of madness among colonised peoples reforming property rights of married women questions of legal and historical evidence and the rule of law This collection will be an indispensable reference work to scholars students and teachers
